ACT No. I OF 1895.

An Act to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Public Demands.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law for the recovery of Public Demands: It is hereby enacted as follows:—

(1) This Act may be called "The Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895."

Short title.

(2) It extends to all the territories for the time being administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the exception of the District of Angul.

Extent.

(3) It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Commencement.

2. The powers given by this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any powers conferred by any Act now being in force, for the recovery of any due, debt or demand to which the provisions of this Act are applicable.

Construction of this Act.

3. (1) Act VII (B.C.) of 1880 and Act I (B.C.) of 1891 are hereby repealed; but this repeal

shall not affect—

(a) the past operation of the Acts hereby repealed, nor anything duly done or suffered thereunder;

(b) any liability created under the Acts hereby repealed.

(2) Every certificate made under any enactment hereby repealed may be enforced under the provisions of this Act.

Certificate under Act VII (B.C.) of 1880, &c., to be enforced under this Act.

(3) Every reference made to Act VII (B.C.) of 1880 or Act I (B.C.) of 1891

References to previous Acts.

in any Act, Notification or written instrument passed, issued or made prior to the passing of this Act, shall, so far as it may be practicable, be taken to be made to the corresponding provisions of this Act.

4. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

Definitions.

(1) "District Collector" means the Chief Officer in charge of the Revenue administration of a District.

(2) "Certificate Officer" means—

- (a) a District Collector;
- (b) any officer appointed by a District Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, to perform the functions of a Certificate Officer under this Act;
- (c) any officer in charge of a subdivision of a district.

(3) "Local Authority" means a Municipal Committee, District Board, Body of Port Commissioners, or other authority legally entitled to, or entrusted by Government with, the control or management of a Municipal or Local Fund.

5. In the following cases, that is to say—

(1) when, under the provisions of Act XI of 1859 or Act VII (B.C.) of

When an estate or tenure has been sold for its own arrears, and the sale-proceeds are insufficient to liquidate the same; or

1868, or any law for the time being in force, an estate, tenure, or any share of either, has been sold for the recovery of arrears of revenue due thereupon, and, after deducting the expenses of such sale, the balance of the sale-proceeds remaining is insufficient to liquidate the arrears of revenue in discharge of which such sale-proceeds may under the aforesaid provisions be applied;

(2) when arrears of revenue due from a farmer on account of an estate held by him in farm are not paid on the latest day of payment fixed under the provisions of section three of Act XI of 1859;

When arrears of revenue due from a farmer are not paid on latest date of payment;

the Certificate Officer may make under his hand, and in Form No. 1 in the Schedule hereto annexed, a certificate of the amount of arrears so remaining unpaid, and may cause the same to be filed in his office.

6. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, every certificate made under the provisions of the last preceding section shall, as regards the remedies for enforcing the same and so far only, have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court, and the Secretary of State for India in Council shall be deemed to be the decree-holder, and the person therein named as debtor shall be deemed to be the judgment-debtor.

Such certificate shall have the force and effect of a Civil Court decree as regards the remedies for enforcing it.

(2) Such judgment-debtor may at any time within six months from the service upon him of notice under section ten, or, if he files a petition of objection under section twelve, from the date of the determination thereof, or, if he appeals under section nineteen, from the date of the decision of such appeal, bring a suit in the Civil Court to have the said certificate cancelled or modified:

Judgment-debtor may bring a suit in the Civil Court to have the certificate cancelled or modified.

Provided that no such suit shall be entertained if such judgment-debtor (a) has omitted to state in his petition of objection, if any, the ground upon which he claims to have such certificate cancelled or modified, and cannot satisfy the Civil Court that there was good reason for such omission, and (b) has not paid such arrears to the Certificate Officer within one month after being served with the said notice, or, in any case in which he has filed a petition of objection under section twelve, then within fifteen days after such petition has been heard and determined, or, in any case in which an appeal has been preferred under section nineteen, within fifteen days of the determination of such appeal.

(3) If no such suit is instituted within the said period of six months, or if Certificate when to be absolute. any such suit having been so instituted is decided against such judgment-debtor, such certificate shall become absolute and shall have to all intents and purposes the effect of a final decree of a Civil Court.

7. When any arrears of the following Public Demands are unpaid by the person liable to pay the same, that is to say—

When any arrear of Public Demand is unpaid by the person liable to pay the same,

(a) any sum of money which by any law for the time being in force is declared to be recoverable or realizable as an arrear of revenue or land revenue, or by the process proscribed for the recovery of arrears of revenue or of the public or Government revenue;

(b) any sum of money due from the sureties of a farmer in respect of the revenue of the estate farmed by him;

(c) any sum recoverable under Act VIII (B.C.) of 1862, section nine (Zamindari Dák Coss) or declared by any enactment now in force to be recoverable under Act VII (B.C.) of 1868;

(d) in the case of a person to whom the collection of tolls has been turned under the provisions of section eight of Act V (B.C.) of 1864, or of the sureties of such person—any sum of money due in respect of such farm,

(e) any arrears of revenue or rent payable to the Secretary of State for India in Council from any raiyat or from any person holding any interest in land, pasturage, forest rights, fisheries, and the like, whether such interest is or is not transferable;

(f) in the case of property which, under the provisions of any law for the time being in force, has been taken under the charge of, or is managed by, the Court of Wards or the Revenue Authorities on behalf of a private individual—any arrears of rent or of other demands recoverable as rent whether such arrears became due before or after the management devolved upon such Court or such Authorities:

Provided that this clause shall not apply to any arrears of rent at an enhanced rate, unless such enhanced rate has been agreed to by the person liable to pay the same, or has been confirmed by a competent Court;

- (g) any sum payable to a Government Officer or any Local Authority in respect of which the person liable to pay the same has agreed by a written instrument duly registered that it shall be recoverable under the provisions of this Act;

the Certificate Officer may make under his hand, and in Form No. 2 in the Schedule hereto annexed, a certificate of the amount of such arrears so remaining unpaid, including such interest thereon as may by any law for the time being in force be chargeable, and may cause the same to be filed in his office:

Provided that no such certificate shall be made in respect of any such demand the recovery of which is barred by any law of limitation for the time being in force:

Provided also that a certificate filed under clause (f) of this section shall not cease to be in force by reason of the release of the estate from the charge of the Court of Wards.

8. Subject to the provisions of this Act, every certificate made under the last preceding section shall, as regards the remedies for enforcing the same, and so far only, have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court. In the cases other than the case mentioned in clause (f) of the said section, the Secretary of State for India in Council, and in the said case specified in clause (f) the private individual therein mentioned, or, if such private individual be a Minor, Lunatic or Ward of Court, then such Minor, Lunatic, or Ward of Court by his next friend, shall be deemed to be the decree-holder, and in all the cases mentioned the person therein named as debtor shall be deemed to be the judgment-debtor.

9. (1) When any arrear of any of the public demands specified in section seven is unpaid by any person liable to pay such public demand to a Government Officer other than a District Collector, or when any such demand as is specified in clause (f) of the said section is unpaid by any person liable to pay the same to a Manager appointed by the Court of Wards, such Officer or such Manager may make to the Certificate Officer a requisition in writing in Form No. 3 in the Schedule hereto annexed.

(2) Every such requisition shall be signed and verified by the Officer or Manager making it in accordance with the provisions of sections fifty-one and fifty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure as to the verification of plaints, and there shall be payable in respect thereof a court-fee of the same amount as is payable under the Court-fees' Act for the time being in force in respect of a plaint for the recovery of a sum of money equal to that stated in such requisition.

(3) On receipt of such requisition, such Certificate Officer, if satisfied that such demand is justly recoverable, may make under his hand and in Form No. 2 in the Schedule hereto annexed, a certificate of the amount of such arrears so remaining unpaid, together with the cost of any court-fee paid in respect of such requisition under sub-section (2) of this section, and shall cause the same to be filed in his office.

(4) The provisions of the last preceding section shall apply to every such certificate.

10. (1) When a certificate has been filed in the office of a Certificate Officer under the provisions of sections five, seven, or nine, such Certificate Officer shall issue to the judgment-debtor a copy of such certificate and a notice in Form No. 4 in the Schedule hereto annexed.

(2) From and after the service of such notice, such certificate shall bind all immovable property of such judgment-debtor situated within the jurisdiction of the District Collector in the same manner and with like effect as if such immovable property had been attached under the provisions of section two hundred and seventy-four of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) A copy of such certificate may be transmitted by post under the provisions of section two hundred and twenty-three of the Code of Civil Procedure to any other District Collector, for the purpose of being filed in his office, and, as soon as it is so filed, such certificate shall, if the aforesaid notice has been served, bind in like manner all immovable property of such judgment-debtor situated within the jurisdiction of such last-mentioned District Collector.

11. (1) If in any case the Certificate Officer is satisfied that any person against whom a certificate has been filed under the provisions of sections five, seven or nine is likely to conceal, or remove, or dispose of the whole or any part of his moveable property, and that the realization of the amount of such certificate will in consequence be delayed or obstructed, he may at any time after making such certificate direct, for reasons to be recorded by him, an attachment of the whole or any part of the moveable property of such person.

(2) Such attachment shall be made in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for attaching moveable property, and subject to the provisions of section two hundred and sixty-six of the same Code.

(3) Such property may be sold for the purpose of satisfying such certificate, if no petition of objection is filed under the next succeeding section; or if any such petition is filed, then as soon as it has been heard and determined.

12. (1) If a judgment-debtor who has been served with a notice under section ten denies his liability to pay the whole or any part of the amount for which such certificate has been made and filed against him, he may at any time within thirty days from service of such notice, or, where no such notice has been duly served, within thirty days from the execution of any process for enforcing such certificate, file a petition of objection denying his liability as aforesaid, before the Certificate Officer by whom such certificate has been made.

(2) Such petition shall be in, or as nearly as possible in, Form No. 5 in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed in sections fifty-one and fifty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure.

13. (1) The Certificate Officer shall fix a day

Day to be fixed for hearing such petition. Certificate Officer to determine the liability of the petitioner.

for hearing any such petition so filed, and upon such day or any subsequent day to which such hearing may be adjourned, shall determine whether such petitioner is liable for the whole or any part of the amount for which such certificate was made, and may set aside or modify or vary the certificate accordingly.

(2) Every such Certificate Officer shall, for the purpose of hearing any such petition and determining as aforesaid, exercise all or any of the powers of a Civil Court in respect of summoning, causing the attendance of, and examining witnesses, and in respect of causing the production of documents; and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure applicable to these matters shall apply to a Certificate Officer exercising these powers:

Certain provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure to apply to the inquiry.

Provided that if, in the opinion of the Certificate Officer, the petition involves a bona fide claim of right, he shall refer the petition to the District Collector for orders, and the District Collector, if he is satisfied that a bona fide claim of right is involved, shall make an order cancelling the certificate.

14. (1) The Certificate Officer shall have full power to direct that the costs or any part of the costs of such petition and of the hearing thereof shall be paid by the petitioner, or if his finding is in favour of the petitioner, then by the Secretary of State for India in Council or the Court of Wards, as the case may be.

(2) In any case in which a Certificate Officer

directs the payment of such costs by any such petitioner, the amount thereof shall be added to the amount entered in the certificate, and shall be recoverable as if the same had been originally entered therein.

15. The person deemed to be the judgment-

Judgment-debtor may bring a suit in the Civil Court to contest the certificate.

debtor under the provisions of section eight may, at any time within six months from the service upon him of notice under section ten, or, if he files a petition of objection under section twelve, from the date of the determination thereof, or, if he appeals under section nineteen from the date of the decision of such appeal, bring a suit in the Civil Court to have the said certificate cancelled or modified:

Provided that no such suit shall be entertained if such judgment-debtor has omitted to state in his petition of objection, if any, the ground upon which he claims to have such certificate cancelled or modified, and cannot satisfy the Civil Court that there was good reason for such omission.

16. When no suit is instituted by the judgment-debtor within the period specified in section thirteen or section fifteen, or if any such suit having been instituted is finally decided against such judgment-debtor, such certificate shall become absolute, and shall have to all intents and purposes the same force and effect as a final decree of a Civil Court.

Certificate when absolute.

17. (1) No certificate duly made under the Grounds of cancellation or modification of certificate by Civil Court.

provisions of this Act shall be cancelled by a Civil Court otherwise than on one of the following grounds:—

(a) that the amount stated in the certificate was actually paid or discharged before the making of such certificate;

(b) that no part of the amount stated in the certificate was due by the judgment-debtor under the certificate;

(c) that in the case of fines imposed, or costs, charges, expenses, damages, duties, or fees adjudged by a Collector or a public officer under the provisions of any Regulation or Act for the time being in force, the proceedings of such Collector or public officer were not in substantial conformity with the provisions of such Regulation or Act, and that in consequence the judgment-debtor under the certificate suffered substantial injury from some error, defect, or irregularity in such proceedings;

or modified by a Civil Court otherwise than on one of the following grounds:—

(d) that a portion of the alleged debt was never due;

(e) that the judgment-debtor has not received credit for any portion which he may have paid.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with the ordinary original jurisdiction of the High Court at Fort William in Bengal, or with the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes.

18. (1) The Certificate Officer may, subject

Certificate Officer may transfer petition for hearing to Deputy Collector, &c.

to any general or special order of the District Collector, transfer to any Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner subordinate to such District Collector, any petition filed under section twelve, and such Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner shall hear and determine such petition accordingly:

Provided that the District Collector shall have power to retransfer any petition so transferred and to order that it be heard and determined by the Certificate Officer.

(2) The provisions of sections thirteen and fourteen shall be applicable to any such Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner to whom any such petitions have been so transferred.

19. (1) The person deemed to be the judgment-debtor under the provisions of this Act or any person claiming through him may, at any time within thirty days from the date on which any immovable property is sold in execution of a certificate under section twenty, apply to the Certificate Officer to cancel the certificate and set aside the sale on his depositing—

Application may be made for annulment of sale on deposit of amount stated in certificate, auction price and penalty.

(a) the amount stated in the certificate, together with costs, and with the interest thereon at the rate of twelve per centum per annum calculated from the date when the certificate was filed up to the date when the deposit is made;

(b) as penalty, a sum equal to one-tenth of the auction price, but not less than one rupee;

(c) all outstanding charges payable to the District Collector by the judgment-debtor under any Act for the time being in force.

(2) If such a deposit is made within the said thirty days, the Certificate Officer shall pass an order cancelling the certificate and setting aside the sale.

(3) In the event of a sale being annulled by an order of the Certificate Officer under this section, any money paid or deposited by the purchaser on account of the purchase, together with the penalty specified in clause (b), shall be paid to the purchaser by the Certificate Officer.

(4) Any order made by the Certificate Officer under this section shall be final.

20. Every certificate made under the provisions of sections five, seven or nine may be enforced and executed with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of the certificate being filed up to the date of realization, and costs upon the expiry of one month from service of the notice mentioned in section ten, or when any such petition as is mentioned in section twelve has been filed, then as soon as such petition has been heard and determined.

Certificate may be enforced after one month from notice, or when petition of objection dismissed.

21. (1) Such certificate may be so enforced and executed by all or any of the ways and means mentioned and provided in and by the Code of Civil Certificate may be enforced under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure as a decree for money.

Procedure for the enforcement and execution of decrees for money.

(2) The procedure prescribed in Chapter XIX (with the exception of section three hundred and ten A) and Chapter XX of the said Code of Civil Procedure shall, so far as it is applicable, be the procedure followed in execution proceedings to enforce such certificate and realize the amount recoverable thereunder.

22. (1) In enforcing and executing such Powers by whom to be exercised. certificate, all the duties, powers and authorities by the said Code imposed or conferred on the Court shall be exercised by the Certificate Officer in whose office any such certificate, or any copy thereof transmitted for execution under the provisions of section two hundred and twenty-three of the said Code, has been filed.

(2) The power conferred on the High Court of making, and from time to time altering, rules for the guidance of the Courts in the exercise of their duties under section two hundred and eighty-seven of the Civil Procedure Code shall, in respect of proceedings under this Act, be exercised by the Board of Revenue. All such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

(3) Subject to the control of the District Collector, and save and except in respect of the provisions relating to insolvent judgment debtors, any of the said duties, powers and authorities may be exercised by any Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector or Assistant Commissioner subordinate to such District Collector.

23. (1) If any immovable property is sold in

Sale of immovable property may be set aside, if certificate is set aside by a competent Court. Provision. execution of a certificate under the provisions of section twenty, and if such certificate is subsequently set aside by a competent Civil Court, such Court may set aside such sale of such immovable property, and in any case in which such sale is so set aside, such Court shall direct that the amount of the purchase-money be refunded to the purchaser with or without interest, as such Court thinks fit.

(2) Such order shall have the force of a decree, and application for execution shall be made within six months from the date thereof, otherwise the party in whose favour such order was passed shall lose all benefit therefrom:

Provided that no such sale shall be so set aside unless such purchaser has been made or adjudged as a party to the suit brought to set aside such certificate.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply to a sale set aside under section nineteen

24. (1) Every District Collector shall cause

Register of certificates to be kept in District Collector's office and to be open to inspection on payment of fee of 8 annas. to be kept in his office a register in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue, and shall cause to be entered in such register the particulars of every certificate made under this Act, which, or a copy of which, has been filed in his office.

(2) Such register shall be open during office hours, for not less than two hours daily, to be fixed by the District Collector, for the inspection of any one desiring to inspect the same, and a fee of eight annas, or such fee not exceeding eight annas as the Board of Revenue may prescribe, shall be chargeable for such inspection.

25. (1) Payment of the amount due under a certificate may be made by instalments, if the Certificate Officer who made such certificate so direct.

(2) The payment of every such instalment shall be entered in the register mentioned in the last preceding section.

26. When the total amount due under a certificate has been paid and satisfied, the Certificate Officer in whose office such certificate was originally filed shall cause satisfaction to be entered upon such certificate in the register mentioned in section twenty-four.

27. When a copy of such certificate has been transmitted to another District Collector or Certificate Officer in charge of a subdivision in the same district, or when such certificate has been made under the provisions of section nine upon requisition from a Government Officer other than a Certificate Officer, or from a Manager appointed by the Court of Wards, such satisfaction shall be communicated to such other District Collector or Officer, or Manager, as the case may be.

28. When a sum has been levied or received by a District Collector or Certificate Officer in charge of a subdivision in respect of a certificate, a copy of which has been transmitted to him and filed in his office, such District Collector or Certificate Officer in charge of a subdivision shall remit such sum to the Certificate Officer by whom such certificate was originally made.

29. Every Certificate Officer, Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector and Assistant Commissioner, and every such Government Officer as is mentioned in section nine shall, in the discharge of his functions under this Act, be deemed to be a person acting judicially within the meaning of Act XVIII of 1850 passed by the Governor-General of India in Council.

30. All Certificate Officers, Assistant Collectors, Deputy Collectors and Assistant Commissioners shall, in the performance of their duties under this Act, be subject to the general supervision and control of the Commissioners of Divisions and the Board of Revenue.

31. Service of a notice under section ten shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof, signed by the Certificate Officer whenever it may be practicable, to the judgment-debtor therein named. When such judgment-debtor cannot be found, the service may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him; and, if no such adult male member can be found, the notice may be served by fixing a copy on the outer door of the house in which the judgment-debtor ordinarily dwells or carries on business, or by fixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of the Certificate Officer issuing the same, and also in some conspicuous part of the land, if any, affected by the service of the notice:

Provided that if the Certificate Officer shall so direct, the notice may be sent by post addressed to the judgment-debtor at his last known residence, and registered under Part III of the Indian Post Office Act, 1866, or any similar Act for the time being in force, and service of it may be proved by the production of the addressee's receipt.

32. (1) (a) An appeal from any order of an Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner, or from any original order of a Certificate Officer other than the District Collector, may be preferred to the District Collector within 15 days from the making of such order; (b) an appeal from an original order of a District Collector may be preferred to the Commissioner within thirty days from the making of such order.

(2) An officer appointed to perform the functions of a Certificate Officer shall, if authorised by the District Collector with the sanction of the Commissioner so to do, exercise the appellate powers of a District Collector, and he shall, unless the order of his appointment otherwise directs, be subject to the general supervision and control of the District Collector; and the District Collector may transfer for hearing any appeal referred to in sub-section (1), clause (a), to any Certificate Officer so authorised other than the officer against whose order such appeal is preferred.

(3) Pending the decision of such appeal, execution may be stayed if the Appellate Authority so direct, but not otherwise.

(4) In each case under this section, the day after that on which the order was passed shall be reckoned as the first day of the period.

33. No appeal, as of right, shall lie from any order of a District Collector passed on appeal from an order of an Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, Assistant Commissioner or Certificate Officer: but the Commissioner may, in any case in which he thinks fit, revise any order passed by a District Collector, Certificate Officer, Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector or Assistant Commissioner.

ACT No. III OF 1895.

An Act to provide for the Maintenance of Record of Tenant-rights in Bengal, and for the recovery of the cost of Cadastral Surveys and Settlements.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the maintenance of records of tenant-rights and of settlement records in Bengal, and for an alternative method of recovering the cost of cadastral surveys and settlements; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

1. (1) This Act may be called "The Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895."

Short title.

- (2) It shall come into force only in Districts or parts of Districts of which a field survey and a record of rights have been made under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, or under any other law for the time being in force, and to which the Local Government may, from time to time, extend it by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette;

and thereupon this Act shall commence and take effect in the Districts or parts of Districts named in such order on the day which shall be in such order provided for the commencement thereof.

2. (1) In this Act all words and expressions defined in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, shall have the meanings attributed to them, respectively, in that Act, and the word "addition" shall have the meaning attributed to it in the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

(2) By the term "record of rights" shall be understood the settlement record of tenant-rights called the khatian or such new editions of such record as may be prepared under rules made under this Act, or such other corresponding record of tenant-rights as may be declared by the Board of Revenue to form the record of rights for any District or part of a District. A record of rights includes entries duly made in a Register of Mutations.

PART II.

Registration of Mutations.

3. The Sub-Registrars appointed under the Indian Registration Act, 1877, shall be Registrars of Mutations under this Act.

4. The Registrar of Mutations shall keep such registers as shall, from time to time, be prescribed by the Local Government, including, for every village within the limits of the sub-district, a Register of Mutations, in which there shall be recorded changes affecting the record of rights of that village, and containing such particulars as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, with the sanction of the Local Government, prescribe.

5. (1) Whenever the Local Government shall issue a notification in the Calcutta Gazette to that effect, every landlord shall, within the period prescribed in the notification, file, in the office of the Registrar of Mutations, within the sub-district in which his tenants' land is situated, a statement, in a form to be prescribed by the Local Government, showing truly, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the changes, if any, which have taken place in his tenants' rights, by reason of transfer or succession, since the record of rights was prepared, or since the last statement was filed.

(2) The Collector of the District shall cause such notification to be published by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of such Collector, in every Civil Court, in every police-station, and in the office of every Sub-divisional Officer within the District, and in any other manner which the Local Government may from time to time direct.

6. Every tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates and occupancy raiyat, who transfers his tenure or holding, or any part thereof, and every person claiming to be in possession of any tenure or holding as a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates, or occupancy raiyat in consequence of a transfer or of intestate or testamentary succession, shall, within four months from the date upon which he gave or took possession, as the case may be, give notice of the fact to the Registrar of Mutations within whose sub-district the whole or some portion of the land to which the notice relates is situate, at his office :

Provided that a notice under this section is receivable although the prescribed period has elapsed :

Provided further that when any person has duly given notice under this section, all other persons are released from the obligation of giving notice in respect of the same transfer or succession :

Provided further that when an instrument effecting a transfer of tenant-right has been registered under the provisions of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, all persons are released from the obligation of giving notice under this section in respect of the same transfer.

7. The notice shall contain :—

- (a) in the case of a transfer, the names of the transferor and the transferee, or in the case of a succession, the name of the deceased and his successor,
- (b) a specification of the nature of the interest transferred or acquired,
- (c) the survey number of the lands as entered in the record of rights, and
- (d) such further particulars as the Local Government may, from time to time, prescribe.

8. (1) The Registrar of Mutations shall, on receipt of a notice under section 6, whether given within the prescribed period or not, from a transferor or transferee, ascertain if both the transferor and the transferee, or in the case of the death of either party since the transfer, if the one party and the representative of the other party admit the transfer, or in the case of the death of both parties if their respective representatives admit the transfer, and if both transferor or transferee or their respective representatives admit the transfer, he shall, after satisfying himself as to the identity of the persons appearing before him, cause the following particulars to be endorsed on the notice (that is to say) :

- (a) the signature and addition of every person admitting the transfer; and if such transfer has been admitted by the representative or agent of any person, the signature and addition of such representative or agent,
- (b) any payment of money or delivery of goods made in the presence of the Registrar of Mutations in reference to the transfer, and any admission of receipt of consideration, in whole or in part, made in his presence in reference to such transfer, and shall affix the date and his signature to these endorsements, and shall register the transfer in the Register of Mutations in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time by rule prescribe.

(2) If necessary, the Registrar of Mutations may issue a summons for the attendance of either or both the transferor and transferee, or their respective representatives, either simultaneously or at different times, at his office :

Provided that, in lieu of issuing a summons, he shall either himself go and examine, or issue a commission for the examination of any person who is :—

- (a) exempt by law from personal appearance in Court,
- (b) unable, by reason of bodily infirmity, without risk or serious inconvenience, to attend at the office, or
- (c) in jail under Civil or Criminal process.

9 The Registrar of Mutations on receipt of a notice under section 6, whether within the prescribed period or not, from a person claiming by succession, shall, after satisfying himself as to the identity of such person and causing the signature and addition of such person to be endorsed on the notice, by a notice affixed in a conspicuous place, and by beat of drum, in the village in which the land claimed is situated, call upon any person who desires to do so to appear before him at his office within one month from the date of the last-mentioned notice and deny the succession, and if within that period no one appears and denies the succession, he shall endorse a statement of the fact on the notice, affixing the date and his signature to the endorsements, and shall register the succession in the Register of Mutations in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time by rule prescribe.

Duty of Registrar on receipt of notice from transferor or transferee.

The contents of the notice.

Duty of Registrar on receipt of notice from successor.

10. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 8, 9 and 12, any person may attend at the office of the Registrar of Mutations by agent duly authorized by power-of-attorney executed and authenticated in manner hereinafter mentioned.

11. (1) For the purposes of the last preceding section, the powers-of-attorney here mentioned shall alone be recognized—

(a) if the principal at the time of executing the power-of-attorney resides in British India, a power-of-attorney executed before and authenticated by any Magistrate or the Registrar or Sub-Registrar appointed under section 6 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, within whose district or sub-district the principal resides:

(b) if the principal at the time aforesaid does not reside in British India, a power-of-attorney executed before and authenticated by a notary public, or any Court, Judge, Magistrate, British Consul or Vice-Consul or representative of Her Majesty or of the Government of India:

Provided that the following persons shall not be required to attend at any office or Court for the purpose of executing any such power-of-attorney as is mentioned in clause (a) of this section:—

persons exempt by law from personal appearance in Court;

persons who by reason of bodily infirmity are unable, without risk or serious inconvenience, so to attend; and persons who are in jail under Civil or Criminal process.

(2) In every such case the officer, if satisfied that the power-of-attorney has been voluntarily executed by the person purporting to be the principal, may attest the same without requiring his personal attendance at the office or Court. To obtain evidence as to the voluntary nature of the execution, the officer may go to the person purporting to be the principal and examine him or issue a commission for his examination. Any power-of-attorney mentioned in this section may be proved by the production of it without further proof, when it purports on the face of it to have been executed before and authenticated by the officer hereinbefore mentioned in that behalf.

12. The law for the time being in force as to summonses, commissions and the compelling the attendance of persons summoned in suits before Civil Courts shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to any summons or commission issued, and any person summoned, under this Act.

13. Whenever a Registrar of Mutations, after Reason for refusal to register to be recorded. section 6, does not register the transfer or succession in respect of which it is given, he shall make an entry of the fact and state his reasons in such manner as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe.

14. If any of the persons purporting to have signed the notice, or any one mentioned therein as transferor or transferee or in the case of the death of either if his representative denies the transfer, or if any such person appears to be a minor, an idiot, or a lunatic, or if any person, where the claim is by succession, appears before the Registrar on issue of a notice under section 9, and denies the succession, the Registrar of Mutations shall refuse to register the mutation.

15. If the name of a transferor, or of a deceased person through whom succession is claimed, inserted in a notice given under section 6, is not recorded in the record of rights as that of the person in possession of the land specified in the notice, the Registrar of Mutations shall, without registering the transfer or succession, as the case may be, by a notice, affixed in a conspicuous place, and by beat of drum, in the village in which the land claimed is situated, call upon any person who desires to do so to appear before him at his office within one month from the date of the last-mentioned notice and deny that the alleged transferor, or deceased person through whom succession is claimed, was at the time of the alleged transfer in possession of the land specified in the notice. And if no person within the prescribed period so appears and denies, the Registrar of Mutations shall, if the other provisions of the Act are complied with, record the transfer or succession, the subject of the notice, in the Register of Mutations.

16. (1) When a Registrar of Mutations has made an order refusing to register a transfer or succession, an appeal shall lie within thirty days from the date of the order against such order to the Collector of the District to whom such Registrar of Mutations is subordinate; and the Collector may, after taking such evidence as he thinks necessary, reverse or alter such order: and if the Collector directs the transfer or succession to be registered, the Registrar of Mutations shall obey such order, and such registration shall take effect as if the transfer or succession had been registered when the notice was first given under section 6.

(2) No appeal shall lie from any order of a Collector passed under this section.

17. The Registrar of Mutations shall give to the person giving a notice under section 6 a receipt therefor, and shall, upon his application, grant to him, free of charge, a copy of the entries made in the Register of Mutations in pursuance of such notice.

18. (1) On payment of the prescribed fees the Registrar to allow inspection and to give certified copies of entries in Register. Register of Mutations shall be open to inspection by any person applying to inspect the same, and a copy of any entry therein shall be given to any person applying therefor.

(2) Copies given under this section shall be signed and sealed by the Registrar of Mutations and shall be admissible for the purpose of proving the contents of the original entry.

19. (1) The Local Government shall from time to time prepare tables of fees payable—

(a) for the registration of mutations—

- (i) within the prescribed period,
- (ii) after the prescribed period,

(b) for copies of entries in the Register of Mutations,

(c) for inspecting the Register of Mutations,

(d) for notices, processes and commissions given or issued under this Act,

(e) for such other matters as appear to the Local Government necessary to effect the purposes of this Act, and may from time to time alter such tables.

(2) Tables of fees so payable shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and a copy thereof in English and the Vernacular language of the district shall be exposed to public view in the office of every Registrar of Mutations.

(3) All fees for the registration of mutations shall be payable at the time when the notice is given under section 6.

20. The fees payable to the Collector under sections 15 and 18 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, may be paid to the Registrar of Mutations, when notice is given under section 6, and such payment shall be held to be payment to the Collector, and the Registrar of Mutations shall forthwith transmit all fees so paid to the Collector, and such notice to the Registrar of Mutations shall be held to be a notice to the Collector under sections 15 and 18 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

21. Any non-occupancy raiyat or under-raiyat, if he thinks fit, may give any notice which a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates and occupancy raiyat is bound to give under section 6, and if he gives such notice, the provisions of this Act, as far as they are applicable, shall thereupon apply.

22. A Sub-Registrar, registering an instrument effecting a transfer of tenant-right, or, under the provisions of sections 64 and 65 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, receiving a memorandum of a transfer of tenant-right, shall, as Registrar of Mutations, make an entry in the Register of Mutations as if he had received a notice under section 6.

23. (1) No person bound to give notice under section 6 shall, after the period therein mentioned, be entitled to obtain a decree for, or recover, the rent of any land the subject of the transfer or succession until he has given such notice, and if the defendant denies that the notice has been given, or if the Court thinks fit, it may require him to file a certified copy of the entry in the Register of Mutations relative to such land, or to adduce evidence to the satisfaction of the Court that the notice was duly given.

(2) No tenant bound to give notice under section 6 shall, after the period therein mentioned, in any suit in which his landlord is plaintiff and he is a defendant, be entitled to adduce evidence that he is a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates or raiyat with a right of occupancy in the land held by him until he has given such notice, but the Court in which any such suit is tried shall afford the defendant sufficient time to enable him to give such notice.

24. Whoever voluntarily or negligently omits to give, within the prescribed time, notice under section 6, shall be liable to such fine, not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector of the District may see fit to impose.

25. After a notification has been issued under section 5, whoever voluntarily or negligently omits to file, within the period therein specified, the required statement, shall be liable to such fine, not exceeding one hundred rupees, as the Collector of the District may see fit to impose:

Provided that no person shall be fined under this or the last preceding section who at any time prior to the institution of proceedings thereunder, or in the discretion of the Collector of the District at any time after such institution, has filed the statement required by section 5 or given the notice required by section 6.

26. Every Registrar of Mutations and every person employed in his office for the purposes of this Act, who being charged with the duty of making any entry in the Register of Mutations, voluntarily omits to make such entry, or makes any entry therein which he knows or believes to be incorrect, intending thereby to cause or knowing it to be likely that he may thereby cause injury, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, to any person, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine, or with both.

27. Whoever commits any of the following offences shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine, or with both:—

(a) intentionally makes any false statement, whether on oath or not, and whether it has been recorded or not, before any Registrar of Mutations in any proceeding or enquiry under this Act;

(b) falsely personates another, and in such assumed character presents any notice or makes any admission or statement, or causes any summons or commission to be issued, or does any other act in any proceeding or enquiry under this Act;

False personation.

(c) abets, within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, anything made punishable under this or the last preceding section.

Abetment of certain offences.

PART III.

Recovery of Expenses of a Survey and Preparation of a Record of Rights.

28. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, instead of proceeding under section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, to recover, from all or any of the proprietors, landlords, tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers in any District or part of a District, either in one year or several years, and in the manner specified in the sections following, their shares of all the expenses declared by the Local Government to be recoverable from proprietors, landlords, tenants, and rent-free owners and occupiers, which have been incurred in making a survey and record of rights and a settlement of rents under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, such costs not having been incurred for the purposes of a settlement of land revenue.

29. The Local Government may from time to time determine the total expenses which have been incurred in any District or part of a District in making a survey and record of rights, and the amounts (in such proportions as the Local Government may from time to time determine) which shall be paid by the proprietors, landlords, tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers respectively in such District or part of a District, and the date from which the expenses aforesaid shall be recovered; and may specify the rate per acre to be paid by the said proprietors, landlords, tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers.

30. The amount due from proprietors shall be paid together with such instalment of land revenue as the Local Government may direct, and arrears shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of public demands.

31. The amount due from tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers shall, subject to any orders passed by the Local Government under section 28, be paid by them to the Settlement Officer, on tender of such extract from the record of rights as they may be entitled to receive. Arrears shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of public demands.

32. When any proprietor, landlord, tenant or rent-free owner or occupier liable to pay any portion of the expenses under an order passed under this Part since such expenses were incurred, has died or has transferred, in whole or in part, his interest in any land on account of which he may have become liable, and such portion of the expenses remains unpaid, it shall be lawful for the Collector to recover the said expenses, or any portion thereof, from the person in possession of such interest or portion thereof. Such expenses shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of public demands.

Recovery from successors in interest.

PART IV.

Miscellaneous.

33. Every Sub-Registrar appointed under this Act to be a Registrar of Mutations, and every person appointed temporarily to discharge the duties of any such office, shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, and all official records and papers kept by any such officer under this Act shall be held to be public records and the property of Government.

34. Every order of a Registrar of Mutations affecting any entry in the Register of Mutations shall be appealable for a period of one month from the date thereof to the Collector of the District. No appeal shall lie from any order of a Collector passed under this section.

Appeals.

35. The Local Government may from time to time vest any officer other than the Collector of the District with special appellate powers under this Act: and every officer so vested shall be competent to hear and decide any appeal which the Collector of the district is competent to hear and decide under this Act.

36. (1) The Local Government or the Board of Revenue, with the sanction of the Local Government, may, from time to time, make, repeal and alter rules consistent with this Act—

Power to make rules for selection, etc., of Sub-Registrars.

- (a) regarding the appointment, control, discipline and payment of all Registrars of Mutations and their establishments;
- (b) prescribing the manner of making entries of mutations in the record of rights, preparing new editions of such records, and republishing them from time to time, or otherwise making them available for public information;
- (c) regarding the distribution of the expenses incurred under Part III, and
- (d) generally for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

(2) The provisions of section 190 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, shall apply to rules made under clauses (b), (c) and (d).

FINAL REPORT ON THE OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1894-95.

THE following is published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REVENUE DEPT.,
The 1st June 1895.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final report on the oilseed crops of Bengal, 1894-95.

N. B.—Returns have been received from all districts in these Provinces except Palamau.

1. Explanatory.—The oil-seed crops included in this report are:—(1) linsced, (2) rapo seed and mustard, (3) the rabi or summer variety of til, and (4) other oilseeds, e.g., castor-oil, sorgusa (niger-oilseed), &c. The bhadoi variety of til has been excluded from this report.

2. Character of the season.—The character of the early part of the season, as remarked in the preliminary note on the oil-seed crops of Bengal, 1894-95, issued on the 15th February 1895, was marked by unusually late and heavy rainfall which lasted up to the second week of November, being particularly heavy in Bihar, Chota Nagpur, and North Bengal. From the second week of November practically no rain fell until after the middle of January. During the third week of January, rain fell generally in these provinces, though very scantily in Orissa. In February, the rainfall was below the normal, except in the Patna Division, and there were no showers in the districts of Eastern Bengal. In March, light rain fell in most districts.

The prolongation of the monsoon rains of 1894, retarded cultivation and somewhat curtailed the usual area sown with oilseeds. The crops were also injuriously affected by the absence of rain from the second week of November to the middle of January, but the light showers which followed in the latter part of January, and in February and March were beneficial. Injury by blight is reported from Shahabad only—and injury by hail from Midnapore and Monghyr only.

3. Area cultivated.—The estimates of area sown with oilseed crops as reported in the first forecast, have been modified by the Collectors of Midnapur, 24-Parganas, and Shahabad; and estimates of normal area, this year's area and last year's area which were not supplied in the preliminary forecast for Gaya and for Angul and the Khondmals, have been now given, hence the difference between the areas under oilseeds as now reported and as returned in the preliminary forecast.

The total area in Bengal sown with oilseeds in 1894-95 is estimated at 4,112,100 acres against 4,270,300 acres, estimated as having been sown in the previous year. There is thus a decrease of 3.70 per cent. on the area sown in 1893-94 which is due to the prolongation of the monsoon rains of 1894.

4. Character of the crops.—The Collectors of only three districts, viz., Muzaffarpur, Malda, and Angul and the Khondmals estimate the outturn of the different oilseed crops of these provinces at 16 annas; from 20 districts including the North Bihar, Chota Nagpur and most of the districts of the Bhagalpur Division the crops are reported to vary from 12 to 15 annas, and from 20 more districts from 8 to 11 annas; from only two districts viz., Noakhali and Shahabad are the crops reported to be less than 8 annas.

Taking the province as a whole, the outturn of the oilseed crops may be estimated at 12 annas (as is in the preliminary forecast of the 15th February 1895).

The outturn is probably nearly the same as that of the crop of 1893-94, though the area sown was probably not quite so large.

Gross outturn of oilseeds.—In pursuance of the Government of India's order No. 8-53, dated 23rd February 1893, an attempt was made in 1892-93 to prepare estimates of outturn of the oilseed crops in tons for each district separately, but owing to flagrant disagreement of estimate of average outturn returned from neighbouring districts, the attempt proved unsuccessful. In the appended estimate of outturn in tons, (appendix B), six maunds have been taken to be the rate of average outturn per acre of linseed, rapeseed and mustard and 4½ maunds for other oil-seeds. The gross outturn of the oilseed crop in Bengal, during the year under report according to these estimates, is shown in the abstract statement to amount to 602,600 tons against 609,800 tons, the estimated outturn of the previous year.

The output is the same as was shown in the preliminary forecast except in the case of linseed, where owing to late rain and owing to too much moisture, the output was less.

The season was more favourable than last year hence the full average output.

The late sowing ascribed in the first forecast interfered with the growth of the crops. Rape seed and mustard would have yielded an average crop had it not been for the wet weather in the latter part of January, which did considerable damage to the crop. It is now sown with other crops in the district. The year was favourable for the cultivation of linseed. The weather was since the submission of the first forecast been unfavourable and consequently the output is decreased. There has been some injury from rain and hail storms in some parts of the district.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture (Commercial Exhibitions),—No. ¹⁶₃₋₆, dated the 24th May 1895.

RESOLUTION.

The following is published for general information in continuation of the Resolution of the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, No. ⁷₃₋₂, dated 7th March 1895:—

Letter dated 18th April 1895, from the Secretary, London Exhibitions, Limited.

Messrs. French and Langdale of the India Tea Growers Association propose making a collective exhibit of specimen teas from the India tea gardens, pressed leaves, and other things of interest connected with the Indian tea industry. In view of this, my Directors consider that if you could see your way, in your official capacity, to issue a letter to the growers in the various tea districts intimating this fact, by this means not only would the knowledge be properly disseminated amongst the people interested, but also the circular emanating from yourself would have great weight. I am emboldened to ask you this as it is the wish of the Company to make the forthcoming Empire of India Exhibition a thoroughly representative one, particularly in that industry which has been so fruitful a source of revenue.

Any packages that may be sent should be distinctly labelled "For the Empire of India Exhibition," and should be addressed to Messrs. French and Langdale, Customs Chambers, 14, Duustans Hill, London, E.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORT.

For the week ending the 3rd June, 1895.

Burdwan.—Rainfall at Burdwan 1·78. Weather very hot early in the week, latterly normal. Cultivation is going on. Sugarcane and til (sesamum) are doing well. Common rice sells from 11 to 21 seers a rupee in the district.

Midnapore.—Rainfall at Sadar 1·61. Weather hot. More rain wanted for agriculture and for drinking purposes in Contai. Indigo, sugarcane and til (sesamum) doing well. Tobacco and jira growing badly. Rice sells from 16 to 21 seers per rupee.

24-Parganas.—Rainfall at Sadar 1·08. Weather seasonable with storms. Sowing of aus and jute continues. Prospects fair. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Water scanty. Rice sells at—Murshidabad.—Rainfall ·06. Weather hot and cloudy. Sowing of winter rice continues. State of sugarcane, mulberry, indigo, and til (sesamum) appears good, but rain is wanted. Fodder is available. Price of common rice 16 seers per rupee.

Khulna.—Rainfall at Khulna ·20, Bagurhat 2·25, Satkhira 2·11. Weather hot. Preparation of the land for aman going on. Aus and jute seedlings doing well. Sowing of aus and jute still continues in some places. Common rice selling from 17 to 23 seers per rupee. Fodder and water sufficient.

Dinajpur.—Average rainfall 1·82. Weather hot and cloudy. Prospects of crops good. Price of common rice 15 to 16 seers a rupee. No cattle-disease, nor any complaint for fodder or drinking water.

Rangpur.—Average rainfall 2·15. Weather warm and cloudy. Crops progressing favourably. Cattle-disease dying out. Condition of cattle good and fodder available. Rice selling from 10 to 15 seers per rupee.

Pabna.—Rainfall 1·97. Weather hot. Good rain has fallen. All standing crops are doing well. Common rice selling at 16 seers a rupee at Pabna. Fodder and water sufficient.

Dacca.—Rainfall figures not applied. Monsoon weather. Prospects of crops good. Price of common rice 19 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease. Fodder plentiful.

Chittagong.—Rainfall 2·97. Weather showery with occasional sunshin. Cultivation for aus still continues. Prices rising. Fodder and water sufficient. Condition of cattle good.

Patna.—Report not received.

Gaya.—Sugarcane doing well. Preparation of land for bhadoi sowings has begun. Prices about normal. Fodder and water sufficient.

Champanan.—Rainfall at Motihari 1·21. Weather a little cooler. Common rice selling at 16 seers a rupee. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient.

Darbhanga.—Weather very hot with high east wind. Standing crops doing well. Rain much wanted. Fodder for cattle sufficient. Prices almost stationary.

Bhagalpur.—Weather cooler. Paddy seedlings and indigo are doing well. Bhadai sown in several places. Rain wanted. Fodder sufficient. Price of common rice 18½ seers per rupee.

Purnea.—Rainfall ·99. Weeding of jute and bhadoi paddy going on. Transplantation of afham paddy commenced. Fodder and water sufficient. No cattle-disease. Common rice selling from 16 to 21 seers a rupee.

Cuttack.—Rainfall ·01. Weather very hot. Sowing of ba di and sarad rice going on. Rain wanted for cooling the weather and for agricultural purposes. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Rice sells from 11 seers 13 chitaks to 25 seers per rupee.

Hazaribagh.—Weather very hot. Sowing and ploughing in progress in places. Sugarcane doing well. Mango indifferent. Fodder scanty and water deficient in places.

General Summary.—There was good rain during the week in almost all reporting districts in Bengal Proper and also in Champanan and Purnea. The present agricultural outlook is generally fair, but more rain is required in some districts. The sowing of aus rice and jute is nearly complete, and the preparation of the land for the bhadoi crops in Bihar and of the winter rice crop is in progress. Reports of the sugarcane, indigo and other standing crops continue satisfactory. No cattle-disease has been reported during the week, and in Rangpur it is said to be dying out. The price of common rice is almost stationary.

Mean of 5 days. | + Mean of 5 days.
 The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The mean of the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question is the district mean rainfall divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 1st of June 1895.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS
TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA-
TIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY,
THE 1st OF JUNE 1895.

TOWARDS the end of the previous week, after a period of intense heat in the west of the province, unusually steep pressure gradients and strong winds had developed over the north of the Bay. The changes of pressure at the beginning of the present week led to even steeper gradients with the area of lowest pressure well to the west, so that easterly winds became general except in Chota Nagpur and Orissa. Thunderstorms were very numerous on Sunday the 26th, the first day of the week, and heavy rain fell over a large part of the province. A great reduction of temperature resulted over the area affected, but it did not include Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where mean temperature was still between 5° and 12° above the normal.

On the 27th, the following day, a rapid fall of pressure occurred; the change increasing towards the north. This caused a temporary low pressure area over the northern districts, and the winds from being south-easterly at all except the extreme south-western stations became south-westerly in South-West and Central Bengal and the west of Bihar. The rainfall ceased except in Assam and North Bengal, and the hot winds from the west caused a rapid increase of temperature. On the following day changes of pressure were small, but the reaction from the rapid fall of the day before commenced in a slow rise in Assam and North Bengal. Temperature rose steadily, and was largely above the normal in all districts except Assam. The rise of pressure on the 29th was brisk in the northern districts and slow in the south, while over the Bay there was a slow fall, and the distribution was more normal. There was little change otherwise as the excessive heat continued over the whole province. The rise of pressure continued more rapidly on the 30th, especially in the central districts, where it was more than $\cdot 15$ inch. The resulting distribution was almost normal, and as the area of lowest pressure had now been forced to the south-west, easterly winds became general. Thunderstorms followed, and there was a fall of temperature everywhere. These weather conditions prevailed during the remaining two days of the week. Thunderstorms were fairly frequent, except in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and South Bihar, and the area of comparatively cool weather slowly extended westwards. On the 31st it included East and North Bengal and North Bihar. On June 1st temperature was below the normal to the east of a line running almost due north through Balasore and Bhagnalpur, while to the west excess was more than 5° at Cuttack, Gaya, and Dehri only.

Pressure did not usually differ by more than $\cdot 1$ inch at the beginning of the week, but excess in the Circars and defect in Chota Nagpur caused much steeper gradients than generally obtain at this time of the year. The rapid fall of the 27th resulted in defect of a fifth of an inch in the north of the province, and this did not give way to any great extent till the rapid rise of the 30th, when the distribution was almost normal. Owing to the rather large defect in the early part of the week, and the small differences from the normal towards the end, means are below the normal everywhere by amounts varying from about $\cdot 05$ inch in Orissa and Chota Nagpur to nearly $\cdot 1$ inch in parts of South-West Bengal and Bihar.

Temperature.—At the beginning of the week heat was excessive only in Chota Nagpur, while in East and North Bengal weather was unusually cool. The mean difference from the normal varied from excess of 12° at Ranchi to defect of nearly 9° at Bogra and Sirajganj. Owing to the hot westerly winds on the 27th and 28th, temperature steadily rose, and on the latter of these days there was excess everywhere except in Assam. In Chota Nagpur and the adjacent parts of Orissa, South-West Bengal and Bihar excess varied from 10° to 16° and only at a few eastern stations was it less than 5° . After the wind became easterly and thunderstorms were general, there was a steady fall, and cool weather was again general in the east of the province. Bankura reported a maximum temperature of $116^{\circ}\cdot 1$ on the 28th and 29th, and Balasore 116° on the 30th. Raniganj, Midnapore, Chaibassa and Cuttack had day readings of more than 115° , and nearly all stations in South Bihar of more than 110° . Mean temperature is above the normal by $9^{\circ}\cdot 1$ in Chota Nagpur, by $5^{\circ}\cdot 7$ in Orissa, $4^{\circ}\cdot 5$ in South-West Bengal, and by $3^{\circ}\cdot 2$ in South-West Bengal. In the other districts it is below the normal.

Rainfall.—Very general showers fell on the first day of the week in all districts except Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where rain has been almost altogether absent throughout the week. Heavy rain has fallen in Assam and East Bengal. North Bengal has received the normal amount, but in the other districts there is a rather large defect. In Orissa the average fall is $\cdot 18$ inch as compared with a normal fall of $1\cdot 03$ inches. In Chota Nagpur it is one-seventh of the normal, and in Bihar a third. In South-West Bengal the fall is $1\cdot 03$ inches, rather more than half an inch less than the normal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 1st of June 1895:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

INDIAN OCEAN—GULF OF ADEN—SOMALI COAST.

Zeila roadstead—Uniform system of buoyage, and certain buoys altered in position.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 114, dated 11th June 1894, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 231 of 1895) that information has been received from the Port Officer at Aden that the buoys in Zeila roadstead are now in accordance with the uniform system of buoyage adopted by the Indian Government, viz., red conical buoys are to be left to starboard and black can buoys to port, when entering from seaward.

The buoy marking Seagull shoal lies $4\frac{1}{2}$ cables N. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. from the north extreme of the shoal or S. 62° E. $10\frac{1}{10}$ miles from the observation spot on Aibat island.

The buoy marking Filful shoal (Shah Filful) lies 4 cables S. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. from the south-east extreme of the shoal, or $9\frac{3}{10}$ miles S. 61° E. from the above observation spot.

Position, observation spot, Aibat island, lat. $11^{\circ} 29' 35''$ N., long $43^{\circ} 27' 15''$ E.

Advertisement of Sale of Government Estates.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Mymensingh, will be put up to sale at the Mymensingh Collectorate on the 25th of June 1895, corresponding with the 12th of Ashar 1302 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

RAM ANUGHAN NARAYAN SINGH, for Collector.

Notice under Rule 19, Part I, Section II.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the schedule herunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Shama Churn Biswas, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 26th August 1895, Monday, the 10th Bhadra 1302 B.S., at the Sundarbans Commissioner's office at Alipore, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the rules for the sale of leases of waste lands in the Sundarbans of the 24-Parganas, Khulna and Backergunge, dated the 12th November 1879.

Conditions.

That the land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements. That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to the public, as also the use of a towpath not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge will be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the land. But for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals on the land, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessee an occupancy right, which shall be hereditary and transferable.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of the sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Bankura, will be put up to sale at the Bankura Collectorate on Monday, the 8th July 1895, corresponding with 25th Asar 1302 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of sale.

- 1st.—The estate will be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser will be considered the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by any settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then the noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale:—

Provided that this clause shall not apply to any arrears of rent at an enhanced rate, unless such enhanced rate has been agreed to by the person liable to pay the same, or has been confirmed by a competent Court;

- (g) any sum payable to a Government Officer or any Local Authority in respect of which the person liable to pay the same has agreed by a written instrument duly registered that it shall be recoverable under the provisions of this Act;

the Certificate Officer may make under his hand, and in Form No. 2 in the Schedule hereto annexed, a certificate of the amount of such arrears so remaining unpaid, including such interest thereon as may by any law for the time being in force be chargeable, and may cause the same to be filed in his office:

Provided that no such certificate shall be made in respect of any such demand the recovery of which is barred by any law of limitation for the time being in force:

Provided also that a certificate filed under clause (f) of this section shall not cease to be in force by reason of the release of the estate from the charge of the Court of Wards.

8. Subject to the provisions of this Act, every certificate made under the last preceding section shall, as regards the remedies for enforcing the same, and so far only, have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court. In the cases other than the case mentioned in clause (f) of the said section, the Secretary of State for India in Council, and in the said case specified in clause (f) the private individual therein mentioned, or, if such private individual be a Minor, Lunatic or Ward of Court, then such Minor, Lunatic, or Ward of Court by his next friend, shall be deemed to be the decree-holder, and in all the cases mentioned the person therein named as debtor shall be deemed to be the judgment-debtor.

9. (1) When any arrear of any of the public demands specified in section seven is unpaid by any person liable to pay such public demand to a Government Officer other than a District Collector, or when any such demand as is specified in clause (f) of the said section is unpaid by any person liable to pay the same to a Manager appointed by the Court of Wards, such Officer or such Manager may make to the Certificate Officer a requisition in writing in Form No. 3 in the Schedule hereto annexed.

(2) Every such requisition shall be signed and verified by the Officer or Manager making it in accordance with the provisions of sections fifty-one and fifty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure as to the verification of plaints, and there shall be payable in respect thereof a court-fee of the same amount as is payable under the Court-fees' Act for the time being in force in respect of a plaint for the recovery of a sum of money equal to that stated in such requisition.

(3) On receipt of such requisition, such Certificate Officer, if satisfied that such demand is justly recoverable, may make under his hand and in Form No. 2 in the Schedule hereto annexed, a certificate of the amount of such arrears so remaining unpaid, together with the cost of any court-fee paid in respect of such requisition under sub-section (2) of this section, and shall cause the same to be filed in his office.

(4) The provisions of the last preceding section shall apply to every such certificate.

10. (1) When a certificate has been filed in the office of a Certificate Officer under the provisions of sections five, seven, or nine, such Certificate Officer shall issue to the judgment-debtor a copy of such certificate and a notice in Form No. 4 in the Schedule hereto annexed.

(2) From and after the service of such notice, such certificate shall bind all immoveable property of such judgment-debtor situated within the jurisdiction of the District Collector in the same manner and with like effect as if such immoveable property had been attached under the provisions of section two hundred and seventy-four of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) A copy of such certificate may be transmitted by post under the provisions of section two hundred and twenty-three of the Code of Civil Procedure to any other District Collector, for the purpose of being filed in his office, and, as soon as it is so filed, such certificate shall, if the aforesaid notice has been served, bind in like manner all immoveable property of such judgment-debtor situated within the jurisdiction of such last-mentioned District Collector.

11. (1) If in any case the Certificate Officer is satisfied that any person against whom a certificate has been filed under the provisions of sections five, seven or nine is likely to conceal, or remove, or dispose of the whole or any part of his moveable property, and that the realization of the amount of such certificate will in consequence be delayed or obstructed, he may at any time after making such certificate direct, for reasons to be recorded by him, an attachment of the whole or any part of the moveable property of such person.

(2) Such attachment shall be made in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for attaching moveable property, and subject to the provisions of section two hundred and sixty-six of the same Code.

(3) Such property may be sold for the purpose of satisfying such certificate, if no petition of objection is filed under the next succeeding section, or if any such petition is filed, then as soon as it has been heard and determined.

12. (1) If a judgment-debtor who has been served with a notice under section ten denies his liability to pay the whole or any part of the amount for which such certificate has been made and filed against him, he may at any time within thirty days from service of such notice, or, where no such notice has been duly served, within thirty days from the execution of any process for enforcing such certificate, file a petition of objection denying his liability as aforesaid, before the Certificate Officer by whom such certificate has been made.

(2) Such petition shall be in, or as nearly as possible in, Form No. 5 in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed in sections fifty-one and fifty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure.

13. (1) The Certificate Officer shall fix a day

Day to be fixed for hearing such petition. Certificate Officer to determine the liability of the petitioner.

for hearing any such petition so filed, and upon such day or any subsequent day to which such hearing may be adjourned, shall determine whether such petitioner is liable for the whole or any part of the amount for which such certificate was made, and may set aside or modify or vary the certificate accordingly.

(2) Every such Certificate Officer shall, for the purpose of hearing any such petition and determining as aforesaid, exercise all or any of the powers of a Civil Court in respect of summoning, causing the attendance of, and examining witnesses, and in respect of causing the production of documents; and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure applicable to these matters shall apply to a Certificate Officer exercising these powers:

Certain provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure to apply to the inquiry.

Provided that if, in the opinion of the Certificate Officer, the petition involves a bond fide claim of right, he shall refer the petition to the District Collector for orders, and the District Collector, if he is satisfied that a bond fide claim of right is involved, shall make an order cancelling the certificate.

14. (1) The Certificate Officer shall have full directs the payment of such costs by any such petitioner, the amount thereof shall be added to the amount entered in the certificate, and shall be recoverable as if the same had been originally entered therein.

15. The person deemed to be the judgment-

Judgment-debtor may bring a suit in the Civil Court to contest the certificate.

debtor under the provisions of section eight may, at any time within six months from the service upon him of notice under section ten, or, if he files a petition of objection under section twelve, from the date of the determination thereof, or, if he appeals under section nineteen from the date of the decision of such appeal, bring a suit in the Civil Court to have the said certificate cancelled or modified:

Provided that no such suit shall be entertained if such judgment-debtor has omitted to state in his petition of objection, if any, the ground upon which he claims to have such certificate cancelled or modified, and cannot satisfy the Civil Court that there was good reason for such omission.

16. When no suit is instituted by the judgment-debtor within the period specified in section thirteen or section fifteen, or if any such suit having been instituted is finally decided against such judgment-debtor, such certificate shall become absolute, and shall have to all intents and purposes the same force and effect as a final decree of a Civil Court.

17. (1) No certificate duly made under the Grounds of cancellation or modification of certificate by Civil Court.

provisions of this Act shall be cancelled by a Civil Court otherwise than on one of the following grounds:—

(a) that the amount stated in the certificate was actually paid or discharged before the making of such certificate;

(b) that no part of the amount stated in the certificate was due by the judgment-debtor under the certificate;

(c) that in the case of fines imposed, or costs, charges, expenses, damages, duties, or fees adjudged by a Collector or a public officer under the provisions of any Regulation or Act for the time being in force, the proceedings of such Collector or public officer were not in substantial conformity with the provisions of such Regulation or Act, and that in consequence the judgment-debtor under the certificate suffered substantial injury from some error, defect, or irregularity in such proceedings;

or modified by a Civil Court otherwise than on one of the following grounds:—

(d) that a portion of the alleged debt was never due;

(e) that the judgment-debtor has not received credit for any portion which he may have paid.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with the ordinary original jurisdiction of the High Court at Fort William in Bengal, or with the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes.

18. (1) The Certificate Officer may, subject

Certificate Officer may transfer petition for hearing to Deputy Collector, &c.

to any general or special order of the District Collector, transfer to any Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner subordinate to such District Collector, any petition filed under section twelve, and such Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner shall hear and determine such petition accordingly:

Provided that the District Collector shall have power to retransfer any petition so transferred and to order that it be heard and determined by the Certificate Officer.

(2) The provisions of sections thirteen and fourteen shall be applicable to any such Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner to whom any such petitions have been so transferred.

19. (1) The person deemed to be the judgment-debtor under the provisions of this Act or any person claiming through him may, at any time within thirty days from the date on which any immovable property is sold in execution of a certificate under section twenty, apply to the Certificate Officer to cancel the certificate and set aside the sale on his depositing—

Application may be made for annulment of sale on deposit of amount stated in certificate, auction price and penalty.

(a) the amount stated in the certificate, together with costs, and with the interest thereon at the rate of twelve per centum per annum calculated from the date when the certificate was filed up to the date when the deposit is made;

(b) as penalty, a sum equal to one-tenth of the auction price, but not less than one rupee;

(c) all outstanding charges payable to the District Collector by the judgment-debtor under any Act for the time being in force.

(2) If such a deposit is made within the said thirty days, the Certificate Officer shall pass an order cancelling the certificate and setting aside the sale.

(3) In the event of a sale being annulled by an order of the Certificate Officer under this section, any money paid or deposited by the purchaser on account of the purchase, together with the penalty specified in clause (b), shall be paid to the purchaser by the Certificate Officer.

(4) Any order made by the Certificate Officer under this section shall be final.

20. Every certificate made under the provisions of sections five, seven or Certificate may be enforced after one month from notice, or when petition of objection is filed of.

nine may be enforced and executed with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of the certificate being filed up to the date of realization, and costs upon the expiry of one month from service of the notice mentioned in section ten, or when any such petition as is mentioned in section twelve has been filed, then as soon as such petition has been heard and determined.

21. (1) Such certificate may be so enforced and executed by all or any of the ways and means mentioned and provided in and by the Code of Civil Procedure for the enforcement and execution of decrees for money.

(2) The procedure prescribed in Chapter XIX (with the exception of section three hundred and ten A) and Chapter XX of the said Code of Civil Procedure shall, so far as it is applicable, be the procedure followed in execution proceedings to enforce such certificate and realize the amount recoverable thereunder.

22. (1) In enforcing and executing such certificate, all the duties, powers and authorities by the said Code imposed or conferred on the Court shall be exercised by the Certificate Officer in whose office any such certificate, or any copy thereof transmitted for execution under the provisions of section two hundred and twenty-three of the said Code, has been filed.

(2) The power conferred on the High Court of making, and from time to time altering, rules for the guidance of the Courts in the exercise of their duties under section two hundred and eighty-seven of the Civil Procedure Code shall, in respect of proceedings under this Act, be exercised by the Board of Revenue. All such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

(3) Subject to the control of the District Collector, and save and except in respect of the provisions relating to insolvent judgment-debtors, any of the said duties, powers and authorities may be exercised by any Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector or Assistant Commissioner subordinate to such District Collector.

23. (1) If any immovable property is sold in execution of a certificate under the provisions of section twenty, and if such certificate is subsequently set aside by a competent Civil

Sale of immovable property may be set aside, if certificate is set aside by a competent Court. Proviso.

Court, such Court may set aside such sale of such immovable property, and in any case in which such sale is so set aside, such Court shall direct that the amount of the purchase-money be refunded to the purchaser with or without interest, as such Court thinks fit.

(2) Such order shall have the force of a decree, and application for execution shall be made within six months from the date thereof, otherwise the party in whose favour such order was passed shall lose all benefit therefrom:

Provided that no such sale shall be so set aside unless such purchaser has been made or added as a party to the suit brought to set aside such certificate.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply to a sale set aside under section nineteen.

24. (1) Every District Collector shall cause to be kept in his office a register in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Revenue, and shall cause to be entered in such register the particulars of every certificate made under this Act, which, or a copy of which, has been filed in his office.

Register of certificates to be kept in District Collector's office and to be open to inspection on payment of fee of 8 annas.

(2) Such register shall be open during office hours, for not less than two hours daily, to be fixed by the District Collector, for the inspection of any one desiring to inspect the same, and a fee of eight annas, or such fee not exceeding eight annas as the Board of Revenue may prescribe, shall be chargeable for such inspection.

25. (1) Payment of the amount due under a certificate may be made by instalments, if the Certificate Officer who made such certificate so direct.

Payment of sum due under a certificate may be made by instalments.

(2) The payment of every such instalment shall be entered in the register mentioned in the last preceding section.

Payment of instalments to be entered in register.

26. When the total amount due under a certificate has been paid and satisfied, the Certificate Officer in whose office such certificate was originally filed shall cause satisfaction to be entered upon such certificate in the register mentioned in section twenty-four.

When total amount satisfied, Certificate Officer to enter satisfaction on certificate and in register.

27. When a copy of such certificate has been transmitted to another District Collector or Certificate Officer in charge of a subdivision in the same district, or when such certificate has been made under the provisions of section nine upon requisition from a Government Officer other than a Certificate Officer, or from a Manager appointed by the Court of Wards, such satisfaction shall be communicated to such other District Collector or Officer, or Manager, as the case may be.

District Collector to communicate satisfaction to other District Collector, &c., in whose office copy of such certificate has been filed.

28. When a sum has been levied or received by a District Collector or Certificate Officer in charge of a subdivision in respect of a certificate, a copy of which has been transmitted to him and filed in his office, such District Collector or Certificate Officer in charge of a subdivision shall remit such sum to the Certificate Officer by whom such certificate was originally made.

Sum levied by District Collector, &c., to whom copy of certificate sent to be transmitted to Certificate Officer who made certificate.

29. Every Certificate Officer, Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector and Assistant Commissioner, and every such Government Officer as is mentioned in section nine shall, in the discharge of his functions under this Act, be deemed to be a person acting judicially within the meaning of Act XVIII of 1850 passed by the Governor-General of India in Council.

Certain officers to be deemed to be acting judicially in the discharge of their duties under this Act.

30. All Certificate Officers, Assistant Collectors, Deputy Collectors and Assistant Commissioners shall, in the performance of their duties under this Act, be subject to the general supervision and control of the Commissioners of Divisions and the Board of Revenue.

31. Service of a notice under section ten shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof, signed by the Certificate Provision regarding service of notices.

Officer whenever it may be practicable, to the judgment-debtor therein named. When such judgment-debtor cannot be found, the service may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him; and, if no such adult male member can be found, the notice may be served by fixing a copy on the outer door of the house in which the judgment-debtor ordinarily dwells or carries on business, or by fixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of the Certificate Officer issuing the same, and also in some conspicuous part of the land, if any, affected by the service of the notice:

Provided that if the Certificate Officer shall so direct, the notice may be sent by post addressed to the judgment-debtor at his last known residence, and registered under Part III of the Indian Post Office Act, 1866, or any similar Act for the time being in force, and service of it may be proved by the production of the addressee's receipt.

32. (1) (a) An appeal from any order of an Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, or Assistant Commissioner, or from any original order of a Certificate Officer other than the District Collector, may be preferred to the District Collector within 15 days from the making of such order; (b) an appeal from an original order of a District Collector may be preferred to the Commissioner within thirty days from the making of such order.

(2) An officer appointed to perform the functions of a Certificate Officer shall, if authorised by the District Collector with the sanction of the Commissioner so to do, exercise the appellate powers of a District Collector, and he shall, unless the order of his appointment otherwise directs, be subject to the general supervision and control of the District Collector; and the District Collector may transfer for hearing any appeal referred to in sub-section (1), clause (a), to any Certificate Officer so authorised other than the officer against whose order such appeal is preferred.

(3) Pending the decision of such appeal, execution may be stayed if the Appellate Authority so direct, but not otherwise.

(4) In each case under this section, the day after that on which the order was passed shall be reckoned as the first day of the period.

33. No appeal, as of right, shall lie from any order of a District Collector passed on appeal from an order of an Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector, Assistant Commissioner or Certificate Officer: but the Commissioner may, in any case in which he thinks fit, revise any order passed by a District Collector, Certificate Officer, Assistant Collector, Deputy Collector or Assistant Commissioner.

ACT No. III of 1895.

An Act to provide for the Maintenance of Record of Tenant-rights in Bengal, and for the recovery of the cost of Cadastral Surveys and Settlements.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the maintenance of records of tenant-rights and of settlement records in Bengal, and for an alternative method of recovering the cost of cadastral surveys and settlements; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

1. (1) This Act may be called "The Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895."

Short title.

- (2) It shall come into force only in Districts or parts of Districts of which a field survey and a record of rights have been made under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, or under any other law for the time being in force, and to which the Local Government may, from time to time, extend it by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette;

and thereupon this Act shall commence and take effect in the Districts or parts of Districts named in such order on the day which shall be in such order provided for the commencement thereof.

2. (1) In this Act all words and expressions defined in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, shall have the meanings attributed to them, respectively, in that Act, and the word "addition" shall have the meaning attributed to it in the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

Interpretation clause.

- (2) By the term "record of rights" shall be understood the settlement record of tenant-rights called the khatian or such new editions of such record as may be prepared under rules made under this Act, or such other corresponding record of tenant-rights as may be declared by the Board of Revenue to form the record of rights for any District or part of a District. A record of rights includes entries duly made in a Register of Mutations.

PART II.

Registration of Mutations.

3. The Sub-Registrars appointed under the Indian Registration Act, 1877, shall be Registrars of Mutations under this Act.

4. The Registrar of Mutations shall keep such registers as shall, from time to time, be prescribed by the Local Government, including, for every village within the limits of the sub-district, a Register of Mutations, in which there shall be recorded changes affecting the record of rights of that village, and containing such particulars as the Board of Revenue may, from time to time, with the sanction of the Local Government, prescribe.

5. (1) Whenever the Local Government shall issue a notification in the Calcutta Gazette to that effect, every landlord shall, within the period prescribed in the notification, file, in the office of the Registrar of Mutations, within the sub-district in which his tenants' land is situated, a statement, in a form to be prescribed by the Local Government, showing truly, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the changes, if any, which have taken place in his tenants' rights, by reason of transfer or succession, since the record of rights was prepared, or since the last statement was filed.

(2) The Collector of the District shall cause such notification to be published by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of such Collector, in every Civil Court, in every police-station, and in the office of every Sub-divisional Officer within the District, and in any other manner which the Local Government may from time to time direct.

6. Every tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates and occupancy raiyat, who transfers his tenure or holding, or any part thereof, and every person claiming to be in possession of any tenure or holding as a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates, or occupancy raiyat in consequence of a transfer or of intestate or testamentary succession, shall, within four months from the date upon which he gave or took possession, as the case may be, give notice of the fact to the Registrar of Mutations within whose sub-district the whole or some portion of the land to which the notice relates is situate, at his office:

Provided that a notice under this section is receivable although the prescribed period has elapsed:

Provided further that when any person has duly given notice under this section, all other persons are released from the obligation of giving notice in respect of the same transfer or succession:

Provided further that when an instrument effecting a transfer of tenant-right has been registered under the provisions of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, all persons are released from the obligation of giving notice under this section in respect of the same transfer.

7. The notice shall contain:—

- (a) in the case of a transfer, the names of the transferor and the transferee, or in the case of a succession, the name of the deceased and his successor,
- (b) a specification of the nature of the interest transferred or acquired,
- (c) the survey number of the lands as entered in the record of rights, and
- (d) such further particulars as the Local Government may, from time to time, prescribe.

8. (1) The Registrar of Mutations shall, on receipt of a notice under section 6, whether given within the prescribed period or not, from a transferor or transferee, ascertain if both the transferor and the transferee, or in the case of the death of either party since the transfer, if the one party and the representative of the other party admit the transfer, or in the case of the death of both parties if their respective representatives admit the transfer, and if both transferor or transferee or their respective representatives admit the transfer, he shall, after satisfying himself as to the identity of the persons appearing before him, cause the following particulars to be endorsed on the notice (that is to say):

(a) the signature and addition of every person admitting the transfer; and if such transfer has been admitted by the representative or agent of any person, the signature and addition of such representative or agent,

(b) any payment of money or delivery of goods made in the presence of the Registrar of Mutations in reference to the transfer, and any admission of receipt of consideration, in whole or in part, made in his presence in reference to such transfer, and shall affix the date and his signature to these endorsements, and shall register the transfer in the Register of Mutations in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time by rule prescribe.

(2) If necessary, the Registrar of Mutations may issue a summons for the attendance of either or both the transferor and transferee, or their respective representatives, either simultaneously or at different times, at his office:

Provided that, in lieu of issuing a summons, he shall either himself go and examine, or issue a commission for the examination of any person who is:—

(a) exempt by law from personal appearance in Court,

(b) unable, by reason of bodily infirmity, without risk or serious inconvenience, to attend at the office, or

(c) in jail under Civil or Criminal process.

9. The Registrar of Mutations on receipt of a notice under section 6, whether within the prescribed period or not, from a person claiming by succession, shall, after satisfying himself as to the identity of such person and causing the signature and addition of such person to be endorsed on the notice, by a notice affixed in a conspicuous place, and by beat of drum, in the village in which the land claimed is situated, call upon any person who desires to do so to appear before him at his office within one month from the date of the last-mentioned notice and deny the succession, and if within that period no one appears and denies the succession, he shall endorse a statement of the fact on the notice, affixing the date and his signature to the endorsements, and shall register the succession in the Register of Mutations in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time by rule prescribe.

10. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 8, 9 and 12, any person may attend at the office of the Registrar of Mutations by agent duly authorized by power-of-attorney executed and authenticated in manner hereinafter mentioned.

11. (1) For the purposes of the last preceding section, the powers-of-attorney here mentioned shall alone be recognized—

(a) if the principal at the time of executing the power-of-attorney resides in British India, a power-of-attorney executed before and authenticated by any Magistrate or the Registrar or Sub-Registrar appointed under section 6 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, within whose district or sub-district the principal resides:

(b) if the principal at the time aforesaid does not reside in British India, a power-of-attorney executed before and authenticated by a notary public, or any Court, Judge, Magistrate, British Consul or Vice-Consul or representative of Her Majesty or of the Government of India:

Provided that the following persons shall not be required to attend at any office or Court for the purpose of executing any such power-of-attorney as is mentioned in clause (a) of this section:—

persons exempt by law from personal appearance in Court;

persons who by reason of bodily infirmity are unable, without risk or serious inconvenience, so to attend; and persons who are in jail under Civil or Criminal process.

(2) In every such case the officer, if satisfied that the power-of-attorney has been voluntarily executed by the person purporting to be the principal, may attest the same without requiring his personal attendance at the office or Court. To obtain evidence as to the voluntary nature of the execution, the officer may go to the person purporting to be the principal and examine him or issue a commission for his examination. Any power-of-attorney mentioned in this section may be proved by the production of it without further proof, when it purports on the face of it to have been executed before and authenticated by the officer hereinbefore mentioned in that behalf.

12. The law for the time being in force as to summonses, commissions and the compelling the attendance of persons summoned in suits before Civil Courts shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to any summons or commission issued, and any person summoned, under this Act.

13. Whenever a Registrar of Mutations, after Reason for refusal to receipt of a notice under register to be recorded. section 6, does not register the transfer or succession in respect of which it is given, he shall make an entry of the fact and state his reasons in such manner as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe.

14. *If any of the persons purporting to have signed the notice, or any one mentioned therein as transferor or transferee or in the case of the death of either if his representative denies the transfer, or if any such person appears to be a minor, an idiot, or a lunatic, or if any person, where the claim is by succession, appears before the Registrar on issue of a notice under section 9, and denies the succession,

the Registrar of Mutations shall refuse to register the mutation.

15. If the name of a transferor, or of a deceased person through whom succession is claimed, inserted in a notice given under section 6, is not recorded in the record of rights as that of the person in possession of the land specified in the notice, the Registrar of Mutations shall, without registering the transfer or succession, as the case may be, by a notice, affixed in a conspicuous place, and by beat of drum, in the village in which the land claimed is situated, call upon any person who desires to do so to appear before him at his office within one month from the date of the last-mentioned notice and deny that the alleged transferor, or deceased person through whom succession is claimed, was at the time of the alleged transfer in possession of the land specified in the notice. And if no person within the prescribed period so appears and denies, the Registrar of Mutations shall, if the other provisions of the Act are complied with, record the transfer or succession, the subject of the notice, in the Register of Mutations.

16. (1) When a Registrar of Mutations has made an order refusing to register a transfer or succession, an appeal shall lie within thirty days from the date of the order against such order to the Collector of the District to whom such Registrar of Mutations is subordinate; and the Collector may, after taking such evidence as he thinks necessary, reverse or alter such order: and if the Collector directs the transfer or succession to be registered, the Registrar of Mutations shall obey such order, and such registration shall take effect as if the transfer or succession had been registered when the notice was first given under section 6.

(2) No appeal shall lie from any order of a Collector passed under this section.

17. The Registrar of Mutations shall give to the person giving a notice under section 6 a receipt therefor, and shall, upon his application, grant to him, free of charge, a copy of the entries made in the Register of Mutations in pursuance of such notice.

18. (1) On payment of the prescribed fees the Registrar to allow inspection and to give certified copies of entries in Register. Register of Mutations shall be open to inspection by any person applying to inspect the same, and a copy of any entry therein shall be given to any person applying therefor.

(2) Copies given under this section shall be signed and sealed by the Registrar of Mutations and shall be admissible for the purpose of proving the contents of the original entry.

19. (1) The Local Government shall from time to time prepare tables of fees payable—

(a) for the registration of mutations—

(i) within the prescribed period,
(ii) after the prescribed period,

(b) for copies of entries in the Register of Mutations,

(c) for inspecting the Register of Mutations,

(d) for notices, processes and commissions given or issued under this Act,

(e) for such other matters as appear to the Local Government necessary to effect the purposes of this Act, and may from time to time alter such tables.

(2) Tables of fees so payable shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and a copy thereof in English and the Vernacular language of the district shall be exposed to public view in the office of every Registrar of Mutations.

(3) All fees for the registration of mutations shall be payable at the time when the notice is given under section 6.

20. The fees payable to the Collector under sections 15 and 18 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, may be paid to the Registrar of Mutations, when notice is given under section 6, and such payment shall be held to be payment to the Collector, and the Registrar of Mutations shall forthwith transmit all fees so paid to the Collector, and such notice to the Registrar of Mutations shall be held to be a notice to the Collector under sections 15 and 18 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

21. Any non-occupancy raiyat or under-raiyat, if he thinks fit, may give any notice which a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates and occupancy raiyat is bound to give under section 6, and if he gives such notice, the provisions of this Act, as far as they are applicable, shall thereupon apply.

22. A Sub-Registrar, registering an instrument effecting a transfer of tenant-right, or, under the provisions of sections 64 and 65 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, receiving a memorandum of a transfer of tenant-right, shall, as Registrar of Mutations, make an entry in the Register of Mutations as if he had received a notice under section 6.

23. (1) No person bound to give notice under section 6 shall, after the period therein mentioned, be entitled to obtain a decree for, or recover, the rent of any land the subject of the transfer or succession until he has given such notice, and if the defendant denies that the notice has been given, or if the Court thinks fit, it may require him to file a certified copy of the entry in the Register of Mutations relative to such land, or to adduce evidence to the satisfaction of the Court that the notice was duly given.

(2) No tenant bound to give notice under section 6 shall, after the period therein mentioned, in any suit in which his landlord is plaintiff and he is a defendant, be entitled to adduce evidence that he is a tenure-holder, raiyat at fixed rates or raiyat with a right of occupancy in the land held by him until he has given such notice, but the Court in which any such suit is tried shall afford the defendant sufficient time to enable him to give such notice.

24. Whoever voluntarily or negligently omits to give, within the prescribed time, notice under section 6, shall be liable to such fine, not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector of the District may see fit to impose.

25. After a notification has been issued under section 5, whoever voluntarily or negligently omits to file, within the period therein specified, the required statement, shall be liable to such fine, not exceeding one hundred rupees, as the Collector of the District may see fit to impose:

Provided that no person shall be fined under this or the last preceding section who at any time prior to the institution of proceedings thereunder, or in the discretion of the Collector of the District at any time after such institution, has filed the statement required by section 5 or given the notice required by section 6.

26. Every Registrar of Mutations and every person employed in his office for the purposes of this Act, who being charged with the duty of making any entry in the Register of Mutations, voluntarily omits to make such entry, or makes any entry therein which he knows or believes to be incorrect, intending thereby to cause or knowing it to be likely that he may thereby cause injury, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, to any person, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine, or with both.

27. Whoever commits any of the following offences shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine, or with both:—

(a) intentionally makes any false statement, whether on oath or not, and whether it has been recorded or not, before any Registrar of Mutations in any proceeding or enquiry under this Act;

(b) falsely personates another, and in such
False personation. assumed character presents any notice or makes any admission or statement, or causes any summons or commission to be issued, or does any other act in any proceeding or enquiry under this Act;

(c) abets, within the meaning of the Indian Abetment of certain offences. Penal Code, any thing made punishable under this or the last preceding section.

PART III.

Recovery of Expenses of a Survey and Preparation of a Record of Rights.

28. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, instead of proceeding under section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, to recover, from all or any of the proprietors, landlords, tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers in any District or part of a District, either in one year or several years, and in the manner specified in the sections following, their shares of all the expenses declared by the Local Government to be recoverable from proprietors, landlords, tenants, and rent-free owners and occupiers, which have been incurred in making a survey and record of rights and a settlement of rents under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, such costs not having been incurred for the purposes of a settlement of land revenue.

29. The Local Government may from time to time determine the total expenses which have been incurred in any District or part of a District in making a survey and record of rights, and the amounts (in such proportions as the Local Government may from time to time determine) which shall be paid by the proprietors, landlords, tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers respectively in such District or part of a District, and the date from which the expenses aforesaid shall be recovered; and may specify the rate per acre to be paid by the said proprietors, landlords, tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers.

30. The amount due from proprietors shall be paid together with such instalment of land revenue as the Local Government may direct, and arrears shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of public demands.

31. The amount due from tenants and rent-free owners and occupiers shall, subject to any orders passed by the Local Government under section 28, be paid by them to the Settlement Officer, on tender of such extract from the record of rights as they may be entitled to receive. Arrears shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of public demands.

32. When any proprietor, landlord, tenant or rent-free owner or occupier liable to pay any portion of the expenses under an order passed under this Part since such expenses were incurred, has died or has transferred, in whole or in part, his interest in any land on account of which he may have become liable, and such portion of the expenses remains unpaid, it shall be lawful for the Collector to recover the said expenses, or any portion thereof, from the person in possession of such interest or portion thereof. Such expenses shall be recoverable under the law for the time being in force for the recovery of public demands.

PART IV.

Miscellaneous.

33. Every Sub-Registrar appointed under this Act to be a Registrar of Mutations, and every person appointed temporarily to discharge the duties of any such office, shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, and all official records and papers kept by any such officer under this Act shall be held to be public records and the property of Government.

34. Every order of a Registrar of Mutations affecting any entry in the Register of Mutations shall be appealable for a period of one month from the date thereof to the Collector of the District. No appeal shall lie from any order of a Collector passed under this section.

35. The Local Government may from time to time vest any officer other than the Collector of the District with special appellate powers under this Act; and every officer so vested shall be competent to hear and decide any appeal which the Collector of the district is competent to hear and decide under this Act.

36. (1) The Local Government or the Board of Revenue, with the sanction of the Local Government, may, from time to time, make, repeal and alter rules consistent with this Act—

- (a) regarding the appointment, control, discipline and payment of all Registrars of Mutations and their establishments;
- (b) prescribing the manner of making entries of mutations in the record of rights, preparing new editions of such records, and republishing them from time to time, or otherwise making them available for public information;
- (c) regarding the distribution of the expenses incurred under Part III, and
- (d) generally for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

(2) The provisions of section 190 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, shall apply to rules made under clauses (b), (c) and (d).

[Second Publication.]

The following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honour on the 18th April, 1895, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General on the 21st May, 1895, is hereby published for general information:—

Act No. IV of 1895,

An Act to further amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

WHEREAS it is expedient to further amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890;
 It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

(2) It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

2. In section 13, in sub-section (2), for the word "this" after the word "under" the words "the last preceding" shall be substituted.

3. After section 32, the following section shall be inserted:—

"32A. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 57, all lines realized under the last preceding section shall be disposed of in such manner as the Commissioners may think fit."

4. In section 33, for sub-section (2), the following shall be substituted:—

"(2) Warehouses and sheds, with all necessary appliances, for receiving and storing goods landed or to be shipped or carried, places suitable for the sampling and selling of such goods. Tramways for the conveyance of passengers or goods, the cars, and carriages on the lines of such tramways to be worked with such power only as the Local Government may, from time to time, sanction."

5. In section 90, after the words "by their servants" the words "or agents" shall be inserted; after the word "discharged" the following proviso shall be inserted:—

"Provided that in the case of cargoes of petroleum it shall be lawful for the Commissioners not only to land the petroleum from all sea-going vessels, but also by their servants or agents to put the petroleum out of the hold and overside such vessels;"

and after the word "Provided" the word "further" shall be inserted.

6. In section 104, the words from the words "and also" to the end shall be omitted.

7. After section 104, the following section shall be inserted:—

New section 104 A. (1) The Commissioners shall also frame scales of tolls for the use of their docks, wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers by vessels, whether sea-going or not, leviable when the Commissioners permit goods to be landed or shipped by persons other than their own officers and servants.

(2) The scales for sea-going vessels and vessels other than sea-going vessels may be either the same or different as the Commissioners may think fit."

8. In section 106, after the word "tolls," wherever the same occurs, the words "rates, charges and fees" shall be inserted, the word "any" shall be omitted, and after the word "port" the following shall be inserted:—

"in respect of such vessels and of persons, whether in charge of, or on board, such vessels, and also in respect of the licensing, registration, and regulation of such vessels and persons."

9. In section 108, after the word "all" the words "or any portion or description of" shall be inserted, before the word "vessel" the word "sea-going" shall be inserted, after the word "such" and before the word "tolls" the words "general or differential" shall be inserted, after the word "three" the words and letter "one hundred and four A" shall be inserted, for the word "to" after the word "three" the word "and" shall be substituted and the words "both inclusive" shall be omitted, and at the end thereof the following proviso shall be added:—

"Provided that the said goods may for the purpose of this section be classified by weight, measurement, number and value, and the tolls, dues, rates and charges leviable may be varied according as the goods are imported or exported goods."

10. In section 109, after the word "such" the words "additional, general or differential" shall be inserted.

11. In section 113, in sub-section (2), after the words "any goods" the words "other than those stored in warehouses licensed under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878," shall be inserted.

12. In section 114, in sub-section (1), after the words "any goods" the words "other than those stored in warehouses licensed under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878," shall be inserted.

13. In section 115, after the words "the said goods" the words "other than those stored in warehouses licensed under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878," shall be inserted.

14. In section 116, in sub-section (2) between the word "warehouses" and the word "and," the words "warehouses licensed under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878," shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 116.
Now sections 122A, 122B and 122C.

15. After section 122, the following sections shall be inserted:—

"122A. (1) All warehouses of the Port Commissioners shall be deemed to be private warehouses and capable of being licensed as such under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, and all the provisions of that Act relating to licensed private warehouses shall be applicable to all such warehouses.

(2) The warrants delivered under section ninety-six of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, shall, in the case of the said warehouses, be signed by the Commissioners or some person duly authorised by them in that behalf."

"122B. It shall be lawful for the Commissioners to give, in the manner provided by section fifty-three, general security, by bond or otherwise, for payment of the import duty due on goods stored in bonded warehouses, or for the due exportation of such goods. When such security shall have been given by the Commissioners, no further security shall be required by the Chief Customs Authority from any other person to the same effect."

"122C. The Commissioners shall not be liable to compensate the owners of petroleum stored in any warehouse licensed under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, for any loss by fire, however arising, or for any deterioration or damage or diminution in quantity by leakage or otherwise, unless such deterioration, damage or diminution has been caused by the negligence of the Commissioners or their servants."

16. In section 126, in sub-section (1), after clause (a), the following shall be inserted:—

"(aa) for regulating the manner in which, and the conditions under which, the loading and discharging of all vessels within the port shall be carried out."

and in clause (b), after the word "warehouses," the words "warehouses licensed under section sixteen of the Sea Customs Act, 1878," shall be inserted.

ACT No. I OF 1895.

An Act to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Public Demands.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law for the recovery of Public Demands: It is hereby enacted as follows:—

- (1) This Act may be called "The Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895."
Short title.
- (2) It extends to all the territories for the time being administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the exception of the District of Angul.
Extent.
- (3) It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.
Commencement.
2. The powers given by this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any powers conferred by any Act now being in force, for the recovery of any due, debt or demand to which the provisions of this Act are applicable.
Construction of this Act.
3. (1) Act VII (B.C.) of 1880 and Act I (B.C.) of 1891 are hereby repealed; but this repeal shall not affect—Repeal of Acts.
 - (a) the past operation of the Acts hereby repealed, nor anything duly done or suffered thereunder;
 - (b) any liability created under the Acts hereby repealed.
- (2) Every certificate made under any enactment hereby repealed may be enforced under the provisions of this Act.
Certificate under Act VII (B.C.) of 1880, &c., to be enforced under this Act.
- (3) Every reference made to Act VII (B.C.) of 1880 or Act I (B.C.) of 1891 in any Act, Notification or written Instrument passed, issued or made prior to the passing of this Act, shall, so far as it may be practicable, be taken to be made to the corresponding provisions of this Act.
References to previous Acts.

4. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

Definitions.

(1) "District Collector" means the Chief Officer in charge of the Revenue administration of a District.

(2) "Certificate Officer" means—

(a) a District Collector;

(b) any officer appointed by a District Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, to perform the functions of a Certificate Officer under this Act;

(c) any officer in charge of a subdivision of a district.

(3) "Local Authority" means a Municipal Committee, District Board, Body of Port Commissioners, or other authority legally entitled to, or entrusted by Government with, the control or management of a Municipal or Local Fund.

5. In the following cases, that is to say—

(1) when, under the provisions of Act XI of 1859 or Act VII (B.C.) of 1868, or any law for the time being in force, an estate, tenure, or any share of either, has been sold for the recovery of arrears of revenue due thereupon, and, after deducting the expenses of such sale, the balance of the sale-proceeds remaining is insufficient to liquidate the arrears of revenue in discharge of which such sale-proceeds may under the aforesaid provisions be applied;

When an estate or tenure has been sold for its own arrears, and the sale-proceeds are insufficient to liquidate the same; or

(2) when arrears of revenue due from a farmer

when arrears of revenue due from a farmer are not paid on latest date of payment;

on account of an estate held by him in farm are not paid on the latest day of payment fixed under the provisions of section three of Act XI of 1859;

the Certificate Officer may make under his hand, and in Form No. 1 in the Schedule hereto annexed, a certificate of the amount of arrears so remaining unpaid, and may cause the same to be filed in his office.

6. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act,

Such certificate shall have the force and effect of a Civil Court decree as regards the remedies for enforcing it.

every certificate made under the provisions of the last preceding section shall, as regards the remedies for enforcing the same and so far only, have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court, and the Secretary of State for India in Council shall be deemed to be the decree-holder, and the person therein named as debtor shall be deemed to be the judgment-debtor.

(2) Such judgment-debtor may at any time

Judgment-debtor may bring a suit in the Civil Court to have the certificate cancelled or modified.

within six months from the service upon him of notice under section ten, or, if he files a petition of objection under section twelve, from the date of the determination thereof, or, if he appeals under section nineteen, from the date of the decision of such appeal, bring a suit in the Civil Court to have the said certificate cancelled or modified:

Provided that no such suit shall be entertained if such judgment-debtor (a) has omitted to state in his petition of objection, if any, the ground upon which he claims to have such certificate cancelled or modified, and cannot satisfy the Civil Court that there was good reason for such omission, and (b) has not paid such arrears to the Certificate Officer within one month after being served with the said notice, or, in any case in which he has filed a petition of objection under section twelve, then within fifteen days after such petition has been heard and determined, or, in any case in which an appeal has been preferred under section nineteen, within fifteen days of the determination of such appeal.

(3) If no such suit is instituted within the said period of six months, or if any such suit having been so instituted is decided against such judgment-debtor, such certificate shall become absolute and shall have to all intents and purposes the effect of a final decree of a Civil Court.

7. When any arrears of the following Public Demands are unpaid by the person liable to pay the same, that is to say—

When any arrears of Public Demand is unpaid by the person liable to pay the same,

(a) any sum of money which by any law for the time being in force is declared to be recoverable or realizable as an arrear of revenue or land revenue, or by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of revenue or of the public or Government revenue;

(b) any sum of money due from the sureties of a farmer in respect of the revenue of the estate farmed by him;

(c) any sum recoverable under Act VIII (B.C.) of 1862, section nine (Zamindari Dāk Cess) or declared by any enactment now in force to be recoverable under Act VII (B.C.) of 1868;

(d) in the case of a person to whom the collection of tolls has been farmed under the provisions of section eight of Act V (B.C.) of 1864, or of the sureties of such person—any sum of money due in respect of such farm;

(e) any arrears of revenue or rent payable to the Secretary of State for India in Council from any raiyat or from any person holding any interest in land, pasturage, forest rights, fisheries, and the like, whether such interest is or is not transferable;

(f) in the case of property which, under the provisions of any law for the time being in force, has been taken under the charge of, or is managed by, the Court of Wards or the Revenue Authorities on behalf of a private individual—any arrears of rent or of other demands recoverable as rent whether such arrears became due before or after the management devolved upon such Court or such Authorities:

18. The expenditure per prisoner for diet in each jail is contrasted with that of the previous year in the following table:—

The average expenditure per prisoner for diet throughout the province was Rs. 25-15-10 as compared with Rs. 24-12-8 in 1893, Rs. 25-10-6 in 1892, and Rs. 22-12-10 in 1891. Out of the 47 jails in Bengal, 28 show an increase and 19 a decrease over the figures for the previous year. As the price of all food-grains was lower, the increase in cost must have been due to a more liberal diet and better quality of food being given to the prisoners on medical grounds.

19. Establishment.—The figures in the margin indicate the expenditure under this head during the past five years. There has been an increase of Rs. 17,094 during the year under report. Of this, Rs. 13,416 represents exchange compensation allowance and allowances drawn by medical officers holding executive charge of central jails during the absence on privilege leave of the permanent incumbents. There is an increase of Rs. 1,547 under the head "Jailors, Deputy and Assistant Jailors," and of Rs. 1,628 under the head "Civil Hospital Assistants and Compounders."

Hospital charges rose from Rs. 52,541 in 1893 to Rs. 70,148 in 1894, owing to the larger number of prisoners requiring medical treatment, and to the supply of extra and more varied diet during an unhealthy year. To the cause of health is also to be laid the rise in expenditure on clothing. The largest increase (Rs. 30,980) has occurred under the head "Contingencies," chiefly under the following items:—Transfer charges (Rs. 7,457), municipal taxes (Rs. 8,861), cows, &c. (Rs. 3,362), and pumps (Rs. 2,401). The Government of India have recently, in view of the inconveniently vague nature of this head, proscribed a revised form of Statement No. X, and drawn up a schedule indicating items of charges which should be included under each head. The amended classification, which should come into force from this year, will remove the objections which attach to the present system. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that such items as pumps, ejectors, incinerators, waterlifts, and cooking ranges, which are permanent structural improvements, should have been shown separately in this Report, and not amalgamated with items which are essentially "contingent" charges.

20. Taking together all three heads of controllable expenditure, viz., "Diet," "Hospital charges," and "Clothing," the average cost per prisoner was Rs. 34-11-6 compared with Rs. 31-13-11 in 1893 and Rs. 33-1 in 1892. Of the 33 jails in which the cost per prisoner has been below the average for all jails, 18 have had a mortality among convicts under the average, and 15 above. Of the 15 jails in which the cost per prisoner has exceeded the average, 8 have had a mortality above the average, and 7 under. In future the Inspector-General should, in comparing economy in expenditure, insert in the table illustrating it a column showing the death-rate per mille of all admissions. A comparison thus effected bears out the statement made in last year's Resolution that it cannot be said that a high rate of mortality accompanies economy in food.

21. Employment of prisoners and manufactures.—The average daily number of prisoners sentenced to labour on working days was 15,900 as compared with 16,219 of the previous year. The daily average of sick, convalescent, and infirm rose from 1,872 to 2,185; the number employed on unremunerative labour from 1,080 to 1,131; and the number employed on jail buildings from 719 to 1,032. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to see that the numbers employed on gardening have been steadily decreasing since 1892, although this is the healthiest and most natural form of labour for prisoners. The net cash earnings for the year were Rs. 4,90,536, showing a very satisfactory increase over the figure for the previous year (Rs. 3,81,086). The improvement was chiefly due to working off the stock of raw materials in the Bhagalpur jail at the end of 1893, whereby the cash earnings of that jail rose from Rs. 212 to Rs. 72,101.

				1894.	1893.
				Rs. A.	Rs. A.
Presidency	112 7	121 14
Buxar	51 6	51 6
Alipore	40 2	32 5
Bhagalpur	24 5	21 10
Midnapore	20 0	21 2
Rampur Boalia	8 12	9 2
Hazaribagh	6 6	8 8
Dacca	5 8	6 5

The ordinary profit in the Alipore jail rose from Rs. 58,051 to Rs. 69,759, while the aggregate value of articles supplied to other departments rose from Rs. 1,01,820 to Rs. 1,30,751. The decrease in the value of the work done in the Presidency jail, in the Press Department, which fell from Rs. 1,56,921 in 1893 to Rs. 1,39,310 in 1894, is ascribed to a smaller daily average of convicts employed and to their general bad health. In the Buxar central jail the earnings amounted to Rs. 55,493, as compared with Rs. 58,278 in the previous year; while the average per prisoner employed on manufactures rose from Rs. 90-6 to Rs. 98-6. The ordinary profit in the Bhagalpur jail rose from Rs. 26,611-11 in 1893 to Rs. 30,859-6 in 1894. In the Midnapore jail the figures show a decline from Rs. 20,816 to Rs. 15,727, due to the unhealthiness of the jail during the first-half of the year, all manufacturing operations having been stopped for a period of three months. The average profits of the district jails amounted to Rs. 68,710 as compared with Rs. 72,690 in 1893. The decrease is chiefly due to the exclusion of the Hazaribagh jail from the list of district jails.

23. Quinine and its distribution.—In the Resolution of the 6th December 1892, the Lieutenant-Governor decided, with the object of extending the use of quinine among the poorer classes of Bengal, so liable to the ravages of fever, to supply the drug from the Government Factory at Darjeeling, and have it made up in packets of 5 grains each by jail labour for distribution through the agency of post offices and other public offices. At first it was arranged to have the packets prepared at the Hazaribagh Reformatory School, but the industry was soon transferred to the Alipore jail, where it has since been carried on. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently in a separate Resolution reviewed the results of the scheme during the first two years of its operation, considering the sales month by month in juxtaposition to the corresponding monthly returns of mortality from fever, and district by district relatively to the prevalence of fever. The figures furnished in this report supplement the information then before Government and further establish the success of the scheme. At the Alipore central jail the industry has given daily employment to 17·5 adolescents. The number of powders filled and packed was 2,917,526, and the cash and credits realised amounted to Rs. 31,832-13, as compared with Rs. 18,077-12 in 1893. The total number of post offices supplied increased from 2,272 to 2,321, and the profits amounted to Rs. 5,091. This surplus should either be absorbed in providing a better description of paper for the envelopes, or in allowing a higher commission to postmasters and other agents for sale.

24. Subsidiary Jails.—There were 85 subsidiary jails, the number remaining the same as during the previous year. Nine of these are reported not to have been visited the prescribed number of times by the Subdivisional Officers. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that the Khoad Mahal, Gai-banda, Howrah, Buxar, and Madhubani jails again appear in this list, in spite of the orders passed in last year's Resolution, and requests that the District Magistrates concerned will take measures to see that such neglect does not recur. The number of convicts fell from 16,843 to 16,130, the daily average confined also decreasing from 377 to 363. Of 12 civil prisoners confined in subsidiary jails during the year, 6 were released and 6 transferred. Nineteen escapes were effected by convicts and under-trial prisoners during the year, as compared with 12 in 1893 and 18 in 1892. Of 11 convicts who escaped, 9 were recaptured. The total expenditure on subsidiary jails fell from Rs. 1,10,027 to Rs. 1,09,923; while the average cost per prisoner remained about the same. The net profits from manufactures rose from Rs. 4,183 to Rs. 4,238.

25. Scales of diet.—Early in the year the sickness prevalent in the Midnapore Jail attracted the attention of Government and led to the sanction of full labouring diet to the prisoners of that jail, as well as of 24 subsidiary jails selected as receiving prisoners in an ill-nourished condition. Special attention was directed by Superintendents and medical officers during the year to the subject of diet scales, resulting in the substitution of a better quality of food and in other improvements. The jail gardens have in most cases been able to supply an abundance of good vegetables and condiments, and jailors have been encouraged to give nutritious vegetables to the fullest extent as an addition to the ordinary diet. The cultivation of crops within the inner enclosure of jails has been discouraged, and the more sanitary system of extra-mural cultivation adopted where sufficient space is available.

26. Water-supply.—Dr. Comins has furnished an interesting account of some of the many improvements effected and undertaken in this direction during the year; and the Lieutenant-Governor invites a still fuller report in future years of all that has been done towards this reform with the importance of which he is glad to see that the Inspector-General is as deeply impressed as His Honour himself is. Attention has been paid during the year to all the branches of this question, the source of the supply, the manner in which it is brought into the jail, the system adopted for boiling and for filtering it, and the measures taken for its distribution to the cook room and the wards, without manual contamination. The annual chemical analysis of the water used in jails has been carried out. Four of the central jails—Alipore, Presidency, Bhagalpur, and Dacca—and three district jails—Burdwan, Darjeeling, and Arrah—are already supplied by direct communication from the water-works of the town. Other jails, not so fortunate, derive their water-supply from rivers or tanks, by pump or otherwise, but the majority of small jails still draw their water from wells inside the premises. Dr. Comins summarises the measures taken in this important matter as follows:—

The supply of pumps to jails requiring them has been continued, and the Alipore Jail has commenced to manufacture and send out powerful pumps. As first attempts they have proved somewhat clumsy and hard to work, but these defects will disappear with more experience, and it will be a great advantage to be able to manufacture pumps, the largest of which are expensive articles to purchase. Tube wells have been purchased and supplied, but have failed in some instances. They have done well in Purnea, Dumka, and Rangpur, and will, I think, be valuable for sandy soils. The water-lift invented by Mr. Larmore has also been sent to some jails. The piping for drinking water has been extended and hydrants set up, pumps connected by pipe with patent boilers and filters. The Alipore patent boiler has been supplied and set up in other jails, and there are few jails now which do not possess one. At the Alipore Jail a masonry reservoir to hold 14,000 gallons has been made, which will hold two days' supply in case of any accident to the main or at the pumping station. The large masonry reservoir and settling tank at Arrah have been arched over. Other improvements effected during the year are the supply of water-tight covers to wells, iron water-carts, cans for distribution especially constructed to avoid contamination by hand, iron drums with padlock and tap for hospitals and sleeping wards for the cleanly storage of drinking water, pipes with taps over the cooking cauldrons obviating the necessity of carriage by hand. At Krishnagar a new well has been dug, and a patent boiler and filter are in process of erection connected by pipes with the cookshed. At Arrah the wells not in use are being filled up, there being no further use for them now that the municipal water is introduced. The best method of filtration has continued to receive attention, and several new filters have been tried. A masonry filter of a new type is under construction at the Chapra Jail. Messrs. Bolton and Company have erected one of their filters as an experiment at the Buxar Jail.

Government has recently issued instructions to try the Pasteur-Chamberland filter at two of the jails which have shown the worst mortality during the year—Motihari and Naya Dumka. If the accounts of this filter are justified by the result, we may hope to find through it a solution of the great and difficult problem of providing a perfectly pure supply of drinking water, an object which has received the closest attention of Government and of the Jail Department for many years, though not hitherto with any complete success.

27. Clothing.—Medical officers have freely exercised the discretion given them of increasing the supply of clothing. The improvement of ventilation has also received consideration, and an important work with this object undertaken in opening up by arches the main building in the Presidency Jail.

The remarks made in paragraphs 90—95 of the Report appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be appropriate and judicious. Sir Charles Elliott cordially endorses the passage quoted below, and desires to record his warm commendation of the humane and zealous attention which Dr. Comins and his subordinate officers have paid to the health of the prisoners under their charge.

There is, I think, no detail connected with the daily life of prisoners in jail which has not been carefully considered and improved where possible with such funds as were available. The health of the prisoners has been bad during the year, but it is not for want of attention on the part of Medical Committees, the detailed reports of which have been forwarded to Government, and of jail officers who have throughout the year been sparing themselves no trouble and the Government no expense, not only to counteract the unusual bad health prevailing during 1894, but with the view of permanently reducing the sickness and mortality in Bengal jails. The reports on the extreme unhealthiness prevailing among the general population submitted by the Civil Surgeons of districts and the Medical Officers of jails show with what exceptional difficulties they had to contend.

The system of granting gratuities to Civil Hospital Assistants for especially good service has been continued, and Rs. 3,794-13-9 expended in this way during the year, as compared with Rs. 4,006-5-9 spent in 1893. A decrease is noticed, although considerably heavier duties have devolved upon this class of officers during 1894 on account of the prevalence of sickness.

28. Sickness and mortality.—The following table shows the mortality among prisoners for each year as well as for each decade from 1844 to 1894:—

From this statement it will be observed that although the death-rate for the year under report is considerably less than the average for the past 51 years, and than the averages of the first four decades of this period, it is higher than in any year since 1885. In this respect it corresponds with the deterioration in the health of the free population throughout the province. The Sanitary Commissioner's report shows that the general death-rate for Bengal was 34.88 in 1894, against 28.21 in 1893. Cholera was much more prevalent than in the preceding year, but the principal cause of disease and death was malarial fever which was extraordinarily prevalent in consequence of the late rain of 1893, and the heavy downfall of 1894. It is not to be wondered, therefore, that the jail returns of mortality should be disappointing, and the continuity of the decrease which has occurred with more or less steadiness during the last fifteen years should have been broken. The death-rate per mille rose from 32.3 to 47.1.

The daily average number of sick among prisoners of all classes rose from 642 in 1893 to 744 in 1894, while the proportionate number of admissions to hospital rose from 1,046 to 1,234. It is however pleasing to note that a remarkable improvement has occurred during the first four months of the present year. In January 1895 there were 29 deaths among convicts against 59 in January 1894, in February 1895, 31 deaths against 46 in 1894; in March 1895, 26 deaths against 32, the healthiest month of the year 1894; and in April 1895, 38 deaths against 57 in 1894.

20. Principal diseases causing sickness and death.—The following table shows the principal diseases from which prisoners suffered during the year:—

DISEASES.	Number of admissions to hospital.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille of deaths to admissions.
Dysentery and diarrhoea ...	6,107	314	51.41
Intermittent fever ...	5,533	4	0.72

33 per cent. were for diseases directly or indirectly of malarial origin. Considering that 56 per cent. of the patients came from Calcutta and its neighbourhood, and nearly 25 per cent. from Darjeeling, the Duars and the Terai, this proportion, which is 7 per cent. less than in the preceding year, is very much what might have been expected. The number of operations, including nine important, rose to 159, the largest yet recorded, against 94 in 1893 and 40 in 1892. It is satisfactory to note that all the cases were successful. There were six deaths during the year, two of the cases having been received in a moribund state. The percentage of deaths was 1·91, against 91 in 1893 and 2·16 in 1892.

4. The total income of the institution rose during the year from Rs. 29,526 in 1893 to Rs. 34,459-4-4, or by 16·7 per cent. Of this amount Rs. 33,353-4 were received from patients, Rs. 860 as subscriptions, Rs. 208-12-4 as interest, and Rs. 9-12 as miscellaneous receipts. The increase in income was entirely due to enhanced receipts from patients, and nearly half of it was contributed by patients of the second and third class, the other half being defrayed in equal proportions by the first and intermediate classes. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 27,367-11-7 in 1893 to Rs. 36,720-2-3, or by 34 per cent. The cost of diet increased from Rs. 9,925-12-8 to Rs. 16,889 8-8, or by 70 per cent., while the average daily cost per patient rose approximately from Re. 1·2 in 1893 to Re. 1·75 in the past year, being an increase of eight annas a head per day irrespective of differences of class. This great increase is not fully accounted for by the explanation given in the report as to the more expensive kinds of meat and milk provided, the general improvement in the diet scale and the general rise in the cost of living in Darjeeling. The Lieutenant-Governor understands, however, that as a result of more careful management the cost of diet is being reduced during the present year, and he trusts that in justice to the patients and out of regard to the popularity of the institution, the Committee will take this matter into careful consideration. The expenditure of the year exceeded the income by Rs. 2,260-13-11, and the credit balance was reduced by this amount in order to meet the deficit. The year closed with a credit balance of Rs. 7,816-0-6, against Rs. 10,076-14-5 in 1893.

5. The free cot for children was fully utilized during the year. It was occupied from the 19th May till the 8th November, during which period four children were admitted, who derived great benefit from their stay.

6. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Surgeon-Major R. Cobb, who was Superintendent during the most part of the year, and to the Managing Committee for their efficient management of the institution, which continues to be popular. Sir Charles Elliott is glad to learn that the superior establishment performed their respective duties satisfactorily.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1894.

POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 7th June 1895.

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1894.

The Reports for the two previous years and the Resolutions recorded thereon by Government.

Sir John Lambert, K.C.I.E., was in charge of the police of the town of Calcutta and its Suburbs throughout the year, with the exception of one month (from the 16th October to the 15th November), during which period Mr. A. B. Barnard, Deputy Commissioner, officiated for him. Mr. Barnard was on furlough from the 22nd March 1893 till the 22nd March 1894. During his absence Mr. H. E. C. Paget acted for him as Deputy Commissioner.

2. The total number of offences, cognizable and non-cognizable, reported in the town of Calcutta and its suburbs during 1894 and the four preceding years, is shown in the following table:—

Town	45,878	48,569	47,765	36,552	41,512
Suburbs	12,669	11,871	11,472	11,242	13,014
Total	61,542	60,440	59,237	47,794	54,526

The total number of cases is still much less than in the four years preceding 1893 when the figures were abnormally low. There has, however, been an increase of 4,960 cases in the town and 1,772 in the suburbs, or 6,732 cases in all. Of this increase, 6,044 cases fall under the category of miscellaneous offences, viz., street offences, 1,163 cases; cruelty to animals, 2,272 cases;

Nature of offences.	Increase in cases.
Miscellaneous, cognizable	2,541
Ditto, non-cognizable	2,503
Penal Code, cognizable	243

municipal prosecutions, 2,274 cases; and offences under the Hackney Carriage Act, 1,066 cases, while 688 only come under the Penal Code. The table in the margin illustrates the nature of the increase according to cognizable and non-cognizable crime under miscellaneous and Penal Code offences.

2. The following table shows separately the results of cognizable and non-cognizable cases, and also the division of work between the Courts in the town and suburbs during the year:—

3. The total number of cases tried in the town and suburbs during the year was 42,559, of which 32,968 ended in conviction. Out of 27,513 cognizable cases sent up by the police, convictions were obtained in 25,707, or 93·4 per cent.; while out of 1,549 cognizable cases taken up by the Magistrates direct, convictions were obtained only in 662, or 42·7 per cent. The small ratio of convictions in the latter class of cases is ascribed to the fact that the complainants obtained process in haste, and afterwards came to an amicable settlement. The percentage of convictions in cases sent up by the police is highly creditable to the work of the force. The increase under Penal Code offences occurred under unimportant sections, chiefly of nuisances, while a decrease is observable under almost all heads of serious crime. Excluding offences under class VI (Other offences), the figures of truncrime for the three years 1892, 1893, and 1894 are 3,232, 3,326, and 3,225, respectively. The total number of arrests under all heads in the town and suburbs rose from 35,981 to 38,342, the ratio per cent. of convictions to arrests remaining almost the same, viz., 91 per cent. The increase occurred under minor heads as explained above. The large number of arrests for cruelty to animals indicates increased vigilance on the part of the Society for its prevention.

4. False cases.—Fifty-five false cases were brought in the town and 19 in the suburbs, compared with 71 and 28, respectively, in 1893. Compensation was awarded to the extent of Rs. 279 in 19 cases in the town, and Rs. 15 in two cases in the suburbs, or an average of Rs. 14 in all 21 cases.

5. Property stolen and recovered.—Property to the value of Rs. 1,83,787 was stolen in the town and suburbs during the year, compared with Rs. 1,27,776 in the previous year; and Rs. 1,25,215 worth, or 68·14 per cent., was recovered, against Rs. 92,938, or 72·73 per cent., in the previous year.

6. Cognizable offences in the town.—The number of true cognizable cases reported within the town rose from 21,232 in 1893 to 23,755 in 1894. Under classes I to VI there was a decrease of 586, while special and local laws account for an increase of 3,109 cases. The increase occurred principally under the following heads:—cruelty to animals (1,863), street offences (1,194), public and local nuisances (270), and other offences under the Police Act (153). Cases under the Hackney Carriage Act have, under the recent Act, been transferred to the returns of non-cognizable crime; and hence a decrease of 860 cases under this head.

There were nine cases of murder during the year, or the same number as in 1893. In two cases the offenders were transferred to other districts for trial; in two cases the murderers committed suicide, and in the five remaining cases four offenders were hanged, and one was transported for life. There were four cases of culpable homicide, three of which resulted in conviction; in the fourth case a second officer of a vessel was charged with having caused the death of the ship's boy by a long course of ill-treatment on the high seas, but was discharged on the evidence of the ship's doctor that the boy died of meningitis brought on by malarial fever. There was only one case of concealment of birth, and the evidence was insufficient to sustain a prosecution. The number of cases of grievous hurt fell from 35 to 31. There were four cases of administering drugs compared with no case in 1893, and four cases in 1892. Of these, three cases were very similar in nature, the victims being prostitutes, who were drugged with datura disguised in milk, with the object of stealing their ornaments; and all three cases resulted in conviction. There has been a large decrease in cases of hurt by dangerous weapons, 31 cases having occurred in 1894 against 55 in 1893, and an average of 43 in the five preceding years. Of 41 persons arrested in connection therewith, 27 were convicted. Twenty cases of kidnapping occurred. Of these, 17 were instituted on complaint made direct to the Court, none of which ended in a conviction, and three were sent up by the police, in two of which the offenders were convicted. Out of 64 persons placed on their trial for using criminal force to public servants or to females, 48 were convicted. There were two highway and four other robberies. Burglary and lurking house-trespass show a slight increase in number of cases, but a decrease in the amount of property stolen. On the other hand, thefts were less numerous than in 1893, but the amount of property stolen exceeded that shown in any of the five previous years. Out of 1,489 true cases of theft; 867 were detected and 943 persons convicted—an improvement over the average of the four years preceding; and the percentage of property recovered was 68·38, against an average of 65·77 for the same period. In 324 cases of criminal breach of trust, 249 persons were placed on their trial, and only 67 convicted. The Commissioner of Police says that in these cases settlements are usually made out of Court. In one case a post-office delivery peon was sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment for misappropriating Rs. 100, the amount of a money order entrusted to him for delivery. Out of 625 persons sent up under the Gambling Act, 597 were convicted, only one of whom was sentenced to a term of imprisonment. In cases of cruelty to animals, out of 6,898 persons arrested, 6,723, or over 97 per cent., were convicted. In street offences 9,521 persons, out of 9,706 placed before the Magistrate, or over 98 per cent., were convicted. These figures are highly satisfactory.

7. Non-cognizable offences in the town.—The number of offences reported true under the Penal Code and under special and local laws were 4,403 and 13,321, against 4,464 and 10,804, respectively, in 1893. While there was a decrease of 61 in Penal Code cases, there was an increase of 2,517 in cases under other laws. This increase occurred almost wholly under municipal laws (1,644 cases), and under the Hackney Carriage Act (802 cases). Of the municipal cases, the larger number were as usual instituted under section 90 of Act II (B.C.) of 1888, for exercising a trade or profession without a license.

Sir John Lambert describes how a new form of fraud, which has appeared of recent years in Calcutta, viz., cheating by bogus firms, is practised. The proprietors of these swindling establishments are all Bengalis, who adopt the names of European firms. They advertise widely in remoter parts of the country, stating that their terms are cash, and giving in some cases a fictitious address, and in other cases the private address of one of the conspirators, arrangements always being made with the local post-office to keep all letters and money-orders till called for.

8. Cognizable offences in the Suburbs.—The number of true cognizable cases rose from 6,733 to 7,016. The increase is almost entirely under special and local laws, and is due to greater activity in prosecutions under the Cruelty to Animals Act. There were four cases of murder, against seven in 1893; in three a sentence was passed of transportation for life; in the fourth case the accused has hitherto evaded arrest. Of 18 cases of grievous hurt, convictions were obtained in 13.

With the exception of intermittent fever and small-pox, there has been a rise in admissions under all diseases. The former hardly appears as a cause of death. Numerous admissions from remittent fever indicate the prevalence of the severer forms of malarial fever. The greatest increase is under the head dysentery and diarrhoea—an increase of 10·76 per cent. This disease continues to be the most prevalent and fatal in the jails of Bengal. Dr. Comins cites the opinions of many medical officers that malaria is a strong predisposing cause to dysentery. Dr. Buchanan, the Officiating Superintendent of the Bhagalpur Jail, says:—

“Dysentery, diarrhoea, anæmia, debility, scurvy, dropsy, enlarged spleen, malarial cachexia.—These are the eight chief diseases of jails all over India.....There is one common factor in all these diseases, viz. malaria. As regards jail mortality I am inclined to regard cases returned as deaths under these headings as having been practically identical in their clinical history. One or other disease or symptom may have been predominant. I must not be understood to say that diseases are identical, but I maintain that among fatal cases in jails it is often a matter of chance under which of these diseases the death is recorded, for the majority of fatal cases show a mixture of all the above in greater or lesser degree.”

Among the free population of the districts the chankidar, who is the reporter of deaths, would probably return all such deaths under the generic term, fever. It has often been remarked that more people die of dysentery in jail than among the free population, where it is a very uncommon cause of death, as shown by the mortuary statistics, and Sir Charles Elliott has little doubt that the true explanation is indicated here.

Dr. Comins adverts to the difficulty experienced by many Superintendents and Medical Officers of suppressing various methods of artificially inducing bowel-disorders which are frequently resorted to as a means of obtaining the freedom and privileges of the hospital. His experience agrees with what Sir Charles Elliott learnt when recently visiting Midnapore, where it was found necessary to exterminate croton plants, which ornamented the garden walks, because the prisoners plucked and ate the leaves in order to induce diarrhoea.

“In considering the mortality in jails in recent years,” Dr. Comins remarks:—“it must be remembered that influenza, a potent cause of present sickness and after depression of vitality, has been with us for some five years, whereas previous to this it was unknown to the present generation. The direct mortality from this cause is not great, but it has a weighty and long-continued influence in the general lowering of the standard of health and weight and in hastening the issue of other diseases, such as tubercle of the lungs.”

The number of admissions from cholera rose from 54 cases with 20 deaths in 1893 to 40 cases with 65 deaths in 1894. At Gaya 31 cases occurred, at Chalbassa 25. The outbreak at Gaya was the subject of a special report to Government, in which the figures shewed that superior immunity was enjoyed by those who had been protected by inoculation; and the Lieutenant-Governor issued orders authorising the Inspector-General to introduce inoculation on Professor Haffkine's system by the medical officers in charge of jails in cases where an outbreak of cholera has actually occurred and where the prisoners accept it voluntarily. The total number of deaths among convicts (including 13 moribund prisoners released under rule 488 of the Jail Code) was 754, against 541 in 1893. Of the 740 convicts who died in jail, 237, or 320·27 per mille, were received into jail in good health, and 232, or 313·51 per mille, in indifferent health, and 271, or 366·22 per mille, in bad health. These figures carry an important significance. Moreover, the number of deaths among under-trial prisoners increased in a much greater proportion than that among convicts, and is nearly double of that recorded in the previous year.

A Committee was appointed by this Government in October 1893 to visit and report upon certain selected unhealthy jails in the province. The committee so appointed visited ten jails—Dinajpur, Rangpur, Jalpaiguri, Jessore, Mymensing, Arrah, Chapra, Malda, Purnea, and Puri—and submitted full and detailed reports; and most of the recommendations made, have already been carried into execution.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

The reports of medical officers indicate that although on the whole the system has justified to a great extent the hopes formed, that prisoners in whom organic disease is not far advanced generally improve at these selected jails, and that in fact many lives have been thus saved by transfer from malarious districts, there is danger in the transfer of other prisoners whose disease may be unchecked or even aggravated by the change. It is hoped that the lessons taught in this respect will be carefully noted and will guide medical officers in making selections for transfer in future.

* There was a subsidiary jail at Naya Dumka before 1901.

† Barnat was a subsidiary jail before 1903.

The mortality of the Chaubassa Jail has recently been the subject of enquiry by a Committee of Medical Officers. Their report has not yet been received by Government, but the continuance of cholera leads the Lieutenant-Governor to think that there must have been some neglect to thoroughly disinfect the jail before it was again used when the cholera camp was broken up. At Dumka, out of nine deaths in jail, five prisoners were feeble old men between 60 and 75 years of age, and four prisoners admitted in bad health, or moribund, were sent straight to hospital. At Daltanganj the mortality is almost entirely due to an outbreak of cholera. At Balasore a Committee of Medical Officers have reported that a great proportion of the deaths were independent of jail life. The mortality at Chapra is accounted for by the increased sickness from all causes in the district. At Motihari the fluctuations in the death-rate per mille during the last five years have been remarkable. In 1890 it was 20·2, in 1891, 14·2, in 1892, 60·9, in 1893, 22·8, while in 1894 it has risen to 88·2. Probably there may be some cause of pollution to the water-supply, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the recently ordered Pasteur-Chamberland filter may be of especial use here; if other causes are at work, the question should be thoroughly considered by the Committee which is about to inspect this jail. In the Presidency (European) and Khulna jails, with an average convict population of 34·08 and 30·08, respectively, there were no deaths. Next in order of lowest mortality stand Krishnagar (6·9), Chittagong (7·0), and Berhampore (8·6).

31. Inspections.—Dr. Comins was absent from head-quarters on inspection and committee duty for 141 days in the year, and inspected 32 central and district jails and 10 subsidiary jails. The total number of inspections paid by non-official visitors fell from 107 to 89, but the number of visits paid by judicial and magisterial officers rose from 2,143 to 2,235. The Lieutenant-Governor inspected seven Central or District Jails, besides several subdivisional lock-ups.

32. Officers of the Department.—Dr. Comins thankfully acknowledges the minute care and attention devoted by the officers of his department to improvement in the conditions of life of the prisoners during an exceptionally trying year. Among the officers specially commended are:—Dr. R. Macrae at Gaya, Dr. A. H. Nott at Hazaribagh, Dr. U. C. Mukerji at Bankura, Mr. C. H. C. Sevonoks and Dr. P. O'Gorman at Midnapore, Dr. E. Bovill for his work at Bankipore, and Mr. A. D. Larymore. Mr. Larymore has continued to show his inventive skill by the manufacture of alarm signals and ranges for hospital kitchens, and has lately been devising improvements in filter and experimenting, in collaboration with Dr. Evans, the Chemical Examiner to Government, on the relative efficiency of filtering media.

Sir Charles Elliott desires in conclusion to record his high appreciation of Dr. Comins' services. His report is able and full, and testifies to the special care which he has devoted to all matters concerning the health of the prisoners and the preservation of their lives. This undoubtedly is the first object to be arrived at, and till it is more effectually secured than now, Sir Charles Elliott does not complain that the second object—the ensurance of really punitive labour—is somewhat overlooked, or receives less consideration than it deserves. But if the time comes when the prisoners are in a less unhealthy state on entering the jail, and when we can ensure a pure water-supply and other healthy conditions within the jail, undoubtedly we ought to realise larger results from their labour.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that a copy of this Resolution, and a copy of the Report, be submitted to the Government of India, in the Home Department.

Ordered also, that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE EDEN SANITARIUM FOR THE YEAR 1894.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 116T.—M.

READ—

The Report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium for the year 1894.

Read also—

The Report for the year 1893 and the Resolution recorded upon it.

The total number of admissions into the Sanitarium during the past ten years are shown in the table below:—

	1885.	1886.	1887.	1888.	1889.	1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Patients	192	273	344	336	370	316	364	370	334	314
Relatives and attendants ...	68	120	81	117	122	106	161	44	31	35
Total ...	260	393	425	453	492	422	525	414	365	349

The number of patients admitted was smaller than in any year since 1886, and was lower by 58 or 15·6 per cent. than the number admitted in 1892. As compared with the return of last year, the decline is slight, and is attributed to the fact that owing to extensive repairs the Sanitarium was not opened till the 15th April, being six weeks later than usual.

2. The number of residents in each class during the past four years is shown in the following statement:—

ADMISSIONS.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.
1	2	3	4	5
First class ...	75	59	51	51
Intermediate class ...	123	90	52	50
Second class ...	169	146	144	139
Third „ ...	140	119	112	109
Total ...	507	414	369	349

The figures show that there was no material change in the relative popularity of the various classes.

3. Of the 314 patients treated, 255 were adults (149 males and 106 females) and 59 children. The number of the latter decreased during the year under review as compared with the numbers admitted in 1893 and 1892, which were 71 and 72 respectively. The total number of patients who occupied free beds rose from 19 in 1893 to 30 during the year under review, but the provision made by Government for sending convalescent seamen from Calcutta to the Sanitarium was hardly utilised. Only three patients were sent to the Sanitarium at the cost of the Hospital Port Dues Fund, against 13 in the previous year. Eleven were received from the Medical College and General Hospitals, and sixteen were admitted by the Committee of the Sanitarium. Notwithstanding the fall in the number of admissions noticed above, the daily average number of patients treated rose from 31·23 in the preceding year to 45·5, the highest figure on record. In future the daily average number of relatives and attendants should also be given, as without it the exact daily cost of diet per head cannot be accurately calculated. The average number of days spent by each patient in the institution was 30·72, as compared with 24·94 in 1893 and 23·77 in 1892. Of the cases treated in the Sanitarium, about

21. Employment of prisoners and manufactures.—The average daily number of prisoners sentenced to labour on working days was 15,900 as compared with 16,219 of the previous year. The daily average of sick, convalescent, and infirm rose from 1,872 to 2,185; the number employed on unremunerative labour from 1,080 to 1,131; and the number employed on jail buildings from 719 to 1,032. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to see that the numbers employed on gardening have been steadily decreasing since 1892, although this is the healthiest and most natural form of labour for prisoners. The net cash earnings for the year were Rs. 4,90,536, showing a very satisfactory increase over the figure for the previous year (Rs. 3,81,086). The improvement was chiefly due to working off the stock of raw materials in the Bhagalpur jail at the end of 1893, whereby the cash earnings of that jail rose from Rs. 212 to Rs. 72,101.

				1894.	1893.
				Rs. A.	Rs. A.
Presidency	112 7	121 14
Buxar	51 8	51 6
Alipore	40 2	33 5
Bhagalpur	24 5	21 10
Midnapore	20 0	21 2
Rampur Boalia	8 12	9 2
Hazaribagh	6 6	8 8
Dacca	5 8	6 5

The ordinary profit in the Alipore jail rose from Rs. 58,051 to Rs. 69,759, while the aggregate value of articles supplied to other departments rose from Rs. 1,01,820 to Rs. 1,30,751. The decrease in the value of the work done in the Presidency jail, in the Press Department, which fell from Rs. 1,56,921 in 1893 to Rs. 1,39,310 in 1894, is ascribed to a smaller daily average of convicts employed and to their general bad health. In the Buxar central jail the earnings amounted to Rs. 55,493, as compared with Rs. 58,278 in the previous year; while the average per prisoner employed on manufactures rose from Rs. 90-6 to Rs. 98-6. The ordinary profit in the Bhagalpur jail rose from Rs. 26,611-11 in 1893 to Rs. 30,859-6 in 1894. In the Midnapore jail the figures show a decline from Rs. 20,816 to Rs. 15,727, due to the unhealthiness of the jail during the first-half of the year, all manufacturing operations having been stopped for a period of three months. The average profits of the district jails amounted to Rs. 68,710 as compared with Rs. 72,690 in 1893. The decrease is chiefly due to the exclusion of the Hazaribagh jail from the list of district jails.

23. Quinine and its distribution.—In the Resolution of the 6th December 1892, the Lieutenant-Governor decided, with the object of extending the use of quinine among the poorer classes of Bengal, so liable to the ravages of fever, to supply the drug from the Government Factory at Darjeeling, and have it made up in packets of 5 grains each by jail labour for distribution through the agency of post offices and other public offices. At first it was arranged to have the packets prepared at the Hazaribagh Reformatory School, but the industry was soon transferred to the Alipore jail, where it has since been carried on. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently in a separate Resolution reviewed the results of the scheme during the first two years of its operation, considering the sales month by month in juxtaposition to the corresponding monthly returns of mortality from fever, and district by district relatively to the prevalence of fever. The figures furnished in this report supplement the information then before Government and further establish the success of the scheme. At the Alipore central jail the industry has given daily employment to 17·5 adolescents. The number of powders filled and packed was 2,917,526, and the cash and credits realised amounted to Rs. 31,832-13, as compared with Rs. 18,077-12 in 1893. The total number of post offices supplied increased from 2,272 to 2,321, and the profits amounted to Rs. 5,091. This surplus should either be absorbed in providing a better description of paper for the envelopes, or in allowing a higher commission to postmasters and other agents for sale.

24. Subsidiary Jails.—There were 85 subsidiary jails, the number remaining the same as during the previous year. Nine of these are reported not to have been visited the prescribed number of times by the Subdivisional Officers. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that the Khond Mahal, Gai-banda, Howrah, Buxar, and Madhubani jails again appear in this list, in spite of the orders passed in last year's Resolution, and requests that the District Magistrates concerned will take measures to see that such neglect does not recur. The number of convicts fell from 16,843 to 16,130, the daily average confined also decreasing from 377 to 363. Of 12 civil prisoners confined in subsidiary jails during the year, 6 were released and 6 transferred. Nineteen escapes were effected by convicts and under-trial prisoners during the year, as compared with 12 in 1893 and 18 in 1892. Of 11 convicts who escaped, 9 were recaptured. The total expenditure on subsidiary jails fell from Rs. 1,10,027 to Rs. 1,09,923; while the average cost per prisoner remained about the same. The net profits from manufactures rose from Rs. 4,183 to Rs. 4,238.

25. Scales of diet.—Early in the year the sickness prevalent in the Midnapore Jail attracted the attention of Government and led to the sanction of full labouring diet to the prisoners of that jail, as well as of 24 subsidiary jails selected as receiving prisoners in an ill-nourished condition. Special attention was directed by Superintendents and medical officers during the year to the subject of diet scales, resulting in the substitution of a better quality of food and in other improvements. The jail gardens have in most cases been able to supply an abundance of good vegetables and condiments, and jailors have been encouraged to give nutritious vegetables to the fullest extent as an addition to the ordinary diet. The cultivation of crops within the inner enclosure of jails has been discouraged, and the more sanitary system of extra mural cultivation adopted where sufficient space is available.

26. Water-supply.—Dr. Comins has furnished an interesting account of some of the many improvements effected and undertaken in this direction during the year; and the Lieutenant-Governor invites a still fuller report in future years of all that has been done towards this reform with the importance of which he is glad to see that the Inspector-General is as deeply impressed as His Honour himself is. Attention has been paid during the year to all the branches of this question, the source of the supply, the manner in which it is brought into the jail, the system adopted for boiling and for filtering it, and the measures taken for its distribution to the cook room and the wards, without manual contamination. The annual chemical analysis of the water used in jails has been carried out. Four of the central jails—Alipore, Presidency, Bhagalpur, and Dacca—and three district jails—Burdwan, Darjeeling, and Arrah—are already supplied by direct communication from the water-works of the town. Other jails, not so fortunate, derive their water-supply from rivers or tanks, by pump or otherwise, but the majority of small jails still draw their water from wells inside the premises. Dr. Comins summarises the measures taken in this important matter as follows:—

The supply of pumps to jails requiring them has been continued, and the Alipore Jail has commenced to manufacture and send out powerful pumps. As first attempts they have proved somewhat clumsy and hard to work, but these defects will disappear with more experience, and it will be a great advantage to be able to manufacture pumps, the largest of which are expensive articles to purchase. Tube wells have been purchased and supplied, but have failed in some instances. They have done well in Purnea, Dumka, and Rangpur, and will, I think, be valuable for sandy soils. The water-lift invented by Mr. Larymore has also been sent to some jails. The piping for drinking water has been extended and hydrants set up, pumps connected by pipe with patent boilers and filters. The Alipore patent boiler has been supplied and set up in other jails, and there are few jails now which do not possess one. At the Alipore Jail a masonry reservoir to hold 14,000 gallons has been made, which will hold two days' supply in case of any accident to the main or at the pumping station. The large masonry reservoir and settling tank at Arrah have been arched over. Other improvements effected during the year are the supply of water-tight covers to wells, iron water-carts, cans for distribution especially constructed to avoid contamination by hand, iron drums with padlock and tap for hospitals and sleeping wards for the cleanly storage of drinking water, pipes with taps over the cooking cauldrons obviating the necessity of carrying by hand. At Krishnagar a new well has been dug, and a patent boiler and filter are in process of erection connected by pipes with the cookshed. At Arrah the wells not in use are being filled up, there being no further use for them now that the municipal water is introduced. The best method of filtration has continued to receive attention, and several new filters have been tried. A masonry filter of a new type is under construction at the Chapra Jail. Messrs. Bolton and Company have erected one of their filters as an experiment at the Buxar Jail.

Government has recently issued instructions to try the Pasteur-Chamberland filter at two of the jails which have shown the worst mortality during the year—Motihari and Naya Dumka. If the accounts of this filter are justified by the result, we may hope to find through it a solution of the great and difficult problem of providing a perfectly pure supply of drinking water, an object which has received the closest attention of Government and of the Jail Department for many years, though not hitherto with any complete success.

27. Clothing.—Medical officers have freely exercised the discretion given them of increasing the supply of clothing. The improvement of ventilation has also received consideration, and an important work with this object undertaken in opening up by arches the main building in the Presidency Jail.

The remarks made in paragraphs 90—95 of the Report appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be appropriate and judicious. Sir Charles Elliott cordially endorses the passage quoted below, and desires to record his warm commendation of the humane and zealous attention which Dr. Comins and his subordinate officers have paid to the health of the prisoners under their charge.

There is, I think, no detail connected with the daily life of prisoners in jail which has not been carefully considered and improved where possible with such funds as were available. The health of the prisoners has been bad during the year, but it is not for want of attention on the part of Medical Committees, the detailed reports of which have been forwarded to Government, and of jail officers who have throughout the year been sparing themselves no trouble and the Government no expense, not only to counteract the unusual bad health prevailing during 1894, but with the view of permanently reducing the sickness and mortality in Bengal jails. The reports on the extreme unhealthiness prevailing among the general population submitted by the Civil Surgeons of districts and the Medical Officers of jails show with what exceptional difficulties they had to contend.

The system of granting gratuities to Civil Hospital Assistants for especially good service has been continued, and Rs. 3,794-13-9 expended in this way during the year, as compared with Rs. 4,006-5-9 spent in 1893. A decrease is noticed, although considerably heavier duties have devolved upon this class of officers during 1894 on account of the prevalence of sickness.

28. Sickness and mortality.—The following table shows the mortality among prisoners for each year as well as for each decade from 1844 to 1894:—

From this statement it will be observed that although the death-rate for the year under report is considerably less than the average for the past 51 years, and than the averages of the first four decades of this period, it is higher than in any year since 1885. In this respect it corresponds with the deterioration in the health of the free population throughout the province. The Sanitary Commissioner's report shows that the general death-rate for Bengal was 34.88 in 1894, against 28.21 in 1893. Cholera was much more prevalent than in the preceeding year, but the principal cause of disease and death was malarial fever which was extraordinarily prevalent in consequence of the late rain of 1893, and the heavy downfall of 1894. It is not to be wondered, therefore, that the fall returns of mortality should be disappointing, and the continuity of the decrease which has occurred with more or less steadiness during the last fifteen years should have been broken. The death-rate per mille rose from 32.3 to 47.1.

The daily average number of sick among prisoners of all classes rose from 642 in 1893 to 744 in 1894, while the proportionate number of admissions to hospital rose from 1,046 to 1,234. It is however pleasing to note that a remarkable improvement has occurred during the first four months of the present year. In January 1895 there were 29 deaths among convicts against 59 in January 1894, in February 1895, 31 deaths against 46 in 1894; in March 1895, 26 deaths against 32, the healthiest month of the year 1894; and in April 1895, 38 deaths against 57 in 1894.

WORKS OF PUBLIC UTILITY CONSTRUCTED DURING THE YEAR 1894 FROM PRIVATE CONTRIBUTIONS.

No. 3089M.P.I. •

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Mis. Pub. Impts.

Dated Calcutta, the 11th June 1895.

READ—

Statement of works of public utility constructed by private individuals in the several districts in Bengal during the year 1894, and statement of similar works constructed during the year 1893 and the Resolution thereon.

REMARKS.—The following is a distribution of works of public utility which were constructed during the year 1894 at a cost of Rs. 3,46,424-3:—

		Number of works.	Cost.
			Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.

3. The following works deserve special notice:—

Public Buildings.—The contributions under this head amount to Rs. 10,630, and show a considerable decrease, as compared with the figures of the previous year. Of this sum, Rs. 3,070 were raised by general subscription through Shadullah Bepari and Ashraf Ali for a mosque near the Brahmanbaria Police Station, Tippera district; Batal Pramanik of Haripur gave Rs. 1,800 for a mosque at Haripur, Rangpur district; Dengu Mandal Rs. 1,500 for a mosque at Ujan Chandrapara, Mymensingh district; Chammon Kalal, Rs. 1,400 for a mosque at Gadar, Hazaribagh district; Maharaja Girija Nath Rai Bahadur of Dinajpur, Rs. 1,200 for a hospital building at Raiganj; Raja Sites Chandra Pande, Rs. 860 for an addition to the Boarding House for students at Pakour, Sonthal Parganas district; Babu Govinda Chandra Chatterjee of Hooghly, Rs. 800 for a Charitable Dispensary at Bhandarhati.

Roads.—A total sum of Rs. 2,850 was contributed for roads by the following gentlemen:—

His Highness the Maharaja of Kuch Bihar, Rs. 1,150 for maintaining portions of the road to Haldibari in Patgram and of the Morangahat road; Madan Mohan Shaha, Rs. 1,000 for a road from Ganipur to Chaumuhanihat, Noakhali district; Karuna Kanta Shaha, Rs. 700 for a road between Kagoil and Pirgacha, Bogra district.

Bridges.—On this class of work Rs. 12,716 were expended thus:—

His Highness the Maharaja of Kuch Bihar Rs. 6,500 for an iron bridge at Patgram, Jalpaiguri district; Gadadhar Pramanik, Rs. 2,500 for a wooden bridge over the Dhanlai river, Rangpur district; Babu Srikanta Prasad Rs. 1,300 for a culvert at Baniapur, Saran district; Babu Dharam Chand Lal, Rs. 816 for repairs to the Purnea city bridge; Mr. A. W. N. Watt, Rs. 800 for a bridge at Tippera, Champaran district; Hari Prasad Sarkar, Rs. 800 for a pukka bridge at Nasaratpur, Dinajpur district.

Ghats.—The contributions for ghats stand at Rs. 6,587, of which the following are details:—

Babu Chintamani De gave Rs. 3,500 for a pukka ghat on the Hooghly river at Ramkrishnapur, Howrah district; Srimati Mahakum Kumari gave Rs. 2,387 for a bathing ghat at Deoghur town, Sonthal Parganas district; Babu Jivan Chandra Darbesh of Meherpur gave Rs. 700 for masonry steps at the bathing ghat on the river Bhairub, at Meherpur, Nadia district.

Tanks.—The total expenditure on tanks was Rs. 1,96,627-8, of which the following are the principal donations:—

Rani Hemanta Kumari Debi, Rajshahi district, Rs. 14,210; Birj Mohun Lal, Monghyr district, Rs. 10,000; Taki Pramanik, Rajshahi district, Rs. 8,000; Babu Bodh Sahu, Champaran district, Rs. 6,000; Babus Narahari Dalal and Mukunda Dalal, Birbhum district, Rs. 3,000; Babu Uma Charan Ghose, Faridpur district, Rs. 3,000; Babu Babu Jan Jha, Darbhanga district, Rs. 3,000; Babu Shama Charan Mukerjee, Nadia district, Rs. 2,600; Babu Mahabir Prasad, Muzaffarpur district, Rs. 2,000; Babus Kuraram Acharya and Krishnadhan Naik, Burdwan district, Rs. 2,000 each; Babu Satis Chandra Sikdar, Faridpur district, Rs. 2,000.

Wells.—Seven wells were sunk at a cost of Rs. 4,266-11. Nowrangi Lal Dass Chaudhuri gave Rs. 1,166-11 for a pukka well at Matigara Hat, Darjeeling district: Rs. 1,100 were contributed for two pukka wells in the Monghyr district: Rs. 1,000 for two ring wells in the Mymensingh district: Rs. 1,000 for two pukka wells in the Bhagalpur district.

Irrigation Channels.—Naba Kumar Bagis gave Rs. 1,500 for a khal in the Khulna district.

Jungle clearing.—Rupees 500 were contributed for jungle clearing at Bikrampur, Nadia district.

RESOLUTION.—The total amount contributed for works of public utility during the year 1894 shows a marked falling off as compared with the operations of the two previous years; the Lieutenant-Governor much regrets that this diminution should have occurred and trusts that this downward tendency will not continue. To those who have displayed their liberality and public spirit. His Honour desires that the thanks of the Government may be conveyed.

Formal letters of acknowledgment will be forwarded by the Government to those who have constructed works costing Rs. 500 each and upwards. The usual acknowledgment will be conveyed to the others by the Commissioner or the Magistrate of the Division.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, and to all Commissioners of Divisions; to the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur; to all Superintending Engineers of Public Works Circles in Bengal; and to the Inspectors of Works, Eastern and Central Circles and Bihar Division, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Revenue and Judicial Departments of this Government for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution and the statement be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. J. JOHNSTONE,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,

FEEDER ROADS TO THE EASTERN BENGAL STATE RAILWAY SYSTEM.

No. 3090C.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Communications.

*Dated Darjeeling, the 11th June 1895.RESOLUTION.

READ—

Government of India, Public Works Department Resolution No. 94A.G., dated the 4th June 1894, paragraph 5, in which the Government of India express a hope that works of communication, particularly feeder roads to Railways, will have the first claim on assignments for expenditure on Public Works.

THE accompanying lists of proposed feeder roads to the Eastern Bengal State Railway, and Bengal Central Railway, have been prepared with the joint assistance of the Manager of the Eastern Bengal State Railway and the Commissioners of the Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions, and of the Agent and Chief Engineer of the Bengal Central Railway. The Feeder Roads have been arranged in their order of importance, so far as that can be ascertained. The Lieutenant-Governor has now resolved to depute a Public Works Department officer with a suitable staff to survey the proposed roads and prepare estimates of their cost, and when this has been done the resulting information will be made public, and grants will be made from Provincial Revenues, as far as possible, which it is hoped the District Boards may be able to supplement, for the construction of the roads. The object of publishing this information is to make it known to the public what roads are considered by those best acquainted with local conditions to be valuable as feeders, in the event of any one being inclined to undertake the construction of feeder railways along the lines indicated, and to propose terms for their construction which may be acceptable to the Supreme Government under the rules for the construction of feeder lines.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioners, Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions; to the Manager, Eastern Bengal State Railway, and to the Agent and Chief Engineer, Bengal Central Railway, for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0.5 higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS
TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA-
THE 8TH OF JUNE 1895.

There has been little of importance to record during the past week, as regards atmospheric changes, as comparatively calm settled weather has prevailed over the Bay and, with the exception of local thunder-storms, in Bengal also. Pressure was above the normal at the beginning of the week, and by slow upward changes the excess became more pronounced over Bengal than over the Bay, so that a much more uniform arrangement was established than usually obtains in the early part of June. This high pressure in the north led to changes in Bengal which began in the east and extended westwards. The southerly winds in Lower Bengal became easterly, and, as generally occurs when this change takes place, local disturbances caused rain to fall over a great part of the province.

The rainfall was confined to East and North Bengal at the beginning of the week, and temperature was above the normal at all except a few stations, chiefly in Assam and North Bengal. The excess in temperature increased towards the west of the province, where there was still a difference from the normal of more than 5°. The local storms were very numerous in the eastern half of the province on Monday, the 3rd, and a considerable fall of temperature followed the rain, and, as at the end of last week, excessive temperatures were confined to Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and Bihar. During the past few weeks when temperature, fell in the east of the province, the change has never extended over the western districts, but on this occasion, probably because of the continued high pressure over the northern districts and the steady easterly winds in the south of the province, the local storms continued for some days and gradually extended westwards. On the 4th temperature was still relatively low in the east and above the normal in the west, especially in Chota Nagpur and the west of Bihar. On the 5th defect had increased, and the excessive temperatures were confined to Chota Nagpur and Orissa. On the 6th there was defect over the whole province, the greatest being in the west of Bihar.

While this series of thunder-storms was passing westwards over the western half of the province, weather conditions were becoming more settled in the east. Rainfall had almost entirely ceased in Assam and East and North Bengal on the 6th, and temperature, with the clearing skies, was rising. This change also extended westward. On the 6th light showers were fairly general in the western districts, but on the 7th rainfall was more scattered, and chiefly in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and the west of South-West Bengal, and on the 8th there was very little rain anywhere. The rising temperature followed the clearing skies, and mean temperature at the end of the week was again above the normal in all districts except Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and South-West Bengal, where there was defect of about 2°.

Pressure.—Changes have been of little importance throughout the week. A uniform distribution has prevailed over the Bay owing to a rather large excess over Bengal, and of diminishing amount towards the south. This arrangement has had a very apparent influence on the weather because of the steadiness with which it has remained from day to day. Mean pressure is above the normal in all districts, by amounts varying from .08 inch in Orissa to .12 inch in the north of the province.

Temperature was high over the whole province at the beginning of the week. The local storms which began in the east of the province caused a fall of temperature which gradually spread over all districts. Towards the end of the week temperature was recovering, and averages on the last day of the week were below the normal only in the south-western districts. The means for the week do not differ much from the normal, being nearly 2° above in Chota Nagpur, half a degree above in Orissa and Bihar, almost normal in East Bengal, and 1° below in the other districts.

Rainfall.—Very little rain fell on the first day of the week. The numerous thunder-storms during the following four days caused fairly general rainfall over a great part of the province. The last two days were almost rainless except in the south-western districts, where showers were still falling. The averages are all below the normal for the larger subdivisions, by more than 1 inch in East and North Bengal and by about a quarter of an inch in the other districts. East Bengal received 2.51 inches, North Bengal 2.16 inches, South-West Bengal 1.78 inches, Orissa 1 inch, Chota Nagpur .7 inch, and Bihar about half an inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 8th of June 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

No. 106P.—D.

JAILS.

Dated Darjeeling, the 3rd June 1895.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department for the year 1894.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1892 and 1893, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

Surgeon-Lieutenant Colonel D. W. D. Comins held charge of the Department throughout the year. His report, which bears date 1st May 1895, was received in the Secretariat on the 15th May, and this delay has made it impossible to prepare the Government Resolution by the date when it is due to the Government of India, the 1st June. The chief administrative event of the year was the passing of the Prisons Act and Prisoners' Act in the Supreme Legislative Council, a result of the recommendations of the Jail Committee appointed in 1888 to report upon certain matters connected with jail administration in India. The law being altered, it was necessary to take in hand the revision of the Jail Code, and Mr. W. Leonard, Superintendent of the Bhagalpur central jail, was placed on special duty for the purpose.

2. Judicial Statistics.—The only change made in the classes of jails during the year was the conversion of the Hazaribagh district jail into a second class central jail. The following table shows the total number of prisoners of a classes confined in the jails and subsidiary jails of the province during 1894 and the preceding ten years:—

	1884.	1885.	1886.	1887.	1888.	1889.	1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.

Total discharged ...	80,210	81,131	78,413	77,083	80,361	83,576	80,000	86,546	94,338	92,106	92,440
Balance at the end of the year ...	15,354	15,076	14,620	13,210	13,985	15,048	15,207	16,000	17,704	17,530	16,822

The most important statistic is that which shows the number of persons sentenced to imprisonment and admitted direct to jail, year by year. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that the decrease in this figure, which began in 1893, has been maintained in 1894, and there is some reason to connect this decrease, as well as the previous increase, with the price of food.

Year.	Number of convicts admitted direct.	Per rupee.
	Srs.	ch.
1st December 1887 ...	29,942	20 5
Ditto 1888 ...	30,995	17 0
Ditto 1889 ...	33,512	10 15
Ditto 1890 ...	32,886	17 5
Ditto 1891 ...	31,814	14 0
Ditto 1892 ...	38,538	13 9
Ditto 1893 ...	37,205	14 5
Ditto 1894 ...	36,178	16 10

A statement showing the average retail price of common rice for the whole province on the 31st December for each year from 1887 to 1894, and also the number of convicts admitted direct in each year, is given in the margin. The gradient which would represent in a diagram the numbers annually admitted direct into prison agrees closely with that which would represent the scale of prices. Food rose in value from 1887 to 1889, and the numbers admitted increased year by year. In 1890 food was cheaper (as shown by the figures on the 31st December), and the numbers admitted in that year fell off. It grew dearer in 1891 and again in 1892, and the numbers admitted in those years show a continuous increase. Prices fell again in 1893 and 1894, and the numbers sentenced to imprisonment fell with them.

3. The following table shows those districts which have furnished the largest numbers of convictions with the population and ratio of convictions per mille of population:—

DISTRICT.	Population.	Number of convictions.	Ratio per mille of population.
1	2	3	4
Mymensingh ...	3,472,186	1,677	·48
Faridpur ...	1,797,320	1,600	·89
24 Parganas ...	1,892,033	1,520	·80
Calcutta ...	681,560	1,384	2·03
Monghyr ...	2,036,021	1,352	·66
Sarun ...	2,467,477	1,324	·53
Dacca ...	2,420,656	1,305	·53
Sonthal Parganas ...	1,754,196	1,256	·71
Muzaffarpur ...	2,711,445	1,162	·42
Champerun ...	1,859,465	1,109	·59
Backergunge ...	2,153,965	1,097	·50
For whole Province	71,346,987	36,178	·50

The Inspector-General should in future reports always show the proportion of convictions to the population of the district as has been done in the above table; it is obvious that a mere statement of the number of convictions gives a very misleading impression of the incidence of crime,

4. Releases.—The following table gives a comparative view of the number of releases under the various heads during the last eight years:—

	1887.	1888.	1889.	1890.	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.

.. on medical grounds ...	23	33	37	39	103	140	44	67*
.. on other grounds ...	6,481	89	2	0	9	6	9	5

* Excluding 13 moribund prisoners who were released under Rule 498 of the Jail Code and included as deaths.

The divergence in the numbers under the heads "On expiry of sentence" and "Under remission rules" is partly due to the inclusion of one-year prisoners under the mark system. The number of releases on appeal shows a small increase over the figures for the previous year; but the figures are smaller than those of the three years preceding 1893. In this respect Malda again heads the list with 12·71 per cent. of releases on appeal. The number of prisoners transported from the Bengal jails rose from 120 to 127. The number of executions shows a steady decrease during the last four years, the figures being 37 in 1891, 32 in 1892, 30 in 1893, and 20 in 1894.

5. Classification of convicts.—Out of the 36,178 convicts admitted direct into jail during the year, 20,719, or 57·27 per cent., were Hindus, 13,702, or 37·87 per cent., Muhammadans, and 369, or 1·02 per cent., Christians. The number of juveniles under 16 years of age admitted to jail was 478 against 458 in 1893. The reformatory schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh remained full throughout the year. Fifty additional cubicles were constructed at the latter institution. The total number of female convicts admitted direct to jail was 1,444 as compared with 1,510 and 1,484 in 1893 and 1892, respectively. The following table shows the number of convicts sentenced to various terms of imprisonment and the respective percentage to total of convicts for the two years 1893 and 1894. It will be seen that the ratios are remarkably similar:—

LENGTH OF SENTENCE.	1894.		1893.

6. Reconvictions.—While the total number of admissions to jail has shown a decrease, the number of reconvictions has risen from 3,888 in 1892 to 3,969 in 1893 and 4,086 in 1894, the ratio per cent. to total convictions being 10·08, 10·65, and 11·29. The Inspector-General ascribes this increase to the effect of the introduction of the Bertillon system, and the increased attention paid to the identification of prisoners. There has been steady and satisfactory progress in this respect since 1891, and it is hoped that the co-operation of the jail authorities with the police will lead to still further improvement in future years. From information supplied by the Inspector-General of Police it appears that in 1893 (from July till December) 23 reconvictions were directly due to the identification afforded by this system of measurement, while no less than 143 old convicts were detected by this means in 1894. The increase shown in the number of persons imprisoned in default of giving security for their good behaviour during the preceding three years has not been maintained in 1894, the number having fallen from 1,761 to 1,723.

7. Sentences.—The number of sentences of simple and rigorous imprisonment fell from 2,965 and 33,983 to 2,647 and 33,176, respectively. Of the total admissions, 32,121 had sentences not exceeding one year, and 4,057 sentences exceeding one year. The ratios per cent. to total convictions are thus 88·79 and 11·21 as compared with 87·97 and 12·03 of the previous year. The corresponding ratios throughout the whole of British India during 1893 were 85·99 and 14·01, respectively.

8. Under-trial prisoners.—The total number of under-trial prisoners admitted during the year was 31,507 as compared with 32,307 in 1893 and 33,525 in 1892. Of the total number admitted, including those remaining in jail on the first day of the year, 16,593, or 50·92 per cent., were finally convicted, and 12,596, or 38·65 per cent., released. In 1893, 49·81 per cent. were convicted and 40·41 per cent. released. As illustrating the general unhealthiness of the year, it is noted that 61 under-trial prisoners died as compared with 32 in 1893. Eight under-trial prisoners escaped from subsidiary jails, of whom four were recaptured. The figures for 1893 were,—four escapes, three recaptures. The average detention of under-trial prisoners in Sessions cases was the same as in the preceding year, viz., 39·99 days; but Sir Charles Elliott is very disappointed to notice an increase in the average detention in the Magisterial Courts cases, from 10·98 to 11·96 days. The following table shows the districts where detention in trials before Magistrates was longest, with the total numbers of prisoners under trial, contrasted with the figures for 1893:—

	Total prisoners under trial.	Average detention in days.	Total prisoners under trial.	Average detention in days.
1	2	3	4	5
Dinajpur ...	284	27·22	311	7·92
Durbhanga ...	290	18·53	250	12·64
Chaibassa ...	618	17·17	499	9·86
Barisal ...	477	15·67	528	12·86
Hooghly ...	248	14·80	281	10·40
Mymensingh ...	506	14·67	531	11·06

The comparison here afforded is not creditable to the districts concerned, and discloses remissness on the part of Magistrates in a duty so constantly inculcated. The figures for Dinajpur are particularly bad, and such as to demand a special enquiry by the Commissioner. The shortest detention occurred in Gaya (3·77), Balasore (7·55), and Khulna (7·86).

9. Civil Prisoners.—Fifty-seven civil prisoners remained in confinement at the close of 1893, and 747 were admitted during 1894, against 751 in the previous year. Of this total, seven were transferred, two died, and 731 were released, leaving 64 in confinement at the end of the year.

10. State Prisoners.—The Lushai prisoner, Nikoala, who was confined in the Alipore central jail, died on the 3rd September 1894. Two Lushai Chiefs, Thangula and Dakola, were detained in the Hazaribagh jail throughout the year. Two others, Ropui Lieni and Lalthuama, were admitted into the Chittagong jail in April 1894. The Government of India have recently sanctioned the transfer of Thangula and Dakola to Assam and Chittagong respectively. Ropui Lieni has died in the Chittagong jail since the close of the year.

11. Jail Buildings.—Excluding a sum of Rs. 1,433 expended upon the Presidency Jail Press, Rs. 1,353 upon the reformatory schools at Hazaribagh and Alipore, and Rs. 58 on the Jagatsingpur hajat (or in all Rs. 2,844), the total actual expenditure during 1894 was Rs. 79,469 as compared with Rs. 84,310 of the previous year. The grant for major works for the year 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 80,000; of this, Rs. 19,041 only are shown as expended up to the close of the calendar year for which this report is submitted. This would seem to indicate that sufficient effort had not been made to utilise the whole grant; but the figures for the financial year 1894-95, to which these grants apply, procured from the Public Works Department, show that, as far as the expenditure has been fully accounted for, Rs. 73,332 had been spent up to March 1895. Certain items of this total are, however, still subject to alteration.

Among the more important works undertaken or completed during the year were the construction of additional wards in the Bhagalpur central jail and the reconstruction of the old workshops in the Alipore jail. The latter work, commenced in 1893, was finished at a total cost of Rs. 24,205, exclusive of work done by the Sibpur workshops. Rupees 14,000 were sanctioned for a sleeping barrack in the Comilla jail, and Rs. 7,360 for making additions and alterations in the Presidency jail. The Lieutenant-Governor has put a stop to the system hitherto observed of allotting separate grants for major and minor works, and has now given the Department a lump sum of one lakh for new works, which the Inspector-General can distribute as he likes among works the importance of which has been admitted and for which administrative sanction has been given.

The question of providing separate compartments, or cubicles, for sleeping has been under the careful consideration of this Government, and plans, specifications and estimates for four different kinds of cubicles have been prepared by the Department of Public Works. Two of these have been selected, and will be tried in the new ward to be constructed in the Bhagalpur jail, as well as in one of the new wards to be made in the Hazaribagh jail. A series of new standard plans, embodying all the latest improvements suggested, has also been drawn up in the Public Works Department for an intermediate jail, a cellular jail, cubicles, latrines, a roof ventilator, and a new pattern grating.

12. Guards.—The Inspector-General raises the question of the pay of warders and the difficulties experienced by certain Superintendents of central Jails to obtain suitable men as recruits. He remarks upon this subject :—

“Now that the pay of sepoys has been increased and the pay and position of the police improved, it must be expected that the warder service will not be sought after unless similar advantages are obtained. As a result of the drain on central jails, the warders sent to district jails have often been untrained, wanting in discipline, and with an insufficient knowledge of their duties, but as a body the warder guard have behaved well.”

His Honour will be prepared to give consideration to this matter if the Inspector-General submits, after full enquiry, his proposals in a definite shape.

The number of criminal offences committed by the warder guard fell from 45 to 34, and departmental offences were also fewer. The total number of punishments inflicted during the year was 1,863 as compared with 1,879 in 1893 and 1,935 in 1892. The Inspector-General reports that the Lieutenant-Governor's wishes expressed in the Resolution on the Jail Report for 1892 regarding the drilling of warders along with the police have been carried out fully whenever the distance between their respective parade grounds has not proved an insurmountable difficulty.

13. Escapes.—The number of escapes among convicts fell from 26 in 1893 to 21 in 1894. Of these, 8 were from district jails, 2 from intermediate jails, and 11 from subsidiary jails. Ten prisoners escaped from inside and 11 from outside the jails, as compared with 12 and 14, the corresponding figures for 1893. Four warders are reported to have been criminally prosecuted for negligence in this connection, and sentenced to terms of imprisonment, ranging from 18 months to 15 days. Of the 21 convicts who escaped, 17 were recaptured, besides 5 who had escaped in previous years. Of those who escaped, 17 had sentences under one year, one of seven years and over, and three were life convicts.

14. Prison discipline.—The following table shows the nature of offences committed by convicts:—

			OFFENCES DEALT WITH BY SUPERINTENDENT.
			A.	B.	C.	D.	E.
	Daily average population.	Offences dealt with by Criminal Courts.	Relating to work.	Relating to prohibited articles.	Relating to assaults, mutiny and escapes.	All other breaches of Jail rules.	Total.
1894 ...	18,080	53	20,334	4,760	661	15,540	41,295
1893 ...	16,427	6	24,799	4,157	546	15,574	45,076

The figures for 1893 have been supplied in this office, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that all tables of this kind in the Report should furnish the corresponding figures for the previous year. There has been a considerable decrease in offences relating to work, and an increase under the head "Prohibited articles," said to be due to the larger number of prisoners employed outside the jail and on buildings. Exclusive of warnings, the total number of punishments was 29,983 as compared with 33,206 in 1893 and 34,694 in 1892. The total number of warnings was 11,312 against 11,871 in the previous year. The number of whippings was 277, and the decrease in the percentage to total punishments was marked, viz., from 0·97 in 1892 to 0·72 in 1893 and 0·67 in 1894. The jails which show the largest ratio in this respect are Jalpaiguri (3·77), Presidency, European (2·32), and Monghyr (2·15); the corresponding ratio for all British India was 1·85 in 1892 and 1·41 in 1893. There was only a single case of whipping in the Dacca central jail during the year. The total number of prisoners punished with fetters also shows a decrease from 10,418 in 1893 to 9,417 in 1894.

15. Convict officers, mark remissions, &c.—The convict officers, of whom on an average 937 were male and 13 female prisoners, are reported to have been of the greatest assistance in the preservation of discipline. The new mark rules, which give effect to one of the proposals made by the Jail Committee appointed in 1888, and which were adopted by the Government of India, came into force on the 1st January 1894. The chief innovation made by these rules is that they reduce the limit of sentence rendering a prisoner eligible for remission by marks from two years to one year.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the system of giving relief to destitute prisoners on release from the Claude Martin Fund was worked with care and success, and that 1,103 prisoners were relieved in this way from a sum of Rs. 2,500 placed at the Inspector-General's disposal. Besides this all prisoners receive, on their release from jail, a sum graduated according to the distance of their homes, to support them on the way. The careful disbursement of this subsistence allowance is a matter to which the Lieutenant-Governor in the course of his inspections has always attributed great importance, and he has insisted on the Civil Surgeons in charge personally seeing that the proper allowance under the rules, to enable the released prisoner to reach his home, is actually given.

16. Expenditure.—The gross expenditure on jails and subsidiary jails during the year and the nine previous years is shown in the following statement:—

The increase in expenditure is large, but the Lieutenant-Governor considers it is quite justified by the explanations given by the Inspector-General. The only head under which there is a decrease is that of supervision. The increases under the heads "Diet," "Hospital charges" and "Clothing" are satisfactory in view of the higher mortality of the year, which might otherwise have been ascribed to undue economy. The average cost per prisoner has been Rs. 79-14-3—the highest rate that has occurred during the last ten years.

17. Average rates.—The average prices paid for the principal articles of diet during the year 1894 as compared with the five previous years are shown in the following table:—

Dr. Comins reports that the storage of grain in bulk in the cheap season has been carried on in most jails fairly well, and in some with great success. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to receive the testimony of Dr. Comins to the forethought displayed in this respect by many Superintendents and jailors, and trusts that still further improvement may be made. It will be seen from the bottom line in the table that the price paid by the Jail Department has been lower than the average price recorded in the prices-current for every year since 1889.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 253 of 1895, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information:—

Notice is given that the reefs at the entrance of the Gulf of Akabah are wrongly shown on Admiralty chart No. 8a. Instead of a clear passage between Tiran island and the eastern coast of the peninsula of Suez, reefs project to the westward from Tiran island towards the coast reef, extending half a mile from Ras Nuzirani, leaving a narrow channel, only about 2 cables in width, between the edges of these dangers.

Zeila roadstead—Uniform system of buoyage, and certain buoys altered in position.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 114, dated 11th June 1894, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 231 of 1895) that information has been received from the Port Officer at Aden that the buoys in Zeila roadstead are now in accordance with the uniform system of buoyage adopted by the Indian Government, viz., red conical buoys are to be left to starboard and black can buoys to port, when entering from seaward.

The buoy marking Scagull shoal lies $4\frac{1}{2}$ cables N. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. from the north extreme of the shoal or S. 62° E. $10\frac{1}{10}$ miles from the observation spot on Aibat island.

The buoy marking Filful shoal (Shab Filful) lies 4 cables S. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. from the south-east extreme of the shoal, or $9\frac{3}{10}$ miles S. 61° E. from the above observation spot.

Position, observation spot, Aibat island, lat. 11° 29' 35" N., long 43° 27' 15" E.

EDUCATIONAL PROSPECTUS.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1895-96, will commence on the 17th June next. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. on or before that date.

Students are expected to enter formally and commence attendance at the College upon the date named. Under exceptional circumstances a student will be permitted, at the discretion of the Principal, to extend the time to July 1st, but under no circumstance will any application for entrance be entertained after that date.

2. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student who has not previously passed the First Arts examination of the Calcutta or an Indian University, or a preliminary Arts examination of the United Kingdom recognized by the British General Medical Council.

3. All matriculated students of the College shall pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 35 for the summer session on the 23rd June, and Rs. 35 for the winter session on 1st November of each year. Rupees 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadian students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and one-third fee, i.e., Rs. 12 per session. The remaining two-third fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the ten students who pass highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following:—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. College prizes and certificates of honour are open for competition to matriculated students of the College, Military medical pupil and female certificate classes. College scholarships (vide paragraph 9) are awarded only to matriculated students of the College.

9. Junior scholarships of Rs. 8 per mensem and free tuition for one year are annually awarded to ten students of the 2nd year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of the 1st year.

Scholarships of the same value are awarded to ten students at the commencement of their 3rd year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their 2nd year, provided they have passed either the Preliminary Scientific L. M. S. or M. B. examinations.

Ten senior scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem and free tuition are awarded annually to students at the commencement of their 4th year, on the results of the Test and Honour examinations at the end of their 3rd year, provided they have passed either the 1st L. M. S. or 1st M. B. examinations. These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his 4th year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the 5th year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship. These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Lalia scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem or any other scholarship.

Students who from any cause fail to pass their University examinations at their first chance are not eligible for any of these scholarships, either junior or senior.

10. The Goodeve scholarship of Rs. 12 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded to a matriculated student of the 5th year, on the result of the midwifery test examination of the 4th year.

The F. C. Chatterjee scholarship of Rs. 17 per mensem, tenable for a year, is annually awarded to the best matriculated student of Native Indian extraction, and whose conduct is certified to be good, in histology at the end of the 4th year. The examination takes place in June each year.

The Abdul Gunny scholarship of Rs. 26 per mensem, tenable for one year, is annually awarded at the end of the 4th year to the best matriculated student in all subjects at the class examinations of the 1st to 4th year inclusive. The award is made in May.

The Duke of Edinburgh's prize is awarded to the best in surgery among the matriculated students at the end of the 4th and 5th year. The examination takes place in December or January.

The Bhola Nath Bose's prize of Rs. 40 is awarded to the 4th-year matriculated student who proves himself to be the most successful at bedside diagnosis of disease, in surgery and medicine in alternate years. The award is made in January.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject at the Test and Honour examinations.

The Goodeve and Macnamara silver medals are awarded to the best of the 1st-year native students in anatomy and chemistry respectively, on the result of the Test and Honour examinations.

A prize in Clinical Medicine is awarded annually to the best clinical clerk of the 4th and 5th-year matriculated students. This examination takes place in February.

A prize in Clinical Surgery is awarded annually to the best clinical dresser of the 4th and 5th-year matriculated students. This examination will be held in February.

The Rivers Thompson silver medal is annually awarded to the best Muhammadan student who passes the final L. M. S. or M. B. examination of the Calcutta University.

The Lady Rivers Thompson prize of Rs. 50 is awarded to the lady student who obtains the highest number of marks at the final examination.

No student shall be allowed to compete for a prize when attending a course in excess of the number prescribed in the College curriculum.

11. College scholars who receive less than Rs. 20 per mensem are not required to pay Rs. 35 per session. All other scholars shall pay fees as matriculated students. These may pay their fees in advance, or have their scholarship money deducted till the full amount is received.

12. Any student holding a Medical College scholarship (paragraphs 9 and 10) will be permitted to draw the stipend of that scholarship at any recognized medical school in the United Kingdom, provided he furnishes, from the head of such school, a certificate of good conduct and diligence. These College classes are recognized by all the medical schools in the United Kingdom.

13. The class assistants to the Professors of Pathology and Comparative Anatomy will each receive a salary of Rs. 10 monthly.

Rules for the conduct of periodical examinations.

(1) Test examinations at the end of the—

1st year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 10 per cent. of marks in one subject to be "warned" and informed that failure in the same subject at the end of the 2nd year will entail liability to removal from College.

(b) Pupils who fail as above in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness and will be re-examined two weeks before the commencement of the next session. Failure then in obtaining 15 per cent. of marks in either of the subjects will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to get 10 per cent. as above in three subjects will be removed from the College as being unlikely to succeed eventually.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the—

2nd year.

(a) Military pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in one subject will, if practicable, attend lectures on this subject, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure again in the same subject will render pupils liable to removal.

(b) Pupils who fail in two subjects will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness, and will, if practicable, attend lectures on these subjects, and be re-examined at the end of the next session. Failure in either subject will entail liability to removal.

(c) Pupils who fail to attain the standard in three subjects will be removed from the College.

(3) Pass and Test examinations at the end of the— 3rd year.

(a) Pupils who fail to obtain 20 per cent. of marks in either or both of the final subjects for the 3rd year (viz. Hygiene and Pathology) will lose 200 conduct marks, and be re-examined at the end of the next session.

(b) Pupils who do not obtain 10 per cent. of marks in any of the test examinations (th other subjects) will lose 200 conduct marks for idleness for each subject in which he so fails.

(4) Pass examinations at the end of the—

4th year.

(a) Pupils who obtain less than 20 per cent. of marks in all subjects of their final examination will be liable to removal from the College. Such pupils will, however, be allowed to remain for a further period (to be fixed by the Principal in each case) in the College to continue their studies at their own expense.

22.

FEMALE CERTIFICATE CLASS.

Lady students must be over 17 years of age before commencing their studies.

They must have passed the Entrance examination of the Calcutta University or an examination officially recognized by that University as equivalent to the Entrance examination. (The certificate of matriculation of the Melbourne University will be accepted.)

New students are expected, at latest, to enter formally and commence attendance at the College when the session opens on 17th June. Under very exceptional circumstances a student will be permitted, at the discretion of the Principal, to extend the time to July 1st, but no application for admission will be entertained after that date.

The duration of the course will be four years.

Tuition will be free.

22a. Students, preferably native ladies, may reside in the Sornomoyo Hostel. Applications for residence to be made to the Lady Superintendent of the Hostel, or to the Secretary to the Countess of Dufferin Branch Committee.

23. The following is the curriculum :—

1st year.

Pass examinations in Pathology, Physiology, and Medical Jurisprudence.

2nd year.

Anatomy.
Physiology (elementary).
Materia Medica.
Chemistry (full course).
Dissections.
Attendance at six post-mortem examinations.
Hospital attendance (including outdoor departments)—twelve months.
Pass examinations in Anatomy, Materia Medica, and Chemistry.

4th year.

Medicine and Clinical Medicine.
Surgery and Clinical Surgery.
Midwifery (including six labour cases).
Hospital practice (of which six months in the Medical and Surgical wards, minus 15 attendances at the Dental Dispensary; and six months exclusively in the Midwifery wards, when the students are to take regular tours of duty, night and day, assisting the regular work of the hospital).
Dentistry (optional).
Pass examinations in Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

Students who are successful are entitled to receive the certificate of the College qualifying them to practise medicine, surgery, and midwifery. A fee of Rs. 10 is charged for each certificate.

24. The following rules will be observed in regulating advancement from class to class :—

(1) Test examination at the end of the first year. If a student obtains less than 10 per cent. of the marks in any two out of three subjects of examination, she shall not be allowed to continue in the College.

(2) Pass examinations at the end of the second and third years. In order to pass, a student must gain 33 per cent. in each subject of examination. If a student fails in any two of the three subjects, or, failing in one subject only, if she gains less than 25 per cent. in that subject, she shall be put back for one year. If she fails in one subject only, gaining 25 per cent. or more in that subject, she shall be promoted to the next class, but will be required to submit to re-examination in that subject, in addition to the examination in the regular subjects, at the end of the following year. She will be permitted to attend lectures on the subject in which she has failed. Failure on re-examination will carry the same penalty as original failure.

(3) Pass examination at the end of the fourth year. The same rules as apply to the previous pass examinations, with the exception that if a student, failing in one subject only, gains 25 per cent. in that subject, she will be referred back to her studies for a period of six months, at the expiration of which she will be entitled to re-examination after furnishing proof of having attended hospital practice during that period.

25. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalent will be admitted into the Eden Hospital to learn midwifery. These will receive Rs. 20 per mensem. After a year's tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery. The fee for each certificate is Rs. 5.

26. Female students who have not passed the Entrance or its equivalents but who read and write Bengali, can be admitted in the Eden Hospital as pupil dâis.

27. Of these, eight will receive Rs. 6 per mensem and the rest will be taught free. After 12 months' tuition and bedside practice, if found proficient, they will obtain a certificate qualifying them to practise midwifery.

28. All certificates are to be registered in the Principal's office.

NOTIFICATION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 6th June 1895.

No. 2312.—In exercise of the power conferred by Act I of 1870; the following Rules for Quarantine against Cholera have been made by the Government of Bombay, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council: they have effect from the 28rd instant in the Ports of Aden, Perim and the Somali Coast as a temporary measure:—

- I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from Arabian Ports of the Red Sea shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.
- II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.
- III.—Immediately on arrival the Commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and susceptible goods.
- IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is besides in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage	...	six days of quarantine.
Do. nine ditto	...	five ditto.
Do. ten ditto	...	four ditto.
Do. eleven ditto	...	three ditto.
Do. twelve ditto	...	two ditto.
Do. thirteen ditto and upwards	...	twenty-four hours of quarantine.

- V.—If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.
- VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.
- VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.
- VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.
- IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden, Perim and the Somali Coast which may have communicated with vessels coming from Arabian Ports of the Red Sea, shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden, Perim and the Somali Coast from the Red Sea.
- X.—All vessels which have undergone quarantine in the manner above prescribed, should have the fact clearly stated on their Bills of Health.

Postage Rates.

Inland.

The 18th June 1895.

No. 2781-S.R.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 19, 20, 22, and 63 of the Indian Post Office Act (XIV of 1866), and in supersession of all existing notifications conflicting herewith, the Governor General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following postage rates and conditions for inland parcels posted on and after the 1st August 1895:—

Postage rates—

Any parcel not exceeding 20 tolas in weight	2 annas.
Any parcel exceeding 20 tolas but not exceeding 40 tolas in weight	4 "
For each additional 40 tolas or fraction of 40 tolas up to 2,000 tolas	4 "

Registration fee—

For a parcel not exceeding 20 tolas in weight	2 "
For a parcel exceeding 20 tolas in weight	4 "

Registration is optional for ordinary (uninsured) parcels not exceeding 440 tolas in weight.

Registration is obligatory in the following cases:—

- (1) for any parcel exceeding 440 tolas in weight,
- (2) for any parcel for which the postage is not prepaid,
- (3) for any insured parcel,
- (4) for any parcel posted under the value-payable system,
- (5) for any parcel addressed to a place for which a customs declaration is required.

Parcels, whether registered or unregistered, should be presented at the counter of a post office to be posted, and should not be posted in a letter-box. Any parcel found in a letter-box will be treated and charged with postage as a registered parcel.

An unregistered parcel must be fully prepaid by means of postage stamps, which must be affixed either to the cover of the article or to an official label which can be obtained free at the post office. In either case, the sender or his messenger must affix the stamp himself, postal officials being strictly forbidden to affix them.

For registered parcels other than insured parcels prepayment is optional, and, except in the case of service parcels, the postage must be paid in cash.

Advertisement of Sale of Government Estates.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Mymensingh, will be put up to sale at the Mymensingh Collectorate on the 26th of June 1895, corresponding with the 12th of Ashar 1302 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Advertisement of sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary of right of Government as specified in the conditions of the sale, below to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Puri, pargana Koterahang, mauza Nirmala, will be put to sale at the Puri Collectorate on the 16th of July 1895, corresponding with the 2nd of Sraban 1302 Tuesday.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honour on the 18th April, 1895, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General on the 21st May, 1895, is hereby published for general information:—

ACT No. IV OF 1895.

An Act to further amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

WHEREAS it is expedient to further amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890;
Preamble. It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.
Construction and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor General.

2. In section 13, in sub-section (2), for the word "this" after the word "under" the words "the last preceding" shall be substituted.
Amendment of section 13.

3. After section 32, the following section shall be inserted:—
New section 32A.

"32A. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 57, all fines realized under the last preceding section shall be disposed of in such manner as the Commissioners may think fit."

1895.
Jan. 10th	10	8vo ...	1st...	300	ditto ...	0 1 0	In a number of doggerel verses the writer deploras the decadence of orthodoxy among the Hindus and the adoption by them of European manners and customs. All this and the changes brought in by western education generally, are set down to the influence of the Kali Yuga.	2797
Feb. 20th	26	16 mo...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 1 0	Asutos Banerji.	In the opinion of the writer, the Hindus have, by neglecting the precepts and practices of their religion, brought upon themselves the displeasure of Heaven, and suffer terribly now, in consequence, from scarcity and famine. As a loyal subject of the Queen-Empress, the writer is unable to say whether or not the sufferings of the people are caused also by the faults of their rulers.	2798

In this book, the phenomenon of the simultaneous disappearance of the moon and the morning star at the close of night, furnishes the writer with the idea of the moon marrying the morning star and retiring with his bride in the morning. The moon is also represented as a thoughtless youth whom the sight of India's intense misery under the rule of "shop-keepers" fails to bring to a serious mood.	2801

Dec. 13th	72	8vo rl	1st...	10,000	ditto ...	0 1 9	ditto ...	Contains an article reviewing the condition of Bengal under English rule. The writer takes a very desponding view of the effect of that rule on the physical, moral and intellectual development of the Bengali nation. According to him, English rule is slowly but surely stifling national life in Bengal, and preparing the way for the extinction of Bengalis as a race. The political condition of the people under the English is compared with that of the hero in the coils of the serpent in the Laocoon. Articles on the economic products of India from the pen of Mr. T. N. Mukharji form an important feature of this journal, and the present number contains an article by him on the cultivation of silk cocoons in Bengal and Assam.	3612

" 10th	88	8vo rl.	1st...	1,700	ditto ...	0 11 0	ditto ...	Has an article, in which the writer thinks that the so-called Hindu revival is not a revival of Hinduism but of Brahmanism, and that this revival deserves to be checked in the interest alike of Government and of the Hindu community at large.	3620
Nov. 12th	77	8vo rl.	1st...	1,700	ditto ...	0 10 0	ditto ...	Nos. 5, 6, 7, and 8 of this journal contain a detailed criticism on the Sanitary Drainage Bill, which, in the opinion of the writer of the articles, is unnecessary and uncalled for. The re-excavation of silted up rivers may be a good thing, but it will not prove a remedy for malaria, which has been known to prevail in places where the silting up of rivers from natural causes, has been artificially checked.	3621

Contains a story suggested by the current topics of the day, and already noticed under No. 2667 of this Catalogue, and a farce ridiculing such recent additions to the Hindu pantheon as the god of itch, or the goddess of smallpox, &c.	3637
Nov. 30th	96	16mo dc.	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 7 0	Ravindra Náth Tagore, 6, Dváraká Náth Tagore's Lane, Calcutta.	Contains an article criticising Government's attitude towards the Hindus, with special reference to the recent religious riots. In the course of the article, the writer seems to think that Government's fear of the Mussalmans and the law-abiding character of the Hindus may go some way to account for its comparative severity towards the latter. And the Hindus must be prepared for this treatment at the hands of Government, so long as they can not show, by their conduct and behaviour, that they are not going to take injustice quietly.	3638

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS FOR THE YEAR 1894.

The Report for the year 1893, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

According to the statistics of mortality during 1894, given in the report, the Calcutta death-rate of 30 per thousand was the highest recorded during the last ten years, and that of Howrah, 25.95, the highest for the last nine years, while in the Suburban area, which was amalgamated with Calcutta in 1888, the death-rate rose to 39, or 1.9 higher than in 1893. In all three areas the mortality from the chief diseases shows an increase. The deaths from cholera were nearly doubled; the mortality from bowel-complaints increased 11.83 per cent., deaths from fever 11.53 per cent., and from small-pox 966.66 per cent. The increase in the number of deaths from small-pox was very marked, being 416, against 39 in 1893. The disease spread rapidly since the close of the year under review, and it is doubtful whether it can as yet be said to show signs of abating. Putting aside small-pox, the initial causation of which is obscure, and cholera, which is usually more prevalent in dry years, it seems at first sight surprising that fevers and bowel-complaints, the characteristic diseases of a damp season, should show so marked an increase in a year of deficient rainfall. This can hardly be due to greater accuracy in registration, for there is no reason to suppose that the record of deaths in the metropolitan area is defective to anything like the extent of the increased mortality reported as due to these two causes. The reason doubtless is, as is explained at greater length below, that diseases do not come in and go out with the year, and that a large proportion of the deaths registered in the early part of 1894 were due to causes which began to operate in 1893.

2. The following table gives the number of indoor and outdoor patients treated in the several hospitals of Calcutta and Howrah during the past two years:—

3. The number of outdoor patients rose from 252,059 to 264,041. Out of this increase of 11,982, the Medical College Hospital accounts for 3,815, probably due to improved accommodation having been provided for out-patients; and the Campbell Hospital for 2,610, which shows that the out-patient department, started in 1892, has met a real want in that part of the town. The large increase of 2,828 at the Park Street Dispensary is not explained in the report. The Dufferin Victoria Hospital, the statistics of which were included for the first time in last year's report, shows an increase of out-patient from 8,758 to 9,035, which denotes satisfactory progress. The outdoor department recently opened at the Presidency General Hospital had an attendance of 303, which is less than might have been expected, considering that persons living in Bhawanipur, Hastings and Alipore have hitherto been obliged to seek treatment at the Medical College Hospital. But the number may have been kept down by the operation of the rule restricting gratuitous advice and medicine, in the case of European and Eurasian patients, to persons whose circumstances render them unable to pay. This attempt to check the abuse of the out-patient system by well-to-do persons is said to have worked well in the Presidency General and the Campbell Hospitals, while it had no practical effect at the Mayo Hospital, where very few European and Eurasian patients are treated. In the Medical College Hospital a difficulty was felt in applying the rule, owing to the reluctance of the medical officers to question sick people about their incomes.

4. The total number of indoor patients admitted into the hospitals fell from 26,068 to 24,912, the daily average attendance also declining from 1,338'38 to 1,281'36. The falling off was insignificant everywhere except in the Campbell Hospital, where the number dropped from 9,384 to 8,440—a fall for which no convincing reasons are assigned. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that at the Dufferin Victoria Hospital the number of patients rose from 155 to 304, which shows that substantial progress has been made in combating the current prejudices on the subject of the treatment of the diseases of women.

5. Of the total number of patients, both indoor and outdoor, treated in all the hospitals during the year, 171,084 were men, 45,714 women, and 72,155 children. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 167,092, 45,290 and 65,735. During the year, therefore, there was an increase of 10,886 patients. Of the total number treated, 48.67 per cent. were Hindus, 33.11 Muhammadans, 11.05 Eurasians, and 3.12 Europeans. The number of Muhammadans treated shows an increase of 5,090, and that of Europeans of 666.

6. The general death-rate of all the institutions, excluding the cases treated in the Eye Infirmary, rose from 12.8 to 14 per cent. of the persons treated. As was explained in the Resolution on last year's report, the circumstances of the different hospitals differ so widely that no trustworthy conclusions can be drawn from a comparison of their aggregate rates of mortality. Taking the rates for different classes of patients, the returns show that the mortality among adult males varied from 1.04 at the Police Hospital, where the patients are mostly in the prime of life, to 22.13 at Sealdah, which receives a large proportion of moribund cases; among women from 1.46 at the Dufferin Victoria Hospital, which treats special diseases, to 34.80 at Howrah, where the conditions resemble those prevalent at Sealdah. The death-rate for female children at Sealdah rose from 21.59 to 26.89; while at the Dufferin Hospital no deaths occurred among the thirty-one girls who were treated.

7. The number of deaths from small-pox in Calcutta, Howrah and the Suburban area rose from 39 to 416, and the number of patients admitted into hospital from 49 to 177, of whom 70 died. Of the patients treated in 1894, 121 were unprotected, and of these 56, or 46.28 per cent., died. One of these 56 had had small-pox before, and one person who had been inoculated, died in spite of the protection thus afforded. Fifty were said to have been vaccinated, among whom 13 cases, or 26 per cent., proved fatal. It is stated, however, that typical vaccination scars were found in only one case, so that it seems doubtful whether these 13 persons had been effectively vaccinated.

These statistics deal only with the initial stages of the outbreak which has unhappily lasted on into the current year. The monthly mortality up to the end of May 1895 in Calcutta is shown in the following statement side by side with the corresponding figures for the previous year:—

January	114	4
February	268	20
March	844	44
April	541	96
May	357	82

So far as these figures go, they seem to afford ground for the surmise that the epidemic reached its climax in the high mortality of March 1895, and is now tending to abate. The weekly mortality shows a progressive decline from 233, the number of deaths recorded in the week ending 23rd March, to 34, the number registered in the last week of May. The history of small-pox epidemics in India generally is that the death-rate begins as a rule to decline in April and May, owing to the dry heat of these months being adverse to the spread of the disease, and presenting conditions more favourable to the recovery of those already suffering. This rule was found to hold good for a series of epidemics in Calcutta, except only those of 1832 and 1878; and in more recent years it is fully borne out by the statistics of the epidemic of 1890, and in a less degree by those of 1894. The causes, however, which produce an epidemic of small-pox are so obscure, and the spread of the disease depends so much upon the action of individuals, that all attempts to formulate general conclusions or to forecast the course of events in any particular outbreak must be for the most part conjectural. Sir Charles Elliott can only hope that the present epidemic is now beginning to abate, and that the lessons it has taught will not be lost upon the Corporation of Calcutta, who are bound by law to make adequate and suitable provision for preventing or checking the spread of dangerous diseases, and to enforce the compulsory provisions of the Vaccination Act.

8. The number of admissions to hospitals of persons suffering from cholera was 567 against 431, 709 and 761 in the three previous years; and 323 cases proved fatal, giving a death-rate of 56·9 per cent. The rate of mortality among Europeans and Eurasians was 72·72 (16 deaths out of 22 cases), as compared with 57·14 in the previous year, and among other classes 56·33 against 55·85.

Fourteen cases of cholera originated in the Campbell Hospital, of which nine proved fatal, and at the Howrah General Hospital a European sailor took the disease a week after admission, and died of it. In neither case could the cause of the outbreak be traced, though it is suggested that the insufficiency of the supply of filtered water at Sealdah may have led to the use of polluted tank water. In connexion with these cases, Dr. Ross refers to the result of Dr. Haffkine's inoculation against cholera in the Gaya Jail as tending to show that the operation affords at least temporary immunity.

9. The number of cases of dysentery and diarrhoea admitted into hospital exceeded the large figures of 1893, although the death-rate was slightly lower, 30·17 for dysentery and 35·86 for diarrhoea, against 30·53 and 39·58, respectively, in the preceding year. Conversely in the case of malarial fevers the admissions fell from 4,629 to 4,059, while the death-rate increased from 7·88 to 12·21 per cent. The Inspector-General remarks that it is at first sight surprising that the death-rate from fever and bowel-complaints should have risen in 1894, when the rainfall was less and the climatic conditions more normal than in 1893, and goes on to point out that the increased mortality from these causes fell entirely on the early part of the year, and was really a legacy from the prolonged rains of 1893. In other words, disease runs its course, and causes produce their results without reference to the arbitrary periods dealt with in official reports. This view is corroborated by a comparison of the mortality from these causes in Calcutta during the first four months of 1893 and 1894, as reported by the Sanitary Commissioner. In the first four months of 1894, the deaths from bowel-complaints numbered 1,077 as against 707 in the first four months of 1893; while the deaths from fever during the same period of 1894 were 3,106 as against 2,075 in 1893. The total number of persons treated for venereal complaints diminished by 1,064, and the two worst forms of the disease show a slight decline. Thirty-four lepers were admitted in the hospitals during the year, against 32 in the previous year. The hope expressed by the Lieutenant-Governor in paragraph 9 of the Resolution on the report for the year 1893, that all leprosy cases in Calcutta will be accommodated in the Leper Asylum, will be realised as soon as the Bill recently passed by the Bengal Council receives the assent of the Viceroy. Out of the 20 cases of enteric fever reported, 17 of the patients were Europeans, of whom six died. The admissions from remittent fever show a little diminution, the figures being 918 against 1,184, but the percentage of deaths was higher than in the previous year.

10. The total number of major operations increased from 3,339 to 3,643, and the minor operations from 19,001 to 24,988. Out of the increase (304) in major operations, 125 is accounted for by the opening of a special department at the Medical College for the treatment of diseases of the throat, ear and nose. Death ensued in 129 cases, giving a percentage of 3·4, against 3·15 in the previous year. The largest number of operations was performed at the Medical College Hospital, where the death-rate was 3·44 against 4·05. The figures for the Campbell Hospital show a reduction of 33 cases. A separate surgical ward has been opened since the close of the year, and this hospital, which is also the chief vernacular medical school in Bengal, will now carry on its surgical work under more favourable conditions. At the Dufferin Victoria Hospital, 30 major operations were performed, against 12 in 1893, out of which one terminated fatally.

11. In the Eden Hospital, 1,462 women and children were treated, against 1,367 in 1893. Of these, 718 were Europeans, 600 Hindus and Muhammadans, and 144 belonged to other classes. The death-rate among Europeans fell from 8·40 to 5·48 per cent., the rate among Hindus and Muhammadans increased from 8·42 to 10·59, while the percentage among other classes fell from 12·02 to 6·80. The number of confinement cases rose from 573 to 618, of which 23 terminated fatally. The number of cases of septicæmia fell from 31 to 23, but unhappily 14 of these originated within the hospital. The special ward for the treatment of these cases has now been completed, and it is hoped that this will bring about better results. In this hospital, 392 major operations were performed with 26 deaths, against 337 with 31 deaths in 1893. The outdoor department is conducted on alternate days by the Resident Surgeon and by Mrs. Kadambini Gangpli, a former student of the Calcutta Medical College, who volunteered to take charge of the ward. The female students of the Campbell Hospital receive practical training under her direction. The number of patients rose from 3,535 to 3,990, and the ward seems to be gaining in popularity.

12. The increase in the number of indoor patients treated during the year in the Shama Charan Law Eye Infirmary was nominal, while the number of outdoor patients rose from 11,079 to 11,944. As usual, most of the operations were cases of extraction of the lens. Vision was restored in 75·07 per cent., and 8·30 per cent. were relieved.

13. In the Ezra Hospital, where for the most part patients of the Jewish persuasion are treated, 287 in-patients were admitted, of whom 7 died. The number of outdoor patients was less by 264 than in the previous year. Of the total expenditure, Rs. 6,600·14, for the maintenance of the hospital, Rs. 5,724·14, or 86·72 per cent., was borne by Government.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that the work done by trained nurses at the Medical College and the General and Eden Hospitals, assisted at the latter institution by pupil nurses and dhais, is well spoken of by the medical officers concerned. Certain District Boards are reported to have sent two pupil midwives to receive their training in the Eden Hospital, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that their example will be followed by others. Eighteen pupil nurses and fourteen dhais passed out of the Eden Hospital during the year. The nursing arrangements at the Campbell Hospital are now under consideration with reference to certain proposals made by the Committee appointed to report on the training and position of Civil Hospital Assistants.

15. The invested capital of the hospitals in Calcutta and Howrah increased from Rs. 5,87,000 to Rs. 5,93,300, the increase being at the Medical College and the Howrah General Hospitals. The following statement compares the main heads of receipts and expenditure of all these institutions for the last two years:—

16. The total income, excluding the opening balance, amounted to Rs. 5,22,761, which exceeds that of the previous year by Rs. 31,397. The cost to Government shows an increase of Rs. 28,107, owing to the heavy charge on account of buildings and repairs, which rose from Rs. 28,939 in 1893 to Rs. 58,778 in 1894. There was a falling off of Rs. 2,045 in the receipts from paying patients, while the municipal contributions increased by Rs. 4,503 owing to the additional grant of Rs. 5,000 to the Campbell Hospital made by the Calcutta Municipality. Miscellaneous receipts and subscriptions show a small increase. The total expenditure came to Rs. 5,19,255, against Rs. 4,80,931 in 1893. The cost of building and repairs rose from Rs. 28,939 to Rs. 58,778 owing to quadrennial repairs at the Medical College, the construction of a new surgical ward at the Campbell Hospital, important extensions at Howrah, and a contagious ward at the Police Hospital. There was also an increase under miscellaneous charges.

17. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals for the painstaking attempt which has been made in paragraphs 52 to 58 of the report to work out a statistical comparison of the incidence of cost per patient in the different hospitals under the main heads of expenditure. Owing to the difficulty of arriving at a standard which will fit the varying conditions of all the institutions, all such attempts must necessarily be to some extent approximate, and there are still hypothetical elements in the comparison which hinder a discussion of the calculations in detail. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that when made use of with the corrections and deductions which the Inspector-General's experience will enable him to apply, the results worked out will lead to economy and greater uniformity of expenditure. Subject to these remarks, His Honour agrees with the Inspector-General in thinking that there is probably room for economy under the heads of compounders and dressers at the Mayo Institutions and the Howrah General Hospital; of country and European medicines at the Presidency General Hospital; of menial servants at the Sukea's Street Dispensary; and of other servants at the Howrah Hospital. The average cost of diet at the Mayo Hospital, which was noticed in last year's Resolution, has been reduced to three annas, and it is explained that no further reduction is possible, as an extra morning meal has been introduced.

18. The Inspector-General's suggestion (paragraph 57) that the Medical Officers of the Presidency Institutions should be permitted to purchase their drugs and instruments from England, seems a practical one, and should be separately submitted for orders. This method has been recently adopted for the supplies required by all dispensaries and hospitals outside Calcutta, and is expected to result in a considerable saving.

19. The new hospital for south Calcutta, which was noticed in paragraph 20 of the Resolution on the report for 1893, could not be commenced during 1894, but plans and estimates amounting to Rs. 90,539 for the buildings have since been sanctioned, and the work will be undertaken as soon as funds are available.

20. Surgeon-Colonel R. Harvey was Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals throughout the year, and the Lieutenant-Governor takes this opportunity of acknowledging his efficient supervision of the hospitals under his control, and of regretting the breakdown of his health. Sir Charles Elliott's thanks are due to Surgeon-Colonel G. C. Ross, who took charge on the 23rd March, for a clear report which was submitted within a fortnight of the date on which it was due.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1894-95.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 14th June 1895.

READ—

The Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1894-95.

Among the principal improvements effected during the year in the garden, which has now for a number of years been a most popular resort, may be mentioned the entire remodelling of one of the conservatories, which has been laid out on a new and more artistic plan. The road running along the river bank from the engine-house to the gate of the Sibpur College has been considerably improved, and several small buildings and a glass-roofed house for certain orchids have been erected by garden labour. Dr. King's singular talent for landscape gardening has enabled him, during the 24 years he has been in charge, to add greatly to the beauty of the garden by skilful grouping of trees and shrubs, and it now ranks high among similar institutions for picturesque scenery no less than for scientific completeness. Within the past year he has laid the public under a further obligation by bringing out a Guide to the garden, the want of which had been long felt. The book contains a map, a description of the garden, and a brief sketch of its history since its foundation in 1786, and copies can be had by purchase at the garden gates, and from Messrs. Thacker, Spink and Company, booksellers, Calcutta.

2. The Herbarium attached to the garden received material additions during the year; more than 13,000 specimens were added to it, illustrating the flora of England, Switzerland, the United States, Mexico, the Malay Archipelago, Borneo, Formosa, Australia, Natal, Assam, Northern India, Travancore and the Andaman Islands. To the contributors of these specimens, Mr. Thiselton Dyer, Dr. Prain, the Smithsonian Bureau of National Exchanges, Mr. Holler, Mr. Pringle, Mr. Wray (junior), Mr. Ridley, Mr. Curtis, Dr. Haviland, Dr. Henry, Baron von Müller, Mr. Medley-Wood, Mr. Gustav Mann, Mr. Duthie, Mr. Gamble, Mr. Lawson, and Mr. E. H. Man, C.I.E., the thanks of Government are due. Nearer home, Messrs. Heinig and Haines, Deputy Conservators of Forests, contributed to the garden valuable specimens of the flora of the Sunderbans, the Bhutan Duars, and the Sikkim Terai; and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to see more officers of the Forest Department in Bengal cultivate botanical research and assist the garden by their collections. The collectors employed by the Calcutta garden have also added some valuable contributions. A large number of specimens was sent out from the garden to various botanical institutions in Europe, America, Australia, the Straits Settlements and in India.

3. Of the Lloyd Botanic Garden at Darjeeling there is apparently little or nothing to record. The report does not state how far it fulfils the purpose for which it was originally established, of bringing together in one place those specimens of the indigenous flora of the Eastern Himalayas which can be grown at the elevation of Darjeeling. Fuller information on this point should be given in future reports.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the excellent work done by Dr. King during the past year, and to express his unqualified satisfaction that this Province has secured the retention of his services for at least two additional years.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA.
FOR THE YEAR 1894-95.

No. 16G., of 1895, dated Darjeeling, the 18th May 1895.

From—GEORGE KING, Esq., M.B., LL.D., F.R.S., C.I.E., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the 168th Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA,
FOR THE YEAR 1894-95.

THE weather during the year presented no feature of note, except that the rainfall was rather below the average. The growth of the plants in the garden, both in the conservatories and in the open ground, was satisfactory; and very little damage was done by the storms of wind which are so frequent during the hot season. The chief improvements effected in the garden during the year were the remodelling of the intermediate conservatory, and the repair and alteration of the road which runs along the river-bank from the engine-house to the College gate. The conservatory just mentioned is the one standing between that in which the orchids are exhibited during their season and the Palm-house. It is intermediate not only in situation, but also in area, size, and height; being shorter and higher than the Orchid conservatory and smaller in extent and lower in the roof than the Palm-house. This intermediate conservatory, not having been interfered with for some years past, had become rather choked with overgrown plants. Occasion was therefore taken during the rainy season to clear it of its entire contents; and, this having been done, the Curator, Mr. R. L. Proudlock, laid it out on a new plan, far more artistic than the former one. All the choicest plants in the nurseries having been planted out in this house by the Assistant Curator, Mr. H. J. Davies, under Mr. Proudlock's direction, the result (after the plants have had a little time to establish themselves) should, I anticipate, be very satisfactory. In the whole of this large house there is not a single plant growing in a pot, everything being planted in the ground; the results of ground culture having, in the other conservatories, proved so much more satisfactory than those of pot culture. Hanging from the roof are a number of baskets containing plants, and its sides and also (in part) its roof are covered by creeping plants. The changes effected on the river bank road to which allusion has above been made consisted in bringing the whole to, as nearly as possible, a uniform level; in widening it; in removing the trees which formed an avenue on its northern side; and in improving the grassy slopes on each side of it. As the road is nearly a mile long, the labour involved in carrying out all these improvements was considerable. The earth required for raising its level and for widening it was taken mostly from the bed of the river, so that it was not necessary either to enlarge any of the ponds already existing in the garden or to excavate any new ones. The removal of the trees which formed the avenue along the northern edge of the road is a great improvement, as many new vistas have been opened up into the interior of the garden. And, by the addition of much soil from the river bed, long gentle slopes have been made leading down to the portions of the garden on each side which are, for the most part, on a lower level than the road. The roads in the part of the garden to the east of the river entrance are now in excellent condition; but much remains still to be done for the improvement of those to the west of that entrance, many of these being still in an unsatisfactory condition in several respects. Towards the end of the year, a good deal was done in the way of thinning and clearing out shrubs and trees in the eastern half of the garden. During the current season this process will be continued in the western half. Amongst the buildings erected during the year by garden labour, and out of the garden budget allotment were a lodge for durwans near the river entrance, some godowns, a carpenter's and blacksmith's shed near the Curator's house, and a glass-roofed house in the nursery for the growth of such kinds of orchids as cannot stand the heavy rainfall of the monsoon months. More houses of the latter description are much wanted, and their construction should be undertaken as soon as funds become available. I had hoped, long before now, to have been able to chronicle the completion of the road leading from Calcutta to the garden via the Shalimar point and along the river-bank. I regret, however, that the road is still in an unfinished state. Visitors having on various occasions expressed the opinion that a Guide Book to the garden would be useful, I prepared, during the year, a little book of this sort which Government were pleased to print, and of which copies are now to be had by purchase at the garden gates. In order to make this Guide Book intelligible, it became necessary to name the various roads in the garden, the names chosen being in all cases those of Indian Botanists, or of Botanists to whom the garden or Herbarium are especially indebted. The Guide Book is furnished with a map, and, besides a description of the garden, it contains a brief sketch of its history since its foundation in 1786.

2. Economic plants.—Although no plant of economic interest attracted or received special attention during the year, there was, as usual, a considerable distribution of useful plants. Many hundreds of fruit trees were given to various applicants, mostly for public purposes; and applications for rhea-plants (in the cultivation of which there has recently been a slightly revived interest) were also met as far as was possible.

3. Herbarium.—A large amount of work has been done in the Herbarium, many scientific references having been replied to, and plants having been named for various correspondents. The collection was increased by the receipt, during the year, of 13,119 specimens from other scientific centres, from botanists in India and in other parts of the world, and from collectors sent out from the garden. The chief donor was, as usual, the Director of the Royal Garden, Kew, who presented no fewer than 2,198 specimens. Dr. A. Henry, a missionary labouring in Formosa, sent 1,066 specimens of plants indigenous to that island. Mr. J. S. Gamble, Director of the Imperial Forest School, Dehra Dun, augmented his most liberal contributions of former years by the addition, during the past one, of 455 specimens. From Mr. N. Ridley, Director of the Botanic Garden, Singapore, 667, and from Mr. C. Curtis, Superintendent of the Botanic Garden, Penang, 46 specimens of Malayan plants were respectively received. Valuable contributions of Malayan plants were also received from Mr. L. Wray, Junior, Perak, and from Dr. J. D. Haviland, Borneo. Mr. Heinig, Deputy Conservator of the Sunderbans Forest Division, sent in 363 admirably preserved specimens of the flora of that region, while Mr. H. H. Haines, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Jalpaiguri, presented 56 specimens from the Bhutan Duars and Sikkim Terai. From Mr. M. Lawson, Government Botanist, Madras, there were received 356 specimens of Travancore plants. This was a particularly acceptable contribution, as the flora of Travancore was previously but poorly represented in the Herbarium. The veteran Botanist Baron Von Müller presented 237 Australian species. Of American plants there were received 603 plants from the Smithsonian Bureau of National Exchanges, Washington; 440 species from Mr. A. A. Heller, Louisville, South Texas; and 253 from Mr. C. G. Pringle, Mexico. Mr. Gustav Mann, for many years well known as Conservator of Forests in Assam, sent from Munich (where he has now settled) 251 specimens of orchids collected by him some years ago in the Assam Forests. From Mr. Medley-Wood, Superintendent of the Botanic Garden, Natal, there were received 328 plants, and from Mr. Duthie, Director of the Botanical Survey of Northern India, 128; while Dr. Prain, Curator of the Herbarium, sent 121 plants collected by him in Switzerland during his furlough. The collections made by the direct agency of the establishment were considerable, Mr. G. A. Gammie, Officiating Curator of the Herbarium, having collected 1,434 specimens; while Mr. E. H. Man, O.I.S., to whom this garden is indebted for most efficient help spread over many years, superintended the collection in the Andaman Islands of 847 specimens. From Upper Burma there were sent by Abdul Kholil (a native collector) 120 specimens; and by Mr. J. C. Fraser (an Eurasian collector) 150 specimens. In the neighbourhood of Gaya 334 specimens (chiefly of grasses) were collected by a garden collector named Shaik Mokim; while Jonardan, the chief of the seed-house, brought from the neighbourhood of Baidynath 169 specimens. Mr. R. Pantling, of the Cinchona Plantation, sent 546 specimens of orchids. On the other hand, no fewer than 15,539 specimens of carefully named Indian plants were distributed to scientific institutions and to private botanists in various parts of the world. The recipients of the largest numbers were the Director of the Royal Garden, Kew, to whom 2,044 specimens were sent; the Royal Herbarium, Berlin, to which 1,009 were issued; the Herbarium of the Jardin des Plantes, Paris, which received 545; and the Herbarium of the British Museum, London, to which 817 were sent. Other recipient institutions in Europe were the Herbaria at St. Petersburg, Vienna, Upsala, Leiden, Utrecht, Florence, Zurich, Fribourg, Cambridge, Edinburgh, Aberdeen, and the private Herbaria of M. M. De Candolle of Geneva and Drake de Castello of Paris. Amongst Asiatic institutions, specimens were sent to the Government Herbaria at Madras, Saharanpur, Dehra Dun, Peradeniya, Buitenzorg, Singapore, Perak and Penang. Lastly, contributions were sent to three American institutions, viz., the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, the Botanical Survey of Minnesota and the Herbarium presided over by Professor Sargeant; while one was sent to the University Herbarium at Melbourne in Australia.

4. Botanical Publications.—No volume of the Annals of this Garden was issued during the past year. The fifth volume has, however, been in active preparation, and will, it is hoped, be issued during the current year. An important paper on Indian Convolvulaceæ was contributed to the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal by Dr. D. Prain, Curator of the Herbarium. In the same Journal there was also published the seventh part of my Materials for a Flora of the Malayan Peninsula. Dr. Cummins, of the Army Medical Staff, who worked for some time in the Herbarium as a volunteer, contributed to the same journal an account of a new species of Lathræa found by him near Gnatong on the Sikkim-Tibet frontier.

5. Library.—A few books were purchased during the year; and some presentations were received from Kew and from other scientific institutions to which contributions of Herbarium specimens and volumes of the Garden Annals had been sent.

6. Interchange of Plants and Seeds.—The living plants issued from the nurseries during the year amounted to 42,188 as against 22,553 plants received. Packets of seeds to the number of 3,059 were also issued, while 1,243 were received. Full details of these transactions will be found in the appendices to this report.

7. Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling.—The chief improvements carried out in this garden during the year were the improvement of some of the pathways and the reconstruction of the propagating house. As originally laid out, the walks were, from want of money, merely tracks cut in the soil with a layer of sand laid on the surface. Paths made after this fashion become very slippery during the rainy season; and, for some years past, Mr. Kennedy, the Curator of the garden, has been employing his labour-force whenever it could be spared in improving these paths by metalling them. A considerable instalment of this work was done during the past year, but a good deal still remains to be done to complete it. In rebuilding the propagating house only sal timber has been used; it is therefore hoped that no repairs will be necessary for some years. The ventilating arrangements of the large conservatory are still in a very unsatisfactory state. The Public Works Department have, however, undertaken to make them more efficient during the current year. The troublesome cock-chaffer grub which worked such havoc in the garden some years ago has now, in a great measure, disappeared; and, with proper precautions in the application of manure, it is hoped it may soon do so entirely. Besides his garden duties, which he discharged with efficiency, Mr. Kennedy superintended the planting of trees along roads and in odd corners of ground within the station.

8. The budget allotments of funds for both the Calcutta and Darjeeling gardens were spent in full. The revenue derived from the sale of surplus plants and seeds amounted for the Calcutta garden to Rs. 1,274-5-0, and for the Darjeeling garden to Rs. 880, both of which sums were credited to Government revenue.

9. A few weeks after the opening of the year, Dr. Prain, Curator of the Herbarium, proceeded to England on furlough for eight months. His furlough was, however, subsequently extended to fourteen months. Since Dr. Prain's departure, the duties of Curator have been performed with much steadiness and efficiency by Mr. G. A. Gammie, of the Cinchona Department. Mr. R. L. Proudlock, Curator of the garden, worked with assiduity during the whole year, and to his skill and good taste the laying out of the intermediate conservatory is entirely due. Mr. G. T. Lane, Assistant Curator, was in charge of the out-door operations until November, when he was appointed to act as Superintendent of the Government gardens at Allahabad, in place of Mr. Phillips, who went on furlough. Mr. Lane worked cheerfully and well. Mr. H. J. Davies, who had been sent out from the Royal garden, Kew, a few weeks before the beginning of the year, was in November appointed to officiate for Mr. Lane, and has done excellent service. The chief writer, Babu Gopal Chandra Datta, and the other members of the office staff, have also worked to my satisfaction.

10. In the six appendices which accompany this report will be found full details of the receipts and issues of seeds and of living and dried plants.

LIBERALITY OF RAI JOTINDRA NATH CHAUDHARI, M.A., B.L., ZAMINDAR OF TAKI, IN THE DISTRICT OF 24-PARGANAS.

No. 923T., dated Darjeeling, the 31st May 1895.

From—SIR ALFRED CROFT, K.C.I.E., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I HAVE the honour to state that Rai Jotindra Nath Chaudhari, M.A., B.L., zamindar of Taki, in the district of 24-Parganas, has constructed a boarding-house at his own expense for the accommodation of non-resident students attending the Taki Government School, at a cost of Rs. 3,000. The buildings, which will accommodate 25 students, and which consist of six pukka one-storied rooms and a thatched house for kitchen and dining purposes, together with the plot of ground, measuring about 7 cottahs, on which they stand, have been made over in trust to the Head Master of the Taki Government School by a registered deed.

2. I beg to recommend that the thanks of Government may be conveyed to Rai Jotindra Nath Chaudhari, M.A., B.L., in the usual manner.

No. 119T.G., dated Darjeeling, the 12th June 1895.

From—O. E. BUCKLAND, Esq., Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,
To—The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

WITH reference to your letter, No. 923T., dated the 31st ultimo, I am directed to request that you will be so good as to convey to Rai Jotindra Nath Chaudhari, M.A., B.L., zamindar of Taki, in the 24-Parganas, the thanks of Government for his liberality in erecting at his own expense a boarding-house, costing Rs. 3,000, for the accommodation of non-resident students attending the Taki Government School.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BENGAL METEOROLOGICAL DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1894-95.

The following is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

The 17th June, 1895.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DURING the whole of the past year the Bengal Meteorological Department was under the control of Mr. A. Pedler, the permanent Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal.

2. The changes in the administration of the Department have again been of minor importance.

3. The number of meteorological observatories submitting reports to the Bengal Meteorological Department on the 31st March 1895 was 72, or four more than on the corresponding date in 1893, and two more than that in 1894. The voluntary observatory at Kalimpong, which was in abeyance during 1892 and 1893, has been re-opened, and regular records have been kept from the 14th September 1894. In addition to this, at the instance of Mr. J. C. White, Political Officer in Sikkim, a voluntary observatory has been started at Yatung in Tibet, and placed in charge of Mr. F. E. Taylor, the Chinese Commissioner of Customs, stationed at Yatung. Yatung is in a gorge running from the Jelep Pass roughly at right angles to the Chumbi Valley, the elevation being about 10,400 feet, and it is hoped the records of this observatory will help to extend our knowledge of meteorology in this direction. The observations were commenced from the 26th June 1894. In addition to the ordinary thermometric and rain-fall observations, Mr. Taylor has sent in valuable information regarding snowfall in that part of the Himalayas.

4. During the year arrangements were made to start a voluntary observatory at the Dapoota Tea Estate in Tezporé (Assam) under Mr. F. E. Welsh, Manager, Dapoota Tea Estate. The necessary instruments have been supplied, and it is hoped the observatory will be started shortly.

5. These 72 observatories are arranged under the following heads:—First class observatory 1, second class 16, third class 38, voluntary observatories 7, and observatories not directly under the Bengal Reporter, but submitting daily observations in connection with the storm-signal service, 10.

6. The following table will show the names and distribution of the observatories in question:—

First class observatory.	Second class observatories.	Third class observatories.	Voluntary observatories.	Other observatories reporting to the Meteorological Department, but not under the control of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal.

(a) Under the direct control of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

(b) Observer not paid by the Meteorological Department.

7. The departmental observatory established under the Port Officer, Madras, on the 7th January 1889, in connection with the Bay of Bengal Storm Signal Service, was abolished from 1st May 1894, the present Government Astronomer (Mr. Michie Smith) having agreed to supply the daily 8 A.M. observations for the Daily Weather Report as well as extra observations during storms. The observations that are now shown in the Bay of Bengal Daily Weather Report are those taken at the Government observatory at Madras.

8. The following rainfall-recording stations were added during the past year:—

while the station of Fort Aijal has been excluded, as the returns from this station were found to have been regularly published in the Assam Gazette by the Assam authorities. The station of Danreoy in the Sonthal Parganas district has been abolished, and Bansil in Bhagalpur started in its place.

9. The total number of rainfall-recording stations, as it stood on the 31st March 1895, was therefore 225, including the stations which send in monthly returns only.

10. In the Administration Report for 1893-94, it was remarked that, owing to want of funds and other unfavourable circumstances, only 12 observatories, out of a total of 54 regular departmental observatories could be inspected.

It was also remarked that the Government of India sanctioned, as a temporary measure, the plan of allowing a clerk from the Calcutta Meteorological Office to inspect the observatories and to test the condition of the instruments. Under this arrangement Babu Jati Lal De was again deputed to inspect certain observatories in Bengal during the past year, and the number of observatories inspected by him was 22. In addition to this, Mr. Pedler visited six observatories, and Mr. Gilliland, the then Officiating Second Assistant Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, three observatories, thus making a total of 31 observatories, the largest number inspected during the past ten years. The system of inspecting observatories by subordinate Officers has worked successfully, and the Government of India have, on the application of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, sanctioned the arrangement permanently.

11. The following table shows the stations that were visited during the past year, the dates on which they were visited, and the officer who inspected them, as also the condition of the observatories in which they were found at the time of inspection:—

30	Tavoy	10th October 1894	Very good.

Mr. Pedler visited Jalpaiguri twice, so that altogether 32 visits of inspection have been made by different officers of the Department.

12. Gaya had to be visited twice. As the observatory was found to be in a most unsatisfactory condition on both inspections, and as the observations were generally of very doubtful value, Mr. Pedler, when he visited the observatory in March last, dismissed Mukund Lal, the permanent observer, and appointed Babu Jagobandhu Gupta, the Civil Hospital Assistant, attached to the cholera hospital as observer.

13. On the occasion of Mr. Pedler's visit to the Jalpaiguri observatory in March 1895, he found that the work of observations was delegated to a clerk of the post office who was not properly trained, the permanent observer seldom taking the observations himself. The Jalpaiguri observations had for some time past been of very little value, the cause of which was traced to their being taken by an untrained observer without the knowledge of the Meteorological Office. The observer, Babu Dinanath Mitra, was immediately dismissed, and a clerk of the post-office appointed in his place. The matter has been reported to the Postmaster-General, Bengal, and to the Government of Bengal for such action as they may think necessary.

14. In the case of the observatories which could not be visited during the past year, the only test of the character of the work performed by them is the critical examination and comparison of the observations taken at each station with those at neighbouring stations.

15. First class observatory.—The only observatory of this class is at Alipore (Calcutta). It is under the control of the Imperial Reporter, and is under the direct charge of the Second Assistant to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India. Its working cannot therefore be reviewed in this report. The 8 A.M. observations made at this observatory are supplied daily to the Bengal Reporter with the utmost punctuality. In addition to this, extra observations whenever required during storms are promptly supplied. The observations throughout the year have been of a high order of accuracy.

16. Second class observatories.—Eight out of 16 second class observatories were inspected during the year. Of the remaining 8 observatories, False Point, Dhubri, Hazaribagh, Coconada, Saugor Island, and Narayanganj submitted accurate observations throughout the year. The observer at Sibsaagar has considerably improved, while the observer at Silchar seems to have become careless, as the reports sent by him appear at times to be faulty.

17. Third class observatories.—Twenty-two out of 38 observatories of this class were inspected during the year. Of the remaining 16 observatories the observers at Comilla, Krishnagar, Mymensingh, Rampur Boalia and Sirajganj submitted accurate observations, and those at Bankura, Malda, Bogra, Gopalpore, Nellore and Rangpur submitted observations only of a fair character, while the observer at Cuddalore seems to have been careless in his work. Thirteen mistakes were made by the Pamban observer, and hence his observations cannot be said to have been good. Gnatong made numerous errors in framing the weather telegrams, but generally his observations were good. The observer at Faridpur has been extremely careless, and Daltonganj has continued to be the worst observatory in Bengal. The Daltonganj barometric observations, which are the most important of all, have been found to be so very carelessly taken that they had to be rejected altogether.

18. Voluntary observatories.—Mr. Tasker, Lighthouse-keeper, Shortt's Island, has continued to favour the Department with his daily observations, and most valuable extra observations at short intervals during storms. The latter have been of exceptional value, as they were largely utilised in the discussion of the history of storms which visited that part of the Bay. The Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India has again awarded to Mr. Tasker a grant of Rs. 60 out of the Special Storm Observation Fund.

Mrs. A. A. Nursing Row continues to send in the daily 8 A.M. observations taken at the Vizagapatam Observatory, of which she is the proprietress, as also extra observations during storms whenever they were required.

The observations received from the Guntok Observatory have been accurate, as also those taken at Yatung under the direction of Mr. Taylor as mentioned before.

Tura, Demagiri and Lungleh have continued to submit observations of doubtful value, and it is under contemplation to discontinue the observations from Tura and Demagiri at the close of the present year.

The thanks of the Department are due to Mr. Tasker, of Shortt's Island, Mrs. A. A. Nursing Row, of Vizagapatam, Mr. White, Political Officer at Sikkim, and to Mr. Taylor, of Yatung, for their valuable assistance.

19. Awards for storm and special observations.—The system of remunerating the observers who take special observations during storms has been continued, and the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India has awarded grants to the following observers under the Bengal Reporter. The amounts depend chiefly upon the value of the observations taken :—

20. The rain-gauge stations have, on the whole, worked satisfactorily except in a few cases, where the reports have either been found to be incorrect or to have been submitted irregularly. There are certain indigo or tea planters who submit rainfall returns to this Department, and I have to thank these gentlemen for their ready co-operation.

21. In the Administration Report for 1893-94, it was remarked that the system of inspecting rain-gauges by the Collectors, Deputy Magistrates or the Civil Surgeons had been much neglected, 19 out of 320 rain-gauges having been inspected during that year. The Government of Bengal since issued further orders for the inspection of the rain-gauge stations, and it is satisfactory to notice that 120 rain-gauges were inspected during the past year. Some of the rain-gauges were inspected three or four times, and taking this fact into consideration, it was found that at the close of the past year no less than 174 visits of inspection were paid to the rain-gauge stations against 102 in 1891-92, 58 in 1892-93, and 19 in 1893-94. In this connection it may be remarked that not a single rain-gauge was inspected in the following districts:—Burdwan (having 5 stations), Midnapore (8), Jessore (5), Rajshahi (5), Dinajpur (6), Darjeeling (6), Faridpur (3), Palamau (4), and Singhbhum (8 stations).

22. The short annual report of the meteorology of Bengal in the year 1893, with two maps illustrating the actual and percentage rainfall, was prepared and submitted to the Government of Bengal on the 25th July 1894 for incorporation in the Administration Report of the Government of Bengal.

The report on the meteorology of Bengal for the monsoon season of 1894 was prepared and submitted to Government with the usual number of illustrative maps prepared by hand. This report was submitted to the Government of Bengal on 31st December 1894, and was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th January 1895.

23. The weekly and monthly Meteorological Reports for Bengal and Assam were continued under the system described in the Administration Report for 1893-94. There has practically been no change in these reports, except that the rain-gauge stations started during the year were included in the rainfall portion of these reports.

24. The Bay of Bengal Daily Weather Report with Chart—Was issued daily throughout the year without a single exception. It was generally issued not later than 11 A.M. The only change made in this report was that a further correction for constant gravity at latitude 45° is applied to the barometric observations which are included therein. This report was issued to 48 Government officials free of charge and to 32 subscribers at the rate of Rs. 2 per month. The subscriptions received during the year have been sufficient to meet the cost of the lithographic establishment, repairs to presses, &c., and there was a considerable balance in hand on the 31st March 1895, which is kept to provide new presses, &c., when required.

25. The Bengal Daily Weather Report—Dealing with the provinces of Bengal and Assam was published during the past year from 28th April to 10th November. No change whatever was made in this report. It was issued to 106 Government officials free of cost and to 19 subscribers at the rate of Rs. 2-8 per month.

26. The daily flag signal message to Saugor Island and the daily weather telegram to the Port authorities at Madras, Akyab, Rangoon, Negapatam and Coconada were continued throughout the year. This weather telegram was sent to the Port Officer, Chittagong, in accordance with orders of the Government of Bengal from 16th May to 15th November.

27. The system of forwarding meteorological information from the pilot brigs at the Sandheads by flag hoists, by the pilots of inward-bound vessels when passing Saugor Island has been continued, and 354 telegrams and post-cards were received in this way during the year.

28. The system of telegraphing a summary of the weather (by a Special Code) experienced by the Commanders of the steamers of the British India Steam Navigation Company during their voyages from Madras to Rangoon, Calcutta to Rangoon, &c., has been continued, and has worked successfully during the past year, and 145 telegrams were received in this way.

Storm-Signal Service.

29. The working of the Bay of Bengal Storm-Signal Service has been unaltered during the year.

30. The dates of the principal storms occurring during the year are given in the first of the two following tables, and the action taken in the matter of issuing storm warnings and hoisting storm signals is indicated in the second of these tables:—

Table giving a brief statement of the storms which affected the Bay of Bengal coasts during the year 1894.

1	April 26th to 29th ...	Small cyclonic storm of considerable intensity formed in the Andaman Sea. The storm originated to the west of the Tenasserim coast on the 27th or the morning of the 28th. It developed rapidly on that day and advanced into the Gulf of Martaban, and it was a little to the south of the mouth of the Rangoon river at 8 A.M. of the 29th, and was moving in a north-easterly direction. The centre of the storm passed inland about midway between Rangoon and Moulmein about 11 A.M. on the 29th and afterwards broke up during the night of this date. It was a rather severe storm, though small in extent, and appears to have done a considerable amount of damage.	Burma coast.
2	June 12th to 15th ...	Small cyclonic storm originating in the north-east of the Bay and over the neighbouring parts of South-East Bengal on the 12th, the centre of which was on the 13th not far from Chittagong. Immediately after its formation, it began to move in a north-westerly direction, and on the 14th was between Jessore and Faridpur, but it had filled up to a certain extent. On the 15th it was in Chota Nagpur, probably not far from Chaibassa, but was then decidedly feeble, and on the 16th had passed away from the province altogether.	Bengal coast.
3	June 20th to 23rd ...	Feeble barometric depression formed in the north of the Bay on the 20th, and after developing slightly passed inland during the 21st, and on the 22nd was between Chaibassa and Balasore, while on the 23rd it was to the west of Chota Nagpur.	Bengal coast.
4	July 8th to 14th ...	Severe storm formed in the east of the Bay on the 8th and developed moderately up till the 10th, when it began to move in a westerly direction, and the centre crossed the Orissa coast almost immediately over Puri at about 3 A.M. of the 12th. It broke up in Lower Sind on the 14th and 15th of July.	Orissa coast.
5	July 14th to 23rd ...	Severe cyclonic storm formed in the north of the Bay on the 14th or 15th with a centre probably to the west of the middle of the Bay, and it advanced slowly in a north-north-westerly direction towards the north-west angle of the Bay, crossing the coast a little to the south of Balasore soon after noon of the 17th. It	Orissa and Bengal coasts.

No. of storm.	Period of depression or storm.	Character of storm.	Coast affected.
6	July 22nd to 28th ...	broke up in Lower Sind on the 23rd and 24th. Severe cyclonic storm formed in the north-east of the Bay on the 22nd and 23rd, and rapidly developed in severity. It advanced inland in a west-north-westerly direction, and on the morning of July 24th it was close to Calcutta. It afterwards passed between Midnapore and Bankura, and on the 28th it filled up near Suttia.	Bengal coast.
7	August 6th to 9th ...	Feeble barometric depression formed over the north-west angle of the Bay on the 6th, and advanced westwards into the Central Provinces, where it broke up on the 9th.	Orissa coast.
8	August 11th to 19th ...	Moderate depression formed over the south-east of the province, and gradually advanced in a north-westerly direction to Nowgong, where it filled up. This depression was in existence for no less than eight days.	Bengal coast.
9.	September 23rd to 27th ...	Feeble cyclonic storm formed at the head of the Bay on the 23rd, which steadily intensified until the afternoon of the 27th, when it passed inland near Puri as a storm of moderate severity.	Orissa coast.
10	October 2nd to 6th ...	Barometric depression formed at the head of the Bay, the centre of which passed inland on the evening of October 2nd between Balasore and Sanguor Island, moving in a north-westerly direction. It broke up near Naini Tal.	Bengal and Orissa coasts.
11	October 18th to 22nd ...	Cyclonic storm formed in the centre of the Bay, and advanced in a west-north-westerly direction, crossing the coast between Nellore and Madras on the early morning of the 21st, and it afterwards apparently broke up on the 22nd.	Coromandel coast.
12	October 29th to Nov. 4th	Very large but rather diffused cyclonic storm generated on the 29th October near the Andaman Islands, and then advanced slowly across the Bay, crossing the coast between Coconada and Masulipatam about 6 A.M. on November 2nd. It broke up after passing inland for a short distance on November 4th.	Circars and Ganjam coast.

31. The staff of the Meteorological Office has remained practically unchanged during the past year. Under the able superintendence of the Head Clerk, Babu Fanindra Mohan Basu, the office has worked smoothly and very efficiently, and this has enabled the numerous reports, returns, maps, &c., published by the Bengal Meteorological Department to be issued regularly and with great punctuality throughout the year.

32. The work of Babu Jati Lal De as Inspector of Observatories or Instructor of Observers was not under my supervision, but I have been given to understand that he has carried it out with much energy and success. The arrangement was temporary at first, and its value, as regards efficiency, is shown by the fact that it has recently been made permanent by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE,
CALCUTTA;
The 15th May 1895.

C. LITTLE,
Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORT

Burdwan.—Rainfall at Burdwan 1·39. Weather hot and rainy at intervals. Land is being prepared for aman rice. Common rice sells from 10 to 21 seers a rupee.

Midnapore.—Rainfall 1·74. Weather cloudy. Sowing of aman paddy continues. Prospects of indigo, sugarcane and til (sesumum) good. Tobacco and jara doing badly. Common rice selling at 16 to 20 seers a rupee. Want of good drinking water felt in most part of Contai subdivision, where more rain is reported to be urgently needed.

24 Parganas.—Rainfall at Sadar 1·70. Weather seasonable. Prospects of crops good except on the north. Sowing of aus and jute completed. Ploughing going on for sowing of aman on high lands. Condition of cattle good. Fodder and water sufficient. Rice sells at—

} per rupee.

Murshidabad.—Rainfall 1·51. Weather seasonable. Harvesting of til continues. Indigo and sugarcane doing well. Late rain has done good to crops. Fodder available. Price of common rice 16 seers per rupee.

Khulna.—Rainfall at Khulna 74, Bagerhat 1·97, Satkhira 3·86. Weather hot. Aus and jute sowings almost over. Weeding of aus and jute going on. Cultivation of lands for aman continues. Common rice sells from 17 to 23 seers per rupee. Fodder and water sufficient.

Dinajpur.—Average rainfall 1·96. Weather very hot. Standing crops good. Price of common rice 15 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease, nor any complaint for fodder or drinking water.

Rangpur.—Average rainfall 2·46. Weather very hot. Rain on Saturday (15th June) has greatly benefited all the crops. General outlook now promising. Fodder sufficient.

Pabna.—Rainfall 93. Weather hot. Clouds and rain since yesterday (16th). Standing crops doing well. Common rice selling at 16 seers a rupee at Pabna and 14 seers at Sirajganj. Fodder and water sufficient.

Dacca.—Rainfall 37. Weather hot. Prospects of crops good. Aus is being harvested. Common rice selling at 19 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease. Fodder plentiful.

Chittagong.—Rainfall 4·54. Weather hot. Ploughing and sowing in progress. Prospects of crops fair. Water and fodder sufficient. Prices have slightly risen.

Patna.—Rainfall 3·46. The rain has been opportune for agricultural purposes. Fields are being prepared for bhadoi and paddy cultivation. Common rice selling from 16½ to 18 seers per rupee.

Gaya.—Report not received.

Champanan.—Rainfall at Motihari 2·11. Sowing of bhadoi and aghani crops has commenced. Fodder and water for cattle sufficient. Common rice selling at 16 seers a rupee.

Darbhanga.—Rainfall 39. Weather cloudy. More rain wanted for bhadoi sowings. Fodder and water sufficient for cattle. Prices stationary.

Bhagalpur.—Rain on 16th. Weather cool. Sowing of bhadoi was being delayed and paddy seedlings were suffering from want of rain. Common rice sells at 17 seers 10 chitaks per rupee. Fodder and water-supply sufficient.

Purnea.—Rainfall 2·06. Bhadoi rice, jute and indigo are doing well. More rain is wanted for the transplantation of aghani paddy. Manufacture of indigo has begun. Fodder and water sufficient. Cattle-disease called chanmasia or sores in hoofs is prevalent in parts of thana Araria. Common rice selling from 16 to 20 seers a rupee at Sadar.

Cuttack.—Rainfall 1·73. Weather hot and cloudy. Rain well distributed. Sowing of beali and sarad rice in progress. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Rice sells from 11 seers 13 chitaks to 25 seers per rupee.

Hazaribagh.—Weather unsettled: cloudy occasionally. Ploughing and sowing in progress. Sugarcane doing well. Common rice selling at 13 to 16 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—There was rain over the whole province during the week. It has been generally very beneficial, especially in Bihar, where it was much needed. The cultivation of lands for the bhadoi crops and for the winter rice is in progress. The standing crops of jute, early rice, sugarcane and indigo are generally reported promising. In Dacca the early rice is being harvested, and the manufacture of indigo has begun in Purnea. Cattle-disease is said to be prevalent in parts of thana Araria in Purnea; elsewhere cattle are in good condition. The price of common rice continues stationary. It is below the average of the previous four years.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1895.

WEATHER during May has never been seriously disturbed either in the Bay or in Bengal; and during the greater part of the month fine settled weather prevailed, if the local thunderstorms and occasional rainfall be left out of consideration. But towards the end of the month there was a period of unusual heat, at times over a great part of the province, though chiefly in the southern and western districts. At the same time pressure underwent larger changes, and a well-marked feature of the weather was the strong winds, which developed in the north of the Bay and in Lower Bengal.

It will be remembered that towards the end of April a cyclonic storm formed in the Bay and crossed the Arakan coast, after which unsettled weather with steep gradients and strong winds prevailed for some days in Bengal. There was also in the west of the province a considerable excess of temperature, which gave way on the occurrence of thunderstorms in the districts affected.

The unsettled weather in May had a similar origin in a disturbance over the Bay, but there was a great difference from that of April. There was no well-defined storm, and only a very shallow depression was observed to cross the coast, taking a south-easterly direction into Burma. The steep gradients which had been gradually developing over the south of the Bay moved northwards and remained, for some days near the end of May, in the north of the Bay and in Lower Bengal, during which time strong winds and generally unsettled weather prevailed.

The following table shows how the winds at the beginning of the month were still to a certain extent affected by the depression which occurred in April, how a period of comparatively calm weather followed, and how a steady increase of wind velocity was ended by the strong winds which blew during the last few days of the month:—

In the first column under each week is given the average daily velocity, and in the second the highest daily velocity during that week in miles. It will be seen that velocity fell largely at all the stations about the beginning of the month, and that there was a steady increase during the rest of the month except at Patna, where the maximum occurred between the 18th and 25th. The difference at the last station was probably due to the low pressure over the north of the province, causing a reversal or weakening of the easterly winds which usually prevail in Bihar. This arrangement of pressure had another important effect in causing the hot westerly winds which led to the intense heat in the south-west of the province during the latter part of the month.

During the settled weather which prevailed in the early part of the month, with the exception of the first few days, temperature was not, as a rule, different from the normal. The local thunderstorms caused an occasional fall, but there was an immediate recovery. At times, however, during the first week, and also towards the end of the month, there were large contrasts between the daily means in different parts of the province.

The following table shows these differences in degrees, the signs indicating excess and defect:—

MAY.	Station.	Difference from normal.	Station.	Difference from normal.

On the 1st low temperature was in the north of the province, and the hotter weather in the south or south-west. On the 6th and 7th in the west as compared with the east, while at the end of the month there was a complete reversal. Owing to these variations the mean temperature for the month does not differ very largely from the normal. In Chota Nagpur there was excess of 2° , and in North and East Bengal of about half a degree.

The calm weather during the first half of the month was probably due to the high pressure which generally prevailed, especially in the western districts, up till the 12th. After that readings were relatively low over Bengal and defect increased, though irregularly, till the end of the third week, when there was a large defect. The differences from normal pressure have, on the three occasions, when temperature was most abnormal, been opposite to those of temperature. On May 1st readings were very nearly normal in Orissa, and a tenth of an inch above in Assam. On the 6th and 7th the greatest excess was in the west of Bihar and Chota Nagpur, and the least in East Bengal and Assam; while towards the end of the month defect was much greater in the west of the province than in the east.

About the 12th an advance of monsoon winds began at the Ceylon stations, and continued till about the 20th. Soon afterwards they became felt in Burma, and the unsettled weather, which led to the strong winds in the north of the Bay, slowly developed. As stated above, no very definite depression formed, but there were steep gradients in the south of the Bay and very uniform readings at the northern stations. The influence of the disturbance was very slight on the wind directions on the Orissa Coast, as they remained south-west, and it was only at Akyab, Chittagong, and Noakhali that winds became northerly. A rise of pressure began in the south-west of the Bay about the 20th, and spread quickly northwards. It was rapid in Burma and moderate at the other coast stations, while inland there was a slow fall. The effect of these changes was to transfer the steep gradients northwards, and to cause a shallow depression over Bengal, where readings were a fifth of an inch below the normal. Westerly winds prevailed in the west and centre of the province, and it was owing to this hot westerly wind that temperature rose so rapidly at many stations in Orissa, Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal. The rise of pressure continued on the 21st rapidly in Burmah and Arakan, and at a diminishing rate towards the north-west. The area of lowest pressure was therefore forced westward and the westerly winds confined to Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The rainy weather which followed the slight disturbance in the east of the Bay slowly extended northwards, and heavy rain became general in East Bengal and Assam and in parts of North and South-West Bengal. On the 22nd there was again a more rapid increase of pressure in the east than in the west, and gradients became steep from east to west. This distribution caused strong southerly and easterly winds in all districts except Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where the hot westerly winds continued. Thunderstorms became more general and led to a large reduction of temperature. Comparatively cool weather shortly after became general over the whole province except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

Pressure.—Was above the normal during the early part of the month, excess being generally below a tenth of an inch. The change began about the 13th, and from then till the end of the month relatively low pressure obtained especially during the last week, when there was a large defect, at times amounting to about a quarter of an inch. The means for the month are below the normal at all stations by amounts varying from $\cdot 01$ inch in North Bengal to nearly $\cdot 05$ inch in part of South-West Bengal.

Temperature.—Changes have been unusually large at times especially towards the end of the month. At the beginning there was comparatively cool weather, but during the fine settled weather which followed temperature steadily rose and reached a maximum about the 11th in all districts except Assam and North Bengal, where it began to fall about the 8th. The average excess for the week ending on the 11th was over 2° in Bengal and Assam, and there was defect of nearly 4° in Chota Nagpur. After a temporary fall it again began to rise, and for some time was above the normal over a great part of the province. The unsettled weather which followed the slight disturbance in the Bay led to low temperatures in the eastern half of the province, but the change in the western districts was smaller, and excess continued till the end of the month.

The highest maximum temperature recorded in South-West Bengal was $116^{\circ} \cdot 1$, in Orissa 116° , in Chota Nagpur $115^{\circ} \cdot 7$, in Bihar $113^{\circ} \cdot 5$ and in North Bengal 105° .

The greatest mean excess for the whole month is 2° in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur. In Bihar, Orissa and Assam it is between 1° and 2° , and in East and North Bengal under 1° .

Rainfall.—In the early part of the month, while weather was still slightly disturbed, rainfall was more copious over the whole province than is usual at the beginning of May. During the fine weather that followed very little rain fell, but it increased about the middle of the month when thunderstorms were very frequent. During the last half of the month, heavy rain fell in East Bengal, but in the other districts there was considerably less than the average.

For the whole month East Bengal alone has received more than the normal, the fall being $11 \cdot 33$ inches as compared with $8 \cdot 52$ inches. South-West and North Bengal, Chota Nagpur and Bihar are each below the normal by less than 1 inch, and in Orissa there is defect of more than 2 inches, the actual fall being less than half the normal.

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall the month of May for all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain reporting stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slightly different form, stating as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal:—

* Mean for 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the years 1871-80. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentages, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 100. The mean at the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the individual stations for the period in question. The station in the district sending it, return divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 15th of June 1895.

TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA-
THE 15TH OF JUNE 1895.

The most notable features of the weather of the past week have been the continued high pressure over the province as compared with the normal and the uniform distribution over the area including Bengal and the Bay. A direct consequence has been the calm weather which has prevailed, and the absence of rainfall especially in Assam and the eastern districts of Bengal. As excess has been greatest in the central districts and has diminished towards the east, the easterly current which usually blows from Assam across North Bengal has been weaker than usual and for a few days in the middle of the week was replaced by a westerly current up the Brahmaputra Valley.

On the 9th, the first day of the week, there was excess of between $\cdot 15$ inch and $\cdot 2$ inch over South-West Bengal, and from there it diminished in all directions, slowly over the north of the Bay, but more quickly in the south. A fall of pressure had begun; and this continued throughout the week, slowly as a rule. There was a slow rise on the 10th which was followed by a brisk fall on the 11th, and these variable changes appear to have caused slightly unsettled weather, because thunderstorms with light rain were more general over the province than at any other time during the week. The rain fell on the 10th in the extreme west of the province and spread eastward on the 11th. The causes must therefore have been different from those which usually lead to thunderstorms at this season as the rain begins in the east and spreads westward. A fall of temperature followed the rainfall beginning in south-west and extending towards the north-east, and on the 11th there was defect in mean temperature over the whole province except in North Bengal and part of Assam, where there was still excess of two or three degrees.

As the pressure continued to give way over Bengal and Assam, readings became relatively low in the east, and westerly winds began at first in Assam and afterwards over a great part of the province. On the 12th directions were south-west or west in East Bengal and Assam, and also at Gnatong, and on the 13th the only easterly winds were reported from the north of Bihar. When this westerly current became general temperature steadily rose and fine calm weather prevailed till towards the end of the week, when again a series of thunderstorms spread over the province from the west. On the 15th, the last day of the week under review the thunderstorms were confined to Bihar and North Bengal, but some very heavy falls of rain occurred in these districts, and temperature fell several degrees in the west of Bihar. The steady fall of pressure throughout the week resulted in an almost normal distribution over Bengal, and along the west coast of the Bay, while in the east of the Bay a low pressure area was developing and towards it strong westerly winds were blowing across the south of the Bay.

With the removal of this high pressure over Bengal, the northward motion of the monsoon current has become more likely. The weakening effect of the obstacle, which it offered to the free movement of the moist current from the Bay, has been very apparent in the rainfall for the week. It has been very scanty in all districts, but especially in East and North Bengal which receive heavy rain at this time of the year. The normal rainfall for North Bengal is 4.51 and in East Bengal 5.58 inches, whereas the former has received only 1.59 inches, chiefly on the last day of the week, and the latter less than one inch. In Assam also very little rain has fallen, Sibsagar reporting none, Dhubri a third of an inch and Silchar 3.76 inches.

Pressure.—As stated above has been steadily falling throughout the week, and has been above the normal, though only by small amounts at the end. There is, therefore, excess in mean pressure at all stations, in Assam and part of North Bengal by less than $\cdot 1$ inch and in other districts by between $\cdot 1$ inch and $\cdot 13$ inch.

Temperature has generally been below the normal by small amounts in Orissa and above elsewhere, excess increasing towards the north-east. On the 11th, and about the end of the week the area of comparatively cool weather extended eastward, but only over the western districts. Mean temperature for the week is below the normal in Orissa by about 1° , and above elsewhere, by small amounts in Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal, by 1.6° in East Bengal, 2.7° in Assam, and 3° in Bihar and North Bengal.

Rainfall has been light and scattered over a great part of the province. Showers were fairly general in the west of the province on the 10th and 11th and on the latter date in other districts. Heavy showers fell in parts of Bihar and North Bengal on the 15th. With these exceptions weather has been almost rainless. The mean falls for the larger subdivisions are much below the normal in all districts, especially in East and North Bengal. Bihar and Orissa received about half the normal fall, Chota Nagpur one-third, South-West and North Bengal one-fourth and East Bengal only one-fifth.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 15th of June 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

ACT No. V OF 1895.

An Act to provide for the segregation of pauper lepers, and the control of lepers exercising certain trades.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the segregation of pauper lepers, and to regulate the exercise by lepers of certain trades or callings; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called “the Lepers Act, 1895.” It shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

2. In this Act—

“Leper” means any person suffering from any variety of leprosy in whom the process of ulceration has commenced.

“Pauper leper” means a leper (a) who has in a public place solicited alms, exposed or exhibited any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity with the object of exciting charity, or of obtaining alms; or (b) who is at large without any ostensible means of subsistence.

3. The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, declare any place to be a leper asylum, and may define the local areas from which lepers may be sent to such asylum, and may alter or cancel such notification.

Local Government may create leper asylums.

4. Notwithstanding anything in any enactment with respect to the purposes to which the funds or other property of a local authority may be applied, any Council, Board, Committee, Corporation or other body having authority over such local fund may—

Power of local authorities to expend funds and appropriate property to asylums.

(a) Establish or maintain, or establish and maintain, or contribute towards the cost of the establishment or maintenance, or the establishment and maintenance of a leper asylum either within or without the local limits of such local authority.

(b) With the previous sanction of the Local Government and subject to such condition as that Government may prescribe, appropriate any immovable property vested in, or under the control of, such body, as a site for, or for use as, a leper asylum.

5. The Local Government may appoint any Medical Officer, either by name or by virtue of his office, to be an Inspector of Lepers and any person to be a Superintendent of a Leper Asylum, with such establishment as may be necessary, and such persons shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of section twenty-one of the Indian Penal Code.

Appointment of Inspectors of Lepers and Superintendents of Asylums.

6. The Local Government shall appoint for every leper asylum a Board consisting of not less than three members, one of whom at least shall be a medical officer.

Appointment of Board.

7. Within any local area which has been notified under section three of this Act, any police officer may arrest without a warrant any person who appears to him to be a pauper leper.

Arrest of pauper lepers.

8. Any person so arrested as a pauper leper shall forthwith be taken before an Inspector of Lepers, who,

Person arrested how to be dealt with.

(a) if he finds that such person is not a leper, within the meaning of section two, shall give to him a certificate in the form (A) provided in the schedule, and he shall forthwith be discharged;

(b) if he finds that such person is a leper, within the meaning of section two, shall give to the person in whose custody the leper is a certificate in the form (B) provided in the schedule, and the leper shall, without unnecessary delay, and within twenty-four hours, exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Inspector of Lepers, and thence to the Magistrate's Court, be taken before a Magistrate having jurisdiction under this Act.

9. When it appears to any Magistrate, authorized in this behalf by the Local Government, upon the certificate in writing, in the form (B) provided in the schedule, of an Inspector of Lepers, that any person is a leper; and if it further appears to such Magistrate that such person is a pauper leper, he shall, after recording the evidence and his order thereon, send such pauper leper in charge of a police officer together with an order, in writing, in the form (C) provided in the schedule, signed by him and bearing the seal of the Court, to a leper asylum, where such pauper leper shall be detained until discharged by order of the Board.

Procedure with regard to pauper lepers.

10. Two or more members of the Board, one of whom shall be a medical officer, shall, once at least in every month, together inspect the leper asylum for which they are appointed, and see and examine (a) every pauper leper therein admitted since the last inspection, together with the order for his admission, and (b) as far as circumstances will permit, every other pauper leper therein, and shall enter in a book to be kept for the purpose any remarks which they may deem proper in regard to the management and condition of the asylum and the pauper lepers therein.

Inspection by Board.

11. It shall be lawful for two members of the Board of any leper asylum, of whom one shall be a medical officer, at any time, by an order in writing, in the form (D) provided in the schedule, signed by them, to direct the discharge of a pauper leper from a leper asylum.

Order of discharge by Board.

12. It shall be lawful for the Commissioners of any municipality at a meeting, from time to time, to make, repeal and alter bye-laws, subject to the confirmation of the Local Government, prohibiting any person who is reasonably believed to be a leper from carrying on any specified trade or calling within the limits of, or any specified limits within, the municipality, unless and until he has obtained from an Inspector of Lepers a certificate in the form (A) provided in the schedule. On conviction before a Magistrate of a breach of such bye-law, a fine may be inflicted not exceeding rupees twenty, and a fine of rupees ten for each day during which the offence is continued after conviction for such offence. The provisions of the Act under which the Commissioners are appointed and elected relating to bye-laws shall apply to any bye-law made, repealed or altered under this Act.

Power of Commissioners to make bye-laws with regard to lepers.

13. It shall be lawful for an Inspector of Lepers to require any person, whom he has reason to believe to be (a) a pauper leper, or (b) a leper carrying on any trade or calling within a municipality which it is unlawful for a leper to carry on, to afford him reasonable opportunity of satisfying himself whether such person is a leper or not, and such leper shall, when so required, be legally bound to afford an Inspector of Lepers such opportunity.

14. Any person other than a pauper leper, in respect of whom an Inspector of Lepers has issued a certificate in the form (B) provided in the schedule declaring him to be a leper, or has refused to issue a certificate in the form (A) provided in the schedule, may appeal to such officer as may be appointed by the Local Government to hear such appeals, and the decision of such officer shall be final.

15. (1) It shall be lawful for the Local Government from time to time to make, repeal and alter rules which shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, (a) for the guidance of all or any of the officers discharging any duty under this Act, (b) for the management of and maintenance of discipline in a leper asylum, and (c) generally for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) All proposed rules and every proposed repeal or alteration of any rule shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and all rules and the repeal or alteration of any rule subsequently published in the Calcutta Gazette not less than one month from the date of the last publication of the proposed rules or proposed repeal or alteration of any rule, shall have the force of law.

THE CONSTRUCTION OF A BOARDING-HOUSE FOR THE STUDENTS OF THE CALCUTTA MADRASA.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Darjeeling, the 21st June 1895.

READ—

Letter No. 877, dated 12th February 1895, from the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Letter No. 1095, dated 16th March 1895, to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

The number of Muhammadan students in the Calcutta Madrasa on the 31st March last was 957, of whom 40 were in the College Department, 322 in the Anglo-Persian Department, 222 in the Branch School, and 373 in the Arabic Department, including 163 students of the latter department who attend voluntary English classes. The accommodation provided for this large number of students has been for some years admittedly deficient, both in class rooms and in sleeping space for boarders. In May 1891, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctioned a grant for the construction of an upper story over the western wing of the Madrasa, in order to provide increased space for the Branch School; but it was ascertained on examination that the foundations were unable to bear the weight, and the design was abandoned. Sanction had also been given in 1888 to hiring a separate house, at a rent of Rs. 150 a month, for those boarders who could not find proper accommodation in the Madrasa building.

2. It has long been Sir Charles Elliott's desire to build, with the assistance of private liberality, a separate boarding-house for the Madrasa. The present arrangements for lodging the students in the upper story of the Madrasa building are insufficient and most unsuitable. A separate boarding-house would not only provide the accommodation required for those students whose homes are outside Calcutta, but would also set free the upper part of the present building, now occupied by boarders, for a much-needed extension of the class room accommodation. In both ways, therefore, an end would be put to the present overcrowding of students. But while this project has long been recognized as desirable, it has hitherto languished for want of the necessary funds. The Government of Bengal has not been in a position to make any large grant from Provincial Revenues, and until that could be done, it appeared useless to appeal to private liberality.

Private effort, however, directed to the same end, has not been wanting. Fortified by the promise of Sir Charles Elliott that all sums contributed by private liberality would be met by an equal grant from the Government, an appeal setting forth the need of a Muhammadan hostel in Calcutta was circulated to the public early in 1893, by Dr. R. Hoernle, Principal of the Madrasa,

The Hon'ble Prince Sir Jahan
Kadr Mirza Muhammad Wahid
Ali Bahadur, K.C.I.E., of the Oudh family.

associating with himself the gentlemen named in the margin. It was pointed out that Muhammadan parents living in the mufassal were often deterred from sending their children to Calcutta for education by the difficulty of finding suitable lodgings for them at a moderate cost, and proper supervision for them when lodged. Notwithstanding these grounds of apprehension, the influx of Muhammadan students to Calcutta was so large that the provision of further accommodation had become a matter of pressing urgency. The gentlemen named had therefore formed themselves into a Committee for the purpose of collecting subscriptions to build a suitable house in the immediate neighbourhood of the Madrasa; and they appealed with confidence to the wealthy members of the Muhammadan community, as well as others, for funds to enable them to carry out that object. It was added that provision was required for 200 students, and that the approximate cost would be Rs. 70,000 for each 100 students. As experience showed that about one-half of the Muhammadan students coming to live in Calcutta were too poor to be able, without assistance, to defray the cost of their living, it was proposed to set apart a portion of the building for the purpose of providing free lodging for poor and meritorious students. It was also proposed that subscribers should enjoy, in proportion to the amount of their donations, certain privileges in respect of the nomination to free studentships, and in other ways.

4. The result of this appeal to private munificence has, on the whole, been satisfactory. In 1893 and 1894, a sum of Rs. 12,000 was realised from the gentlemen named below:—

	Rs.
Nawab Khwaja Ahsanullah Bahadur, C.I.E. ...	6,000
His Highness the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad, C.C.I.E. ...	2,500
His Highness the Nawab of Junagarh ...	1,500
Maulvi Ali Ahmad Sahib (for Mussamat Bibi Soghra) ...	1,000
Nawab Saiyid Vilayut Ali Khan, C.I.E. ...	500
The Muhammadan Literary Society of Calcutta ...	500
Total ...	12,000

Early in the year 1895, a contribution of Rs. 5,000 was promised, and has since been paid, to the Hostel Fund from the estate of the late Saiyid Basarat Ali Chaudhuri of Tippera. A further contribution of Rs. 2,000 has within the last few days been received from Haji Kasim Ariff of Calcutta. Both of these have been obtained through the influence of Mr. A. F. Abdur Rahman, who has taken great interest in the furtherance of the project. There is, therefore, for the furtherance of the present purpose, a sum of Rs. 19,000 already in hand; and there is reason to hope that liberal contributions will be obtained from other sources also. Sir Charles Elliott now finds himself in a position to supplement the sums provided by private liberality by a considerable grant from Provincial Revenues. He has agreed to make a grant of Rs. 50,000 from this source in order that a beginning may be made at once with the boarding-house, and in the hope that further contributions may come in when it is seen that the project has been taken in hand.

5. Accordingly, a scheme has now been drawn up in the Public Works Department, under the Lieutenant-Governor's orders, for taking up a piece of land in the immediate neighbourhood of the Madrasa, to the north-east, and for building a boarding-house upon it. The boarding-house will be double-storied, in the form of three sides of a quadrangle, facing Wellesley Square to the south, and open to the north. It will be capable of extension to the north, and will be able to carry a third story if required. The portion now to be built is designed to accommodate 96 students, and also to provide quarters for a resident Superintendent and a medical officer, together with a library and reading-room. The estimate for the land amounts to Rs. 39,421, and for the building Rs. 60,321, or approximately a lakh of rupees in all. Of this amount the Government of Bengal is prepared to contribute one-half, in the hope that the other half will be contributed by the public. Should the financial position of the Government and the amount of private contributions justify, at some future time, the further extensions contemplated above, the building, when finally completed, is designed to accommodate 64 more students in the northern wing and 84 in the third story, or a total number of 244 students. This is about the number of students of the Madrassa whose homes are outside Calcutta; and if the full design is carried out, residence in the hostel will be made compulsory for all such students. The additional cost involved in these extensions will amount approximately to Rs. 82,000.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor expresses a confident hope that the commencement of this useful work, which is to be taken in hand at once, will elicit the promise of further contribution in aid of it from the Muhammadan community, and indeed from all who are interested in the progress of Muhammadan education. To students of that creed, resident in the mufassal, the Calcutta Madrasa offers exceptional advantages in the way of education. Hitherto the great drawback has been the absence of satisfactory supervision over the conduct and the general welfare of those of its students who come from a distance, and who have often been compelled, from poverty and other causes, to occupy indifferent lodgings amid questionable surroundings. The establishment of a spacious hostel, under adequate supervision and with every necessary arrangement for the health and comfort of the students, will relieve mufassal students from all these disadvantages, and will be of benefit alike to their studies, their health, and their character. It is not possible, nor even is it desirable, that the Government should undertake this duty unassisted. The matter is one which closely concerns the Muhammadan community and its future advancement, and Sir Charles Elliott cannot but feel confident that the efforts of Government on behalf of the younger members of that community will meet with a cordial and liberal response from its leaders.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR 1894.

No. 1154 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th June 1895.

READ—

Letters Nos. 2360, 2512 and 33T., dated 13th March, 23rd March, and 3rd May 1895, respectively, from the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, submitting the Report of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta for 1894.

This report, which was due to Government on the 1st March, was submitted by Dr. Rigby on the 4th February, without any mention of the Mecca pilgrim traffic, although special instructions had been given him to refer to this subject, and with a very inadequate account of the measures taken to protect the Port of Calcutta from infection by the plague prevalent in Hongkong. It was returned to have these deficiencies filled up, and has at last been received in a fairly complete form with the Sanitary Commissioner's letter of the 3rd May.

2. Establishment.—The duties of the Health Officer were performed by Surgeon-Major Macrae from 1st to 19th January, by Dr. Forsyth from 20th January to 3rd April, and by Dr. Rigby from 4th April to 31st August and from 1st October to 31st December. In the interval Dr. E. Dobson officiated. There was no change in the office establishment.

The new steam-launch Relief was completed and put into use from April.

3. Inspections.—The total number of vessels inspected was 1,589, against 1,465 in 1893. The total number of vessels which arrived in the port was 1,014, of which 800 were inspected during the year. There were 1,031 departures, of which 789 were inspected. The Health Officer explains that all the ships and steamers to or from foreign ports are inspected when they arrive at or leave the port. The steamers which make constant coasting voyages to Indian and Eastern ports are inspected as frequently as possible, but it is impossible to inspect all of them, both on arrival and departure, owing to their large number and frequent goings and comings.

4. Ventilation of crews' quarters.—The Health Officer reports that in many vessels improvements have been made in the ventilation of the fore-castle and in the provision of bath-rooms and latrines for sailors, and it is satisfactory to find that owners and agents are willing and anxious to do all in their power to assist and carry out all the suggestions made by him.

5. Sickness and mortality among European seamen.—The number of European seamen who arrived in the port during the year was 17,900, against 16,218 in 1893. The daily average number in port was 1,481, against 2,081 in 1893. The total number of admissions into hospital was 1,462, and the death-rate per mille was 16.20, against 13.93 in the previous year. Including the deaths out of hospital, the death-rate per mille during the year was 26.33, against 24.50, 15.47, and 35.7 in the three preceding years.

6. Of the admissions into hospital, 10 cases were due to cholera, 8 of which were fatal. There were 1 case of small-pox and 4 cases of sunstroke, with 1 death. Two convictions were obtained before the Chief Presidency Magistrate for breach of the port rules in working men exposed to the sun during prohibited hours. In 1893 there were four prosecutions with two convictions. There were 70 admissions from bowel-complaints, and this large number of cases is attributed to the habit among the seamen of purchasing bread and aerated waters of an inferior and impure character. The attention of the Chairman of the Corporation has been drawn to this, with a view to more careful examination of these articles by the Municipal Sanitary Inspector. There were 12 deaths from drowning, against 15 in 1893.

7. The following table shows the number of admissions to hospital from venereal diseases during 1894 and the previous 10 years:—

Year.	Admissions.	Admission rate per 1000.
1	2	3
1884	184	109.2
1885	170	100.4
1886	417	179.2
1887	228	120.4
1888	183	121.1
1889	186	114.3
1890	248	147.7
1891	185	129.7
1892	479	224.5
1893	386	185.4
1894	543	231.6

While the number of admissions was not so large as last year, the ratio is, however, higher.

8. Sickness and mortality among the native floating population.—There were in all 137 deaths in and out of hospital, against 72 in 1893 and 132 in 1892. The death-rate per mille is 5.34, and is considerably higher than the rate in 1892 and 1893. Of the total deaths, 35 were in hospital and 102 out of hospital. There were 83 deaths from cholera—23 in hospital and 60 out of hospital. There were 6 cases of scurvy, which has been ascribed to bad ventilation and feeding on unwholesome fish.

9. Pilgrims.—No vessels left the Port of Calcutta during the year with pilgrims for the Red Sea, but there were two arrivals during the year, viz., the S. S. Jubeda and S. S. Sultan. These vessels left Jedda with 1,341 passengers and lost 20 before they reached Bombay: they brought 792 passengers on from Bombay to Calcutta, of whom 6 died on the way. None of these deaths were due to epidemic disease.

10. Quarantine.—Owing to an outbreak of bubonic plague at the ports of Hongkong and Canton, quarantine rules were put into force on all vessels arriving at Calcutta from these ports from the 1st July to the 17th September 1894.

During this period, 10 vessels arrived from Hongkong with a total of 551 passengers, and were detained at the Muteabrooj quarantine moorings. None of these vessels had any sickness on board, and as the voyage lasts from 15 to 17 days, there was little fear of latent infection being introduced by the passengers. The danger was confined to articles which might be conductors, and the hold together with mails, baggage, clothing and effects of the crews were thoroughly fumigated. The forecastles were also fumigated, washed with carbolic acid and repainted. The time the vessels were detained for fumigation ranged from 3 to 48 hours.

In regard to the value of these measures as far as plague is concerned, the Health Officer expresses a doubt if the apparatus used for the purpose of fumigation would be an efficient germ-destroyer if it existed in any of the imported articles, and he suggests that some permanent and effective arrangements should be undertaken to place the port under thorough protection from the importation of contagious and infectious diseases. This suggestion will receive the consideration of Government; but, whatever the decision arrived at, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot but express his satisfaction that the city of Calcutta escaped the dreaded disease which caused such heavy mortality at Hongkong.

11. The number of corpses found floating in the river was 79, the figures for the last four years being 72, 59, 105, and 60, respectively. The prevalence of this nuisance, both in Calcutta and in the province generally, has attracted the attention of Government, and a resolution has issued in the Judicial Department with the object of eliciting opinion in favour of drastic executive action for the prevention of the practice.

12. Water-supply.—Municipal filtered water was supplied to the shipping throughout the year, and no complaints were received regarding the supply, nor were any instances noticed of the water being polluted by the crew of the boat.

13. Food.—In six vessels portions of food for European seamen were found bad and condemned, and with one exception they were all changed. The one exception was the S.S. Chancellor which sailed without a food certificate, and it is therefore not known whether the condemned food was changed or not. There were numerous cases of inferior food for lascar crews. In every case the food was condemned and the certificate withheld until the new supply had been passed.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. D. McARTHUR, Lieut.-Col., R.E.,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

* Mean for 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the readings during the same period for the year. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 100. The mean at the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional stations for the period in question. The mean daily temperature is the sum of the daily temperatures divided by the number of days.

for the week ending Saturday, the 22nd of June 1895.

seven years. The variations are negative when the mean of the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. The numbers denoting cloud amount represent the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head District observations of rainfall the figures are the numerical average of the rainfall returned received in the district i.e., from total rainfall at the sub-districts.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS
TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA-
THE 22ND OF JUNE 1895.

The week just past has been one of general rainfall over the whole province, but with this remark must be given an important qualification as regards distributions. Under ordinary conditions the moist current from the Bay is strongest in East and North Bengal, and a much greater amount of precipitation takes place in these parts than in the western districts. During the past week easterly winds have continued with little change across the north of the Bay, while the winds blowing across East and North Bengal are from Burma, where the air has been to a considerable extent deprived of its moisture. East Bengal has, in consequence, received less than half its normal amount, while in North Bengal the deficiency is not much under 2 inches. In the western and central districts, on the other hand, heavier rain than usual has fallen, the greatest difference being in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and South-West Bengal.

The cause of this general rainfall has been, as is usual, during the monsoon season, a disturbance which originated in the south of the Bay, and which was beginning to be felt in the extreme south before the week began. The pressure distribution over Bengal and the west of the Bay was practically normal on the 16th, the first day of the week, but over the south of Burma and the east of the Bay, a considerable defect had developed. A strong westerly current was blowing across the south of the Bay, and the light winds which prevailed in the north were beginning to assume directions belonging to a cyclonic system. Fine weather then prevailed over the province, but local storms were of daily occurrence in all districts, and caused showers generally of short duration. On the 17th, pressure fell slowly except over the centre of the Bay, where the fall was at least brisk, as shown by the changes at the coast stations. The depression was better defined and the cyclonic circulation more regular, but winds were very light except in the south-west of the Bay. The series of thunderstorms, which continued, caused cool weather over the west of the province, especially in the west of Bihar. On the 18th, the centre of the depression was not far from the Orissa coast, and though changes of pressure were but slightly downwards over the west of the Bay, the disturbance had concentrated in consequence of a rise which had prevailed both to the north-west and south-east of it. This rise was rapid in the south of Burma and brisk in the west of Bihar. On the morning of the 19th, the centre of the depression was still to the east of the Orissa coast, but about noon it passed the coast between Puri and False Point. The fall of pressure continued slow in the north-west of the Bay. It rose rapidly, however, in Burma, and gradients were much steeper over the Bay. Strong winds developed and followed the depression into the north-west angle, while the steeper gradients over the province were attended by stronger easterly winds. General rain fell on this day, the heaviest being in Orissa, near the centre of the disturbance. After the centre crossed the coast, the depression soon filled up and weather moderated very quickly—a change which was probably to a great extent due to the recovery of pressure which followed the disappearance of another depression on the west coast of India. This rise of pressure extended eastwards over the whole of India.

The monsoon weather which the depression had produced over the whole of Bengal continued for some days, and was sustained in the south-west of the province by another but very shallow depression which appeared over the north of the Bay and South-West Bengal on the 21st. On that day there was a rapid rise of pressure in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and a brisk fall over Assam and North Bengal. Probably it was owing to the irregularity of these changes that this shallow low pressure area formed, but it was attended by a cyclonic circulation of light winds and by heavy rainfall in South-West Bengal and the west of Chota Nagpur. On the 22nd the depression was more to the north over part of South-West Bengal and part of Chota Nagpur, with a fairly regular circulation of light winds and rather heavy rain.

Meanwhile in North Bengal rainfall had to a large extent ceased, and in East Bengal, though it was general, amounts were very light. In the north of Bihar also, owing to the northerly winds, rainfall was becoming scattered.

Pressure.—During the early part of the week slow downward changes prevailed, and from the 18th there has been a fairly steady rise. Readings have never differed to any great extent from the normal, and the means for the week are nearly normal except in the south-western districts, where there is defect of from .02 inch to .05 inch.

Temperature has generally been above the normal by one or two degrees in the east of the province, and about the same amount below in the western districts. During the unsettled weather which attended the passage of the depression across Orissa, there was a large fall of temperature, chiefly in Orissa and part of South-West Bengal.

On the 21st mean defect in Chota Nagpur was about 6°, and on the 22nd it varied from 5° to 6° in the south of Chota Nagpur and part of Orissa. The means for the week are above the normal in East and North Bengal and Assam by amounts varying from 0.7 to 2.5, and below in the other districts by between 1.2 and 2.6.

Rainfall.—As stated above, general rain has fallen throughout the week over the whole province, the falls being relatively heavier in the west than in the east of the province. The fall in Assam has been light, Dhubri receiving only 1·7, Silchar 2·3, and Sibsagar 3·3 inches. The average fall in North Bengal is 3·05 inches and in East Bengal 2·02 inches, as compared with normal falls of 4·72 and 4·31 inches respectively. In the other districts more than the normal amount has been received, in Orissa by 1·83 inches, Chota Nagpur 1·89 inch, South-West Bengal 1·67 inch, and Bihar 1·22 inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 22nd of June 1895 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION—No. 3481J.

THE following Rules are published for general information.

H. J. S. COTTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 25th June 1895.

Revised Rules for the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses attending the Criminal Courts.

UNDER the provisions of section 514 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act X of 1882), the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General of India in Council, been pleased to prescribe the following revised rules for regulating the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses in cases coming before the criminal courts.

2. The criminal courts are authorized to pay, at the rates specified below, the expenses (a) of complainants or witnesses, whether for the prosecution or for the defence (1) in cases in which the prosecution is instituted, or carried on by, or under the orders, or with the sanction, of the Government, or any Judge, Magistrate, or other public officer, or in which it shall appear to the presiding officer to be directly in furtherance of the interests of the public service; and (2) in all cases entered in column 5 of schedule II appended to the Criminal Procedure Code, as not bailable; and (b) of witnesses in all cases in which they are compelled by the Magistrate of his own motion to attend under the provisions of section 510 of the Code.

3. If a witness is summoned at the instance of the complainant or accused under section 244, his expenses shall not be withheld from him except on the ground of failure to do his duty as a witness when summoned.

4. As a general rule, the allowances to be paid to complainants and witnesses shall be a diet allowance calculated at the following rates:—

- (a) For the ordinary labouring class of natives, 2 annas per diem.
- (b) For natives of higher rank in life, 4 annas per diem.
- (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, a diet allowance according to circumstances up to a limit of Rs. 3 per diem.

5. In addition to the above, charges for toll at ferries will be allowed at the authorized rates to the extent to which they may have been actually incurred.

6. Other travelling expenses will be given only when the journey could not have been performed on foot, or in the case of persons whose age, position, and habits of life render it impossible for them to walk. In such cases, in addition to diet allowance and ferry tolls, travelling allowance shall be given at the following rates:—

- (1) When the journey is by rapid dák by road, the actual expenses incurred up to a maximum limit of 4 annas a mile.
- (2) When the journey is, wholly or partly, by rail—
 - (a) For the ordinary class of natives, third class railway fare.
 - (b) For natives of higher rank in life, intermediate class railway fare; except in the case of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, where second class railway fare may be allowed.
 - (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, second class railway fare.
- (3) In the Eastern Districts of Bengal, where the only mode of travelling is by water, the actual expenses incurred for boat-hire up to a limit of Rs. 2 per diem.

7. Notwithstanding the above rules—

- (1) Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their public capacity shall receive nothing from the Court. In this case they are entitled to travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations. Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their private capacity may be paid by the Court and may retain any travelling allowance due to persons of corresponding rank under these rules, but no diet allowance, and they shall not be entitled to any travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations.
- (2) To witnesses following any profession, such as Medicine or Law, a special allowance shall be given according to circumstances.

8. Officers will be held responsible that parties of witnesses are brought to court together as far as possible, so as to save expense. The hire of more than one boat shall not be allowed in one case, unless the presiding officer is satisfied that the witnesses could not have arranged to come together.

9. The number of days for which diet allowance should be granted will be determined by the officer ordering payment in each case.

10. For this purpose and for regulating the reimbursement of tolls paid, a table shall be prepared and kept in each court, showing the distance of each thana from the Sadar station and subordinate stations, the number of intermediate ferries to be crossed, and the authorized rates of charges for tolls at each of these ferries, the existence or absence of roads or waterways being also noted in the table.

The above rules are issued in supersession of all existing rules, and cancel Judicial Department circulars—

- (1) No. 24, dated 12th April 1877.
- (2) No. 16J.D., dated 21st May 1884.
- (3) No. 28J.D., dated 1st October 1884.
- (4) No. 44J., dated 8th September 1887.

EXISTING RULES.

Supplementary Instructions.

Sub-Rule 6.—Primary Register 9 (Register of convicts).—Circular Order No. 5, dated 5th July 1865).—(a) For the purpose of enabling Magistrates to ascertain whether parties charged before them have been previously convicted of any of the offences for which enhancement of punishment is provided, on a second or subsequent conviction, by section 75, Act XLV of 1860 (Penal Code), and section 4, Act VI of 1864 (Whipping Act), and for purposes of general statistical information, Registers shall be maintained in Magistrates' offices in the form of Register No. 9.

1. Offences relating to Coin and Government Stamps (Chapter XII, Penal Code).
2. Offences against property (Chapter XVII, Penal Code).
3. Giving or fabricating false evidence (sections 193 to 195, Penal Code).
4. Falsely charging any person with having committed an unnatural offence (sections 211 and 377, Penal Code).
5. Assaulting or using criminal force to any woman with intent to outrage her modesty (section 354, Penal Code).
6. Rape (section 375, Penal Code).
7. Unnatural offences (section 377, Penal Code).
8. Forgery (sections 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, Penal Code).
9. Culpable homicide (section 301, Penal Code).
10. Causing grievous hurt (sections 325, 326, 329, 331, 333, 335, 338, Penal Code).

(b) These Registers shall contain the names of parties convicted of any of the crimes specified in the margin, and shall be in English. Every conviction, as sentence is passed, must be entered in the office of the Magistrate of the District by the officer whose duty it is to keep the Register of Convicts. In cases committed to the Sessions, the entry shall be made on sentence being passed by the Sessions Judge. If a prisoner be released on appeal, whether by the Judge or by the Magistrate, a note should be made in the column of remarks, giving the date and purport of the order of the Appellate Court.

(c) Similar Registers shall be kept up in the same manner by Subdivisional Officers regarding the offences specified, which may have been committed within their respective jurisdictions, and of which any persons may have been convicted. These officers should report to the Magistrates the entries of the past month regularly at the commencement of each successive month for incorporation in the general district register.

(d) To ensure the proper preparation and keeping up of the register, the Magistrate or other magisterial authority in charge, shall require the officer, whose duty it is to prepare it, to bring the register for his inspection and signature at least once every week.

(e) At the close of the year an alphabetical index of the parties convicted within the 12 months should be made for facility of reference; and at the close of every fifth year an alphabetical index should be prepared from the alphabetical indices of the previous five years.

The index referred to in this clause should be prepared at subdivisional as well as at district head-quarters (High Court proceedings, June and August 1882, Nos. 98 and 110).

(f) When a prisoner has been convicted more than once, a note to that effect should be made against his name in the Register opened for that purpose.

(g) (Circular Order No. 10 of 3rd September 1878).—As it is desirable to keep this Register in as compact a form as possible, and to save the trouble of recopying, all Registers should be written in printed forms of uniform size, so that the subdivisional returns may be added to the Magistrate's Register, as they come in. The general registers should be paged and stitched as a book at the close of the year, when the annual alphabetical index is made, and at the end of five years the Registers for the previous five years with the general index should be bound together, the whole being repaged.

(h) (Circular Order No. 10 of 3rd September 1878).—A certificate in the form subjoined shall be annexed to the Quarterly Statement A1, and shall be signed by the Magistrate of the District, except when he is on tour, in which case it may be signed by the officer for the time being in charge of the head-quarters office :—

FORM OF CERTIFICATE.

I certify that I have inspected the Register of Convictions prescribed by the High Court General Rules, Chapter V, Rule 1, Sub-Rule 6, and that it has been duly written up, and that the returns from Subdivisional Officers for the three months of the..... quarter of 18..... have been received and incorporated.

Magistrate of the District.

1. Vide Chapter F, pages 245 to 247.

(i) (Circular Order No. 11 of 1st November 1878).—Persons convicted of offences which are not punishable with whipping, or with imprisonment for a term of three years or upwards, shall not be entered in the "Register of Convicts" although the charge may have been one falling under Chapter XII or XVII of the Indian Penal Code.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to announce that Her Majesty's Secretary of State has decided that the leave rules contained in Chapter XIII of the Civil Service Regulations (Long Leave—European Services) shall apply to the officers belonging to the Branches and Departments of the public service enumerated in the following list. For this purpose regard should be had to substantive position only.

2. For the purpose of applying the rule contained in Article 338 (a) of the Civil Service Regulations, an officer admitted by the present orders to the leave rules above specified will be considered to have been so admitted on the 11th October 1893 (the date of the receipt of the Secretary of State's Despatch No. 188, dated 21st September 1893), or on such subsequent date as he is substantively appointed to one of the offices in the list. Under the Article quoted, only half of the active service rendered by him before that date will be taken into account.

List.General.

EXPLANATORY NOTE, REFERRED TO IN THE BEGINNING OF THE LIST.—The following extract from the Government of India's Despatch No. 9, dated 9th January 1895, explains the principle on which these Departments have been divided into Imperial and Provincial:—

- "4. In the case of the following Departments only, i.e., the General (Executive and Judicial) Administration, the Education Department,
 the Forest Department,
 the Survey Department, have we found it possible to effect a complete division between the Imperial and Provincial branches, and in their case we accept the view that the favourable leave rules should apply, as a general rule, only to officers in the Imperial Branch of the Service.

"In the case of the General (Executive and Judicial) Administration, except as regards the appointments at Presidency Towns and one or two other miscellaneous appointments, the distinction between Imperial and Provincial Services is clear. All officers holding posts in the cadre of the Indian Civil Service, other than members of the Provincial Service and natives of India appointed in accordance with rules framed under section 6 of 33 Vict., Cap. 3, to posts listed as open to the Provincial Service, form the Imperial Branch of the Service and will be subject to the more favourable leave rules. All other officers, including those specially appointed to listed posts, will belong to the Provincial Service and will come under the less favourable rules.

"In the Education Department the members of the future European Educational Service, together with officers who will have the option of entering that Service, but prefer to retain their present graded posts, will form the Imperial Branch of the Department, and they alone will come under the leave rules for the European Services in Chapter XIII of the Civil Service Regulations.

"The Forest Department has already been divided into Imperial and Provincial branches. The Imperial Branch is manned by officers recruited in England and will ultimately consist of 80 per cent. of the present staff of upper control. All the members of this Imperial Branch will be entitled to the more favourable leave rules. The less favourable rules will apply to the members of the Provincial Branch, which is to be recruited in India from natives of India, and to consist of (a) the entire lower controlling staff, and (b) eventually 20 per cent. of the upper controlling staff.

"In the Survey Department the Imperial Branch has been formed out of the Present Senior Division minus ten appointments which have been surrendered to the Provincial Branch, and will ultimately consist of 38 appointments. The Provincial Branch will consist of the present Junior Division with the addition of the ten appointments taken from the present Senior Division, and will eventually include 142 appointments in all. The recruitment for the Imperial Branch will be, as at present restricted (with two exceptions) to Military officers, who will all be entitled to the more favourable leave rules. The exceptions alluded to are the Civilian specialists appointed either by the Secretary of State, or with his special sanction, to the Dehra Computing Office and the Calcutta Photographing Office, and these also will receive the benefit of the better rules. There will be open recruitment from amongst natives of India for the Provincial Branch by competition amongst approved candidates, and the less favourable leave rules will apply to all members of this branch.

BURDWAN MUNICIPAL OFFICE,

The 7th May 1895.

JAGABANDHU MITTER,

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2420M.—The 22nd June 1895.—Whereas a notification No. 1113M., dated the 19th March 1895, declaring the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to revise the existing boundaries of the Kushtea Municipality, in the district of Nadia, was published at page 58, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th idem, and also published locally, and whereas no valid objection has been raised to the proposal, it is hereby notified for general information that, in exercise of the powers vested in the Local Government by section 9 of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, as amended by Bengal Act IV of 1894, and in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioners of the Kushtea Municipality, made at a meeting, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to revise the existing boundaries of the Municipality so as to exclude the area comprised in Wards Nos. 5, 6, and 7 from the limits of that Municipality.

2. This notification shall take effect from the 1st July 1895, after which date the boundaries of the Municipality after the exclusion of the aforesaid area will be as follow:—

On the north.—The Gorai river and the old bed of the Gorai.

On the east.—River Kaligunga.

On the south.—A straight line drawn from the pillar on the bank of the Kaligunga to the junction of the Kelleher Road and Bhadalia Road.

On the west.—A straight line drawn from the junction of the Old Channel of the Gorai with the Damash to the Old Kushtia Station building, and thence to the railway gate on the Bhadalia Road, and thence along the Bhadalia Road up to where it meets the Kelleher Road.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2430M.—The 22nd June 1895.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends to confirm, under clause 4, section 3 of Act XX of 1887, the following rules framed by the Commissioners of the Purnea Municipality, in the district of Purnea, under section 3 of the Act, for the protection of wild birds and game within the limits of the above Municipality, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the said Municipality:—

Rules.

(1) "Wild birds" for the purposes of these rules shall include jungle-fowl, peafowl, pheasants, partridges, plover, jays, doves, egrets, golden oriel and green fly-catchers.

(2) Hares shall also be included under the provisions of section 3, Act XX of 1887, and the following rules will apply to that animal as well as to wild birds.

(3) The "breeding season" for the purposes of these rules shall extend from the 15th March to the 1st of October.

(4) Whoever during the breeding season has in his possession within the limits of the Municipality of Purnea any wild bird, or have recently killed or taken, or exposes for sale any such bird or animal, living or dead, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for each such bird or animal.

(5) Whoever during the breeding season imports into the town the plumage of any kind of wild bird recently killed or taken, or the fur or skin of any hare recently killed or taken, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for the plumage of every such bird or the fur or skin of every such hare. In the case of a second conviction the fine may extend to Rs. 10 for each such bird or animal.

(6) A reward not exceeding half the fine imposed and realized under rules 4 and 5 may be granted by the adjudicating Magistrate to any person who has afforded information leading to a conviction for the breach of any of the above rules.

Advertisement of Government Estates.

[SEE RULE 10, SECTION III, CHAPTER III, PAGE 29 OF BOARD'S RULES, 1888.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situated in the district of Backergunge, will be put up to sale at the Backergunge Collectorate on the 16th September 1895, corresponding with 31st Bhadra 1302 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of sale.

- 1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.
- 2nd.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.
- 3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.
- 4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office-day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Corporation of Calcutta.

LOAN NOTIFICATION.

THE Commissioners of Calcutta are prepared, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council given under section 404 of Act, II (B.C.) of 1888, to open a Debenture Loan for Rs. 18,00,000 on the security of the rates, taxes and dues imposed and levied under the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888.

2. The Debentures will have a currency of fifteen years from the 1st December 1895, and will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, payable on the 1st June and 1st December of each year.

3. The form of the Debenture Bonds will be that given in the twelfth schedule of Act, II (B.C.) of 1888.

4. No Debenture Bonds will be issued for any sum less than Rs. 500, and above that amount Debentures will be issued only for complete sums of Rs. 100.

5. Tenders for the whole or any part of the above Loan of Rs. 18,00,000 will be received by the Secretary to the Corporation up to 2 o'clock P.M. of Friday, the 28th June 1895.

6. Each tender must be made out in the form annexed to this notification, and enclosed in a sealed cover addressed to the Secretary to the Corporation, and superscribed "Tender for Municipal Loan of 1895-96."

7. Each tender must be accompanied by Government promissory notes, Calcutta Municipal Debentures, currency notes or cheques for not less than 8 per cent. of the amount tendered.

8. When a tender is accepted, the deposit, when made in currency notes, or cheques, will be held as a payment in part of the amount tendered, and will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum from the date of acceptance of the tender, provided that the whole amount tendered is paid up in the manner hereinafter prescribed; but no debenture will issue for the sum so deposited so long as the entire amount of the tender is not paid.

9. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application, and no interest will be payable on such deposits. If an allotment after being made is not taken up, and the full amount allotted is not paid as hereinafter prescribed, the deposit will be forfeited.

10. The rate at which a tender is made must be specified in rupees, or rupees and annas: a tender in which the rate is not so specified will be rejected as null and void.

11. The rates stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna. If a rate containing fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

12. The amount of the accepted tenders must be paid into the Bank of Bengal in the following instalments:—

One-third by the 15th July.
Ditto by the 14th August.
Ditto by the 14th September.

Parties whose tenders are accepted will have the option of paying all or any of the instalments before the dates specified above, and will receive interest from the date of such payment.

13. Anticipation interest will be paid on all instalments from the respective dates on which such instalments are paid into the Bank of Bengal to the 30th November 1895.

14. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate a pro rata allotment will be made (if the tenders are accepted), but no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs. 500.

15. A minimum having been previously fixed, tenders will be opened by the Loan Committee of the Commissioners at 2-30 P.M., on Friday, the 28th June 1895, at the Municipal Office.

W. R. MACDONALD, Secy. to the Corporation.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one, for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1895 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the Reports from 1876:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

Remittances to be forwarded to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

All the wanting parts of the INDIAN LAW REPORTS (complete series) having now been reprinted, the complete Reports from 1876 to 1893 may be purchased for all the years, or for any particular year, on application to the Officer in charge of the Bengal Secretariat Book Depot Branch.

The subscription, Rs. 22-8 per annum, should be remitted in advance to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat.

Notice.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that subscription to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions of the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

NOTICES TO MARINERS.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 98.

[First Publication.]

SOUTH AUSTRALIA—GULF ST. VINCENT.

Port Adelaide river—Disappearance of No. 12 beacon light.

THE President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 2 of 1895) that the above-mentioned leading light beacon has disappeared, and that pending its re-erection a temporary light will be exhibited from a barge in the same position. As the light may not be exactly on the line at all times of the tide, the red light ought to be kept bearing N.E. by E. inwards, or S.W. by W. outwards.

This affects Admiralty chart No. 2389A.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA—WEST COAST—CLARE BAY.

A mooring placed in the Western Bight—Lat. 31° 57' 40" S., Long. 132° 41' 30" E.

THE President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 3 of 1895) that a mooring has been placed in four and a half fathoms of water in the Western Bight of Clare Bay. Vessels using this mooring should make fast to the buoy; they will then have a space of about 300 feet in which to swing in all directions, with a depth of 15 feet at ordinary low-water springs.

This notice affects Admiralty chart No. 1061.

NEW ZEALAND—SOUTH ISLAND—CURRENT BASIN.

Buoy placed southward of Piége (Beef Barrels) rocks.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 280 of 1895) that a survey has recently been made of the vicinity of Piége (Beef Barrels) rocks, with the undermentioned result:—

1. A rock, with less than 6 feet water on it, lies W. by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. (S. 69° W.), distant $1\frac{1}{10}$ cables, from the largest (northern) Piége rock; there are depths of 6 to 9 fathoms half-a-cable westward of this rock.
2. A rock, with less than 6 feet water on it, lies S.W. by S. (S. 34° W.), distant $2\frac{1}{4}$ cables, from the largest Piége rock; there are depths less than 5 fathoms for a cable south-westward of this rock, deepening to 10 fathoms beyond, and shallow water between it and the Piége rocks.
3. Foul ground, with depths of 2 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms on it, extends 3 cables S.E. by S., and nearly $2\frac{1}{2}$ cables eastward, from the largest Piége rock; the 5 fathoms line is about a cable to the northward of the Piége rock; to the north-westward the limit of shoal water has not been determined, but there are rocks with less than 6 feet water on them for about $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables in that direction.

In bad weather the sea breaks on all the above rocks, most heavily on those stretching to the south-westward.

A red buoy has been moored with the largest Piége rock bearing N. $\frac{1}{2}$ W., distant $2\frac{1}{10}$ cables; and Hole in rock point E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N.

Approximate position, buoy, lat. $40^{\circ} 57' 50''$ S., long. $173^{\circ} 47' 50''$ E.

Kam Ranh Harbour—Sunken rock southward of S. W. rock.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 284 of 1895) that on 24th February 1895, at 6h. A.M., the Russian torpedo despatch boat Gaidamak touched on a rock, with a depth of about 6 feet on it at low water, lying with S.W. rock bearing north, distant $6\frac{1}{2}$ cables; and Kam ranh point E. by S. (S. 79° E.); or approximately in lat. $11^{\circ} 53' 30''$ N., long. $109^{\circ} 7' 40''$ E.
